Smog Cover In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York metropolitan area lay under a blanket of polluted air again today and officials warned persons with heart and respiratory ailments to stay indoors. A forecast of wind and possible rain promised relief, however.

The index of air pollution was about three and one-half times the normal level as the sun rose through a dismal haze today. But the measurment showed a drop from the critical level reached last night.

Any deaths attributed to the smog would not be reported for a few days. A 10-day period of stagnant air in November 1963 was blamed for from 170 to 260 deaths.

The pollution, which began to increase Wednesday night, was attributed to a massive temperature inversion hanging over the middle Atlantic coast. The inversion occurs frequently in the late fall, when warm air overrides and imprisons surface air.

Austin N. Heller, city commissioner of air pollution control, said an air pollution reading of 60.6, five times the average level of 12, was registered at 8 p.m. yesterday, indicating an amount he said may have been the city's highest in history.

It dropped to 18.5 in the predawn hours, and had risen to 46.2 by 10 a.m.

The pllution count, based on a statistical measurement of sulphur dioxide and carbon dioxide in the air, indicates the amount of harmful substances in the atmosphere. The level considered dangerous is 50.

Heavy pollution was reported in Philadelphia and Boston, where sulphur dioxide in the air reached six times the normal level yesterday. Weather bureaus in both cities predicted there was a chance of relief today or tomorrow.

At the smog's height in New York, Heller said he was "very, very close" to calling an air pollution alert which, if put into effect, could have closed some industries and kept cars from the streets.

New York residents had been asked not to burn leaves and the city requested two major power companies to use natural gas at their plants instead of fuel oil.

No Evidence To Link JFK's Dallas Slayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today all available evidence indicates that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

"Not one shred of evidence has been developed to link any other person in a conspiracy with Oswald to assassinate President Kennedy," Hoover said in a statement.

Hoover said that although many critics have every right to state their views, they "should show more regard for the facts on record. They have ignored certain facts, misinterpreted others, and expressed pure speculation as truth." The statement was requested by the Washington Evening Star and later was made available to other news media.

Hoover noted that some of the criticis allege, among other things, that there is a conflict

Dognapers Reported In Napa

Dognapers, reported stealing pets in Marin County this week for sale to experimental laboratories, were seen in Napa yesterday, where the county pound was raided and four dogs taken Wednesday.

However, William Arruda, head of rabies control in Napa County, said there was no apparent connection between the theft at the pound and the dognapping ring.

"The laboratories like larger dogs," Arruda said, "and the four taken were small; a Pekingese, a poodle and two terrier types." The four were together in one of the pound's 10 runs. Sixteen dogs in the other runs were undisturbed.

Arruda said a report was received by Napa police yesterday that a "light pickup truck with SPCA lettered on the side" was seen on the city's outskirts. A police check, however, was unable to locate the truck.

HOLIDAY FOR HUNGER

Marin City Taxi Delivers Turkeys

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Thanksgiving was a very special day for 100 Marin City families thanks to the generosity of a taxi driver and the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

The families, all without prospect of a turkey dinner — and some with no food at all—gave thanks today to both for the turkey dinners they received yesterday.

Norman Gray, owner of a taxi in the community where he lived for 14 years, said: "If I found people who needed help, I tried to get it for them."

Gray, 36, moved two months ago to a home in Tamalpais Valley.

With assistance of the Marin City community relations office, he compiled a list of families in real need of help. Then he went to the St. Vincent de Paul Society and to stores and individuals to get donations.

Although a Baptist, Gray is a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, a lay Catholic charity organization. He said he has worked with the society for two years to help Marin City people.

"It was a miracle for us," said one man whose family received a turkey from Gray. "It's the best thing ever happened here. We never had anything like it.

"People were calling each other and asking each other for dinner. One lady just broke down and cried. She had nothing in the house to eat, and he not only gave her Thanksgiving dinner, but gave her a food order so she could go to the store and get food to last until she gets a welfare check."

"I was really proud to do it," Gray said.

Marinites Found Slain In Mexico

Two Dead Of Gun Wounds

A Marin garage owner and his woman companion have been found slain at the dead end of a dirt road in an isolated area of Baja California.

The victims, both shot to death were Hermann Hofer Jr., 28, of 216 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, owner of the H and H Garage at 80 Gate Five Road, Sausalito, and a woman identified by Mexican police as Irene Burnham, 23, of Mill Valley.

LEFT MONDAY

There was some question of the identification of the woman. Hofer's brother, Hans, who also lives at the Ethel Avenue home, said Hermann left Monday for Mexico with Margene Weiss, planning to be married. He said he did not know the woman's first name, but she was from Oregon.

The bodies, fully clothed but stripped of identification and money, were found at the end of the dirt road near a rock quarry about 35 miles north of Ensenada. The road roughly parallels the main highway between Tijuana and Ensenada.

SHOT IN CHEEK

Hofer had been shot twice, in the cheek and forehead. The woman had been shot once, in the back of the neck.

The woman was described as an attractive, tall blonde with green eyes. An employee at the H and H Garage said this matched the description of Miss Weiss, with whom Hofer left Monday.

Hofer drove his own car when he left Mill Valley. It broke

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — Two Vietnamese irregular companies and their U.S. "Green Beret" Special Forces advisers came out on top tonight in heavy combat with a Communist force in the tangled jungles of War Zone C, an American command spokesman announced.

A U.S. Army company linked up with the 240 or so irregulars, he said, and "the Viet Cong fled." There was no final report of casualties on either side, though initial advices were that allied losses were light.

American artillery and air strikes had pounded the Communist troops in the action, in Tay Ninh Province nine miles northeast of Tay Ninh City and about 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

North Vietnamese troops wiped out a similar Vietnamese force in the same region a month ago.

The action was the most spectacular ground contact in a day which saw U.S. 1st Cavalry Division troops chase the Viet Cong up river valleys of the central coast in Binh Dinh Pro-

Marin Visited By Frost Again

There was frost on the pumpkin throughout Marin today.

Temperatures dipped well below freezing before the sun came up to take that chill off the air.

Coldest place was Woodacre with 25 shivering degrees. Novato had a low of 29 degrees, its third frosty morning in a row.

Bolinas registered 31 degrees and the mercury hovered on the 32-degree freezing point at San Rafael, Terra Linda and Hamilton Air Force Base.

The Weather Bureau today forcast continuing slightly warmer in the afternoons but frost will return to low lying and sheltered areas night and early mornings.

Student Describes Red Prison Stay

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—In the stark, stone prison cell behind the Iron Curtain, a light bulb was the enemy.

Van Altena

"At night the light is turned on every 10 minutes. Even after you learn to sleep with it, it bothers you."

Van Altena, a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin, spent 17 months in prison in East Germany for trying to smuggle a mother and child through the Berlin wall.

Van Altena, 23, a dairy farmer's son from Milton Junction, is back at the university. He won't talk about how or why he became involved in the short-circuited escape but in an interview he described his prison ordeal.

He was working as an airlines interpreter in West Berlin in October, 1964 when he was jailed.

East German security police, waiting with triple the normal guards as he approached the wall from the Communist side, found an East German mother and her child hidden in his car. Van Altena was armed with an automatic pistol. He was sentenced to eight years.

Van Altena was in solitary confinement for one year.

He was interrogated almost daily. Guards were everywhere. Signal lights prevented the transfer of more than one prisoner at a time.

An Indonesian, beaten during questioning, slipped Van Altena cigarette papers covered with handwriting. Van Altena said he smuggled them out of prison on his body and turned them over to the State Department, but the Indonesian's fate is not known.

Youth Rampage

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Gangs of youths roamed through Harvard Square yesterday after Thanksgiving football games, beating and robbing several persons. Police arrested three youths as off-duty Cambridge police, reinforced by Metropolitan District Police and Harvard campus police, broke up the gangs and drove them away. The youths, all juveniles, were charged with assault and battery.

Britisher Ends Soviet Parley

MOSCO W(AP)—British Foreign Secretary George Brown left for London today after three days of talks with Soviet leaders about Viet Nam, control of nuclear weapons, and other world problems.

"I had the most useful visit I could have possibly hoped to have," Brown said.

"We had the closest cooperation in our talks" with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Brown said.

Farm Support Aids Could Be Removed

83 Feared Dead In Czech Crash

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The death toll in the crash of a Bulgarian airliner in southern Czechoslovakia was believed to be 83 with a Hungarian report today that one passenger left the craft at the last stop before it went down last night.

Vienna sources said a spokesman for the Hungarian Airport Transport Co. said he did not know the name of the passenger who got off the Soviet-made Ilyushin 18 turboprop at Bratislava, capital of Slovakia near the border with Austria and Hungary.

He said six of those killed were Westerners, including a Briton, two Brazilians and a Swiss.

The Hungarian report conflicted with information given last night by the Czechoslovak CTK news agency that an undetermined number of passengers had left the plane at Bratislava.

The crash occurred at dusk in fog, snow and wind, on a wooded foothill of the Carpathian Mountains six miles from Bratislava.

The plane was en route from Sofia to East Berlin via Budapest and Prague. It made an unscheduled stop at Bratislava because of worsening weather.

No Limits Set On Asian Aid

TOKYO (AP) — Eugene Black, a special adviser to President Johnson, said today the United States sets no limits on the quantity of help it will give for Asian economic and social development.

He ruled out, however, the idea of a Marshall Plan for Asia, saying it would not make sense in the area's present circumstances.

Black predicted that it will be only a matter of time before moves are made to form an Asian common market.

Speaking to the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan, the former chairman of the World Bank strongly disclaimed any American desire to play a dominant role in Asian economic cooperation.

Agreement Made On Coalition

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Danish Socialist leader Aksel Larsen has changed his mind and agreed to try to form a coalition with Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag's Social Democrats.

Talk of an alliance began after elections last Tuesday in which the Socialists doubled their parliamentary seats and the Social Democrats lost almost 10 per cent of theirs. Krag's party remained the largest single group in Parliament.

Larsen first expressed willingness to seek a coalition, then said he would not. A few hours later, however, he reversed his position.

Ski Enthusiasts Say 'Yes' On Slopes

KILLINGTON Vt. (AP) — Philip Merriam, 35, of Belport, N.Y., and Christine Engelschjon, 19, of Patchogue, N.Y., both are ski enthusiasts.

Pope Asked To Change Birth Control View

NEW YORK (UPI(—In a poignant plea from 85 of the world's religious and scientific leaders, Pope Paul VI was beseeched to reverse the position of the Roman Catholic Church against artificial means of birth control.

The 85 signatories, including 21 Nobel Prize winners, warned:

". . . future generations will hold today's leaders morally responsible if we fail to recognize and deal with the world population crisis while it is still manageable on the basis of free conscience and free choice."

In his latest public reference to birth control, the pontiff said on Oct. 29 that any pronouncement he might make could only supplement, not radically change, the church's ban on artificially regulating birth. Even this expected modification, he added, had been postponed because of the "grave implications" embodied in the secret recommendations of the special birth control commission set up by the Ecumenical Council.

Entitled "The Moral Imperatives for Regulating Birth," the statement of the 85 leaders was actually forwarded to the Vatican last June 2 by Nobel laureate Edward L. Tatum of Rockefeller University in New York and John C. Bennett of Union Theological Seminary, also in New York.

Receipt of the statement by the Vatican was acknowledged June 27 by Monsignor Angelo Dell'acqua of the papal office of secretary of state. There was no indication of the pontiff's reaction to the 500-word plea.

"For most of human history," the statement said, "survival against such enemies as (disease) required man to exercise his fertility most abundantly, so that total births exceeded —or at least equalled — total deaths."

During this period, it continued, it was important that fertility be encouraged. However, noting the almost eradication of many of man's traditional enemies such as disease, the statement said:

"Today man's future is threatened less by rampant disease than by unbridled reproduction. Therefore, if future generations are to enjoy the quality of life made possible through advances of science, our new moral imperative must call for the conscientious regulation of fertility."

The statement singled out two "moral elements" to be considered:

San Quentin Cows Moved To Folsom

A white-painted truck now does the job were once a herd of cows stood by to serve the inmates of San Quentin Prison.

The dairy farm — for long an important part of the prison complex — is empty as the 84 cows have fallen victim to the growth of centralization.

They were moved en block to Folsom Prison earlier this month because the authorities considered it more economical for the state if all California prisons were served with milk from one central point.

Now a truck makes the 100-mile treck from Folsom each day with the milk for all departments in the institution, including the hospital, kitchen, bakery and mess halls.

When the move took place, none of the milking equipment could go too. So the cows had to be milked in the morning at San Quentin and in the evening at Folsom.

But the cattle are getting their own for the move. For about another week there will continue to be a significant in milk production from the cows, explained John Delyea, assistant dairy manager.

This is because the strain of the trip disorientated them and discontented cows have a way of holding back on their milk until are have got used to their new surroundings.

Three of the 12 inmates assigned to the dairy went along with their charges.

The herd was raised by the inmates themselves from the time the cows were calved.

And like the inmates, each of the cows had a name and number and their case records — complete with breeding shots, milk fat and identification marks — were kept up to date.

Over the past years, the dairy has supplied from 400 to 500 gallons of milk daily to the prison. At Folsom the cows joined others and the job of supplying milk is in one location.

LBJ Summons Group To Ranch

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson summoned Vice President Hubert H. Humhprey and congressional leaders of both parties to the LBJ Ranch today to talk about the legislative program for the next Congress, and what government programs can best be cut back to save money.

Pending their arrival, Johnson and his budget director, Charles L. Schultze, went over the trimming of present programs and the budget for the next fiscal year.

Invited to the ranch along with Humphrey were Rep. Carl Albert D-Okla., and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., the House leaders; and Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the Senate leaders.

Heavy B-52 strategic bombers from Guam pounded the area and a company of Vietnamese militiamen rushed in to battle to help the civilian irregular defense group (CIDG) locked in battle with a Communist force of unknown size.

The scene is Operation Attleboro some 150 miles south of Operation Paul Revere in the Central Highlands where troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division found the bodies of 66 North Vietnamese killed earlier by B-52 strikes.

And South Vietnamese reported new successes in fighting near Saigon. They killed 53 yesterday in scattered actions and another 48 in a 36-hour operation 24 miles south of Saigon. They also ambushed a Viet Cong unit 400 miles east-northeast of Saigon and captured a guerrilla cadre that included a woman and a teen-age girl.

U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine planes also carried out a series of massive raids yesterday against North Viet Nam and two of the south's major war zones.

Military officials said the air strikes in South Viet Nam included a record 257 sorties by U.S. Marine pilots and were concentrated on suspected enemy troop lairs on the threshold of both the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and the Cambodian border.

Council Censures Israel For Raid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council today censured Israel for its reprisal raid on three Jordan villages Nov. 13. It also warned that it would consider punitive steps if the attacks are repeated.

The vote in the 15-member council was 14-0 with New Zealand abstaining.

The vote came after almost two weeks of debate. The council had recently had before it an Israeli complaint charging Syria with permitting its territory to be used as a base for territorial raids on Israeli territory. The Soviet Union vetoed a resolution calling on Syria to strengthen measures to halt the raids.

Merchant Denies Evasion Of Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Camp pleaded innocent today in federal court to three charges of evading income taxes.

A jury trial for George H. Barrega is charged with fail-Barrega is charged with failure to report $34,000 in income from 1960 through 1962. The government charges that he should have paid $6,703 in taxes for those years but paid only $38.

between portions of two FBI reports and the official autopsy report regarding the wounds found in Kennedy's body.

But he said "while there is a difference in the information reported by the FBI and the information contained in the autopsy report concerning the wounds, there is no conflict."

Hoover said the FBI reports record oral statements made by autopsy physicians before all the facts were known. The ultimate findings of the examination, he said, are contained in the autopsy report.

Hoover said two FBI agents were present at Bethesda Naval Hospital when the autopsy was performed Nov. 22, 1963.

The agents reported that Dr. James J. Humes, chief autopsy surgeon, "Located what appeared to be a bullet hole in the back below the shoulder and probed it to the end of the opening with a finger. The examining physicians were unable to explain why they could find no bullet or point of exit."

Hoover said that unknown to the agents the physicians eventually were able to trace the path of the bullet through the body.

The morning following the assassination, Hoover said, Humes contacted physicians who had examined Kennedy at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex., the previous day. They confirmed Humes' assumption that a tracheotomy had been performed using a bullet hole as the point of incision.

Examination of Kennedy's clothing at the FBI laboratory, Hoover said, "revealed a small hole in the back of his coat and shirt and a slit characteristic of an exit hole for a projectile in the front of the shirt one inch below the collar button."

Hoover added: "These findings clearly indicated the examing physician's early observation that the bullet penetrated only a short distance into the president's back probably was in error."

This early observation had been included in an FBI report of Dec. 9, 1963, and another reference was made to it in a report of Jan. 13, 1964.

The FBI and the Warren Commission each asked for and received a copy of the official autopsy report on Dec. 23, 1963. Hoover added that since the FBI knew the Warren Commission had a copy of the official autopsy, its contents were not repeated in an FBI report.

Hoover also took issue with those who have said that the FBI altered films of the assassination taken by one Abraham Zapruder. "This is totally false," Hoover said. "The FBI never had the original Zapruder film in its possession — it was purchased by a national magazine." Hoover said the FBI obtained a copy of the original u,cut film and reproduced it for the commission, which has since given it to the national Archives.

Bird Dog Too Happy, Shoots Own Master

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI)—A bird dog, in an excess of exuberance over the prospect of a hunting trip, pounced on a loaded shotgun Thanksgiving Day and shot her master in the leg.

The victim, D. C. McMichael, was released from a Columbus hospital today and said although the dog, Little Gal, still wanted to go hunting, he didn't feel much like it himself.

JOHN R. KIKER

OBITUARIES

John R. Kiker Dies At 63

John R. Kiker, who once urged the people of North Marin to break away from the rest of the county and form a "City and County of Pacheco," has died at the age of 63.

He was found dead on the floor of the bedroom at his Novato home where he had been ill for the past month, said Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

A close friend, Miles W. Ross, who found Kiker's body Wednesday, said today: "He had been inactive for the past couple of years and had been very ill for a month. I tried to get him to go to a hospital but he wouldn't go."

Kiker was a constant foe of county government on various scores.

A retired chief petty officer in the Navy, he made headlines in 1958 when he advocated North Marin secede from the county.

He claimed the then Marin County Board of Freeholders — elected to draft a proposed county charter—was illegal because it had no member from North Marin.

Kiker saw the "County of Pacheco" maintaining itself with money from business licenses and taxes and income from operation "of our county courts." He proposed the since-razed Grant School in Novato as a new courthouse.

He later filed a letter with the Marin County Board of Supervisors urging it to reject the county charter "on constitutional grounds."

Styling himself a criminologist, he filed two complaints charging county officials with illegal expenditures in connection with the reappraisal program. They were thrown out.

After a referendum was started to force county supervisors to retain the post of county administrator in 1961, Kiker filed suit claiming the referendum was illegal and sought to block it. He lost that fight, too.

One of his last major actions against the county was to threaten the recall of County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel in 1963.

As president of Marin County Taxpayers Assn., Kiker said he was against Broemmel's announced completion of the cyclic reappraisal program in North Marin which, at that time, had resulted in 500 per cent increases in appraisal for tax purposes of some underdeveloped land.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Redwood Chapel in Novato.

His survivors include a son, John R. Kiker of San Diego; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Shanko of Pennsylvania; two brothers, also of Pennsylvania; and two daughters living in Texas.

down in or near San Diego, and was found there.

On Wednesday about noon, Hofer and a man who identified himself as George R. Mojica of Pleasanton called at the Fuller Ford Co. in Chula Vista to rent a car to drive into Mexico.

R. C. Olivas, manager of the car rental company, said Hofer told him he was on vacation and "was here to attend a funeral."

Both men showed identification, but subsequent investigation indicated the address given by Mojica was phony, according to the San Diego Tribune. Mojica was believed to be from Sacramento, a San Diego detective said.

Mojica has not been reported since he and Hofer left in the rented car. The car has not been found.

State police of Baja California said they have reason to believe two United States citizens were involved in the double slaying, but refused to say on what they based this belief.

Hundrels Pass By Oswald's Grave

FORT WORTH, TEX. (AP) — A note attached to a large bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums on the grave of Lee Harvey Oswald said: "He has left all the world confused."

Hundreds of visitors filed by the grave yesterday in Fort Worth's Rosehill Cemetery on the third anniversary of the day that Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy, was shot to death by Dallas night club operator Jack Ruby.

The brilliant autumn leaves of North America are unmatched anywhere else in the world, says National Geographic.

JULIA O'CONNOR

Tragedy struck last night at a Thanksgiving Day celebration at the home of Mrs. Leland J. Valente in Corte Madera.

Her mother, Mrs. Julia O'Connor, on a visit from her home in Sunnyvale, had just finished dinner and was dancing with her son, Thomas Jr., when she was suddenly taken ill.

Police were called and an ambulance crew attempted to revive her with a resuscitator, but Mrs. O'Connor was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 9:30 p.m. She was 73.

Born in San Francisco, Mrs. O'Connor was the wife of Thomas O'Connor, a retired walnut grower.

She suffered from diabetes and also had a heart ailment for some time, reported Asst Coroner William C. Bradley.

She is survived by her husband; four daughters, Mrs. Valente, Mrs. Patricia Ferrari of San Francisco, and Mrs. June Reynolds and Georgina O'Connor of Sunnyvale; her son, Thomas of Sunnyvale; a sister, Mrs. Olga Marinkovich of San Francisco; three grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Halsted and Co., San Francisco.

MARY ANDERSEN

Requiem Mass for Mrs. Mary Ida Andersen, 59, of Cloverdale, Sonoma County, mother of Charles Leslie Andersen of Novato, will be offered at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Cloverdale.

Mrs. Andersen died Tuesday at her home. She collapsed after returning home from a shopping trip. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

She was born in Canada and had resided in Sonoma County for six years.

Surviving are her husband, Charles A. Andersen; three sons Charles Leslie, Robert Andersen of Cloverdale, and Richard Andersen of San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs Catherine Lovato of Pacifica, San Mateo County, and Meredeith Andersen of Cloverdale; two brothers and a sister, Allan Costello of Canada and John Costello and Mrs. Marian Pfaff of Los Angeles, and five grandchildren.

The Rosary will be recited for Mrs. Andersen at 8 p.m. today at the Fred Young and Co. funeral chapel in Cloverdale.

WALTER J. ANDERSON

Funeral for Walter J. Anderson, 67, of Cotati, Sonoma County, father of Mrs. Caroline Leonard of Novato, was held Wednesday in Santa Rosa.

Anderson died Monday in a Petaluma hospital. He was a retired farmer and had worked for the Rohnert Seed Farm. He was born in Minnesota and had resided in Sonoma County for 12 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lulu Anderson; three sons, Clarence Anderson of Santa Rosa; Clayton Anderson of Cotati, and Edward Anderson, serving in Viet Nam; five daughters, Mrs. Beverly E. Wagner of Montana, Mrs. Evelyb McNulty of the Philippines, Mrs. Geraldine Miller of Oklahoma, Mrs. Joan Dias of Petaluma, and Mrs. Leonard; two sisters, Mrs. Faith Roones of San Francisco and Alida Anderson of New Mexico, and nine grandchildren.

VERA D. KING

Vera D. King, widow of James W. King, long time grocery of Marin County, died in a local hospital yetserday after a long illness. She was 76.

Before his death in 1959, her husband was owner and operator of King Food Stores in Sausalito, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, and San Rafael.

He retired after World War II, and he and his wife travelled throughout the world. Her home was at 14 Curtis Avenue, San Rafael.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Funeral will be Monday at 2 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Friends may call at the mortuary after noon tomorrow.

ROBERT SHAND

NEW YORK (UPI) —Robert Gordon Shand, who wanted to be an architect of naval ships but made his way to executive editor of the nation's largest newspaper, The New York Daily News, died Thanksgiving Day after a long illness.

Shand 70, who recently retired, also was city editor of the Sunday edition, as well as managing editor, before becoming executive editor.

Shand came to the News after serving as a lieutenant in the Navy in World War I. Previously he worked for the Washington Herald as a sports-writer and reported.

ROSE ZELLERBACH

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mrs. Rose B. Zellerbach died Thursday at the age of 90. She had been an invalid for the past three years.

She was the widow of Henry H. Zellerbach, son of Anthony Zellerbach, founder of the giant paper manufacturing company bearing the family name. He died in 1944.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Sunday at Sinai Memorial Chapel.

THE SLIM TREATMENT

Are Fat Students Cheated Out Of Prestige Colleges

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Fat high school pupils, especially girls, are discriminated against by college admissions officers, reports the Harvard School of Public Health.

The prejudice is shared by high school teachers who recommend students for college, a Harvard report says.

"It is probably that this prejudice is entirely unconscious," the researchers said in a report published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

Prof. Jean Mayer and a senior research assistant in nutrition, Helen Canning, felt there were fewer obese students in the prestige colleges than in public high schools.

To check their observations they chose a large, middle-class suburban high school and freshman classes at an Ivy League school and one of the Ivy League "sister schools."

They said they found the obese high school pupils to be as well-qualified and just as interested in going to college as slim students.

But, they said, there were twice as many obese girls in the high schools as in the colleges. For boys, there were one-third to one-half more obese pupils in the high schools.

Two-thirds more of the slim girls went on to college, they reported.

"I think this is what happens," Prof. Mayer said. "An admissions officer looks at an obese girl applying to college during an interview and says to herself. "This girl won't fit in at Wellesley."

Mayer said he was using Wellesley symbolically, that he ment colleges in general.

The researchers said while their study was confined to high-ranking colleges, they believe "a similar type of discrimination operates in the admission procedures of lesser ranking colleges."

Mail Carrier's Clothing Taken

Allen Racio, of 215 Third Street, Sausalito, a mail carrier, told sheriff's officers that youths removed her sweater and purse from an unlocked post office vehicle parked in Marin City.

She said she parked at Hayden's Market to pick up mail, that a large group of youths were nearby. When she returned, she said, the items were missing and a bundle of mail had been disturbed.

She returned to Sausalito, then learned the items were later found at the rear of the market. Only $1 cash was missing, she reported.

Van Pelt Co. of Oakdale was lower of two bidders on the truck when bids were opened Wednesday night, at $71,142. Crown Coach Corp. of Los Angeles bid $71,438.

Dixie Board To Ask $315,000 For School

Dixie School District Board Wednesday night authorized application for a $315,000 state loan for construction of the first phase of Oak View School.

First stage of the school will include two classrooms for the mentally retarded, with 3,020 square feet, and one kindergarten and three standard classrooms with 5,701 square feet.

A portion of the funds will also go for planning, site development and purchase of furniture and equipment, Supt. Dennie B. Willis told the board.

Willis said the state is obligated to pay half the cost of the classrooms for the mentally retarded, and the County of Marin, whose schools office will use the classrooms, is required to pay another 40 per cent. Willis said those two classrooms will cost about $150,000.

The board instructed Willis to negotiate with the state and county for their participation in purchase of the land, which cost $350,000, as well.

Application for the state loan will go before the State Department of General Services in January, Willis reported. Construction will probably begin in late April or early May, he said.

Dixie School District Board also:

1. Authorized expenditure of $3,100 for seven capital outlay projects, largest of which is $900 for a redwood box with bench top to go around a bay tree at Dixie School.

2. Recognized the Dixie Teachers Assn. as the only organization entitled to have representatives on the district's negotiating council.

3. Authorized hiring Mrs. Mary Cramer as secretary for the district's federally funded reading project at $457 a month.

4. Increased by $20 a month the salary of Columbus Partmon, a custodian, because he had not been given credit for previous work in the district.

5. Increased the salary of Mrs. Eileen Katzman, library clerk at Dixie School. Willis said her hours of work have doubled and her salary will jump from about $1,800 to about $3,600.

6. Authorized Willis to seek another teacher to help cut down on class sizes which are at 36 pupils in some classes at Dixie, Mary Silveira and Lucas Valley Schools. Willis said he will probably hire one teacher now and another in January or February.

Board chairman Melvin R. Stidham was absent.

College Folder Out

A wallet-size fact folder about the College of Marin is now available at the college. The folder includes photos of the Kentfield campus and the north campus, and basic facts about the district, facilities, enrollment, staff and finances.

Would-Be Bridge Jumper Captured

A 32-year-old San Francisco barber, grabbing the railing on Golden Gate Bridge yelled over his shoulder "just let me alone" when a California Highway Patrol officer ordered him into the patrol car at 2:55 a.m. today.

As officer Robert Borzone approached him, Luther Saxon yelled "if you come any closer, I'll jump!"

State Mumbo Jumbo Complicates School District Tax Problems

If you crave an exercise in futility, try figuring the "why" of school district tax rates.

It would appear to be simple logic that when the assessed valuation of property to be taxed goes up, an equal amount of revenue can be produced with a lower tax rate.

This is true for any other taxing agency, be it city, county, sanitary district or whatever, that levies taxes against the assessed valuation of real estate. But "it ain't necessarily so" for school districts.

THE REASON IS that school districts derive a large part of their revenues — although less than half in almost all cases— from sources other than property taxes. In the main, these come from the state.

However, the state's formulas for supporting school districts are so complicated they would probably defy even George II, the mammoth computer at the Marin Civic Center that can do everything except count election ballots.

The state starts out with "basic aid" of $125 per pupil. It then provides additional aid based on the type of school program offered, the assessed valuation behind each child, and several other factors. But it does so by a mathematical formula that is sheer mumbo-jumbo. It is so complicated that sometimes an increase in the assessed valuation behind each child in a district will cause such reduction of state aid that the district must raise taxes to get the same amount of money it got before.

THE REED DISTRICT in Marin County offers a case in point.

Two years ago, reappraisal by the county assessor's office gave Tiburon Peninsula property a whopping boost.

Reed district trustees — after the manner of school trustees almost everywhere — were pleased that they would be able to provide more money for the schools without a tax hike. They started some new programs, congratulating themselves on their fortunate position.

But — after the manner of school trustees almost everywhere — they overlooked the fact that the state employs a delayed-action rabbit punch in doling out state aid to districts. That is, it bases this year's aid on last year's assessed valuation and attendance figures.

SO, WHEN the district's officials started making up the budget for the current fiscal year, they figured the tax rate could be reduced with only normal increase in assessed valuation.

The increase came along normally, as expected—a 7.5 per cent valuation boost. But then came word from the state that (1) it would reduce its aid to the district because of the increase in valuation the previous year, and (2) it would increase the amount Reed District must repay on state building loans for the same reason.

The state loan payment was hiked from 4 cents to 16.4 cents on the tax rate. And this, together with the reduction in state aid, caused trustees to raise the total rate by 4.5 cents instead of cutting it.

WHAT HAPPENED was that the district had to (1) pay more money to the state on its school building loans, and (2) pay a bigger share of the cost of operating the schools, because its assessed valuation had gone up so sharply the previous year.

Mrs. Alyce Farkas, chairman of the Reed school board, tried in vain to explain this to her constituents. She finally gave up.

It just goes to show that there's neither rhyme nor reason in school finance under the California Education Code.

Incidentally, the state loan repayment thing is a fine bit of nonsense in itself.

IT WORKS LIKE THIS: If a school district is bonded to the limit allowed by law, it can borrow from the state to buy land and build school buildings. It is supposed to repay the money, with very low interest.

However, the help poor districts, the state takes repayment on a sliding scale. If a district is really impoverished, it will still be paying 1950 state school loans in the year 2030, or even later, under the present system. But if the district has a little more money available from taxes, the state ups the repayment schedule to get some of its money back. This is what happened to Reed.

AT THE SAME TIME the state is "lending" money to districts to build schools — and in many cases virtually writing off the repayment—it is handing out money to the same districts to help them keep those schools going.

It would seem more sensible for the state to build the schools and let the districts operate them, rather than lending the building money and then making a "gift" of part of the operating cost.

But then, nobody has suggested that California's school finance laws make sense.

New Congress May Reject Further Integration Laws

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The new-and more conservative-Congress will take up the civil rights issue at a critical moment when opponents are claiming they have turned back the Johnson administration's drive to extend racial integration in American life.

To what extent President Johnson will renew his commitment by proposing further civil rights programs when he delivers his State of the Union address in January remains to be seen.

But despite the absence of any sizable white backlash at the polls this month, the shift of voter support away from liberal lawmakers to moderates and conservatives is sure to give him cause for reflection.

If no new civil rights bill is proposed, the issue may not reach a dramatic test in the 90th Congress.

The 89th Congress, however, is handing along a handful of less visible but scarcely less important disputes with the administration over how far to go with integration.

The newest and perhaps most far-reaching was just beginning as Congress closed.

This was over whether the fledgling department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) plans to use the newly enacted demonstration cities program as a stalking horse to extend integration in schools and cities, North as well as South.

Its critics say HUD intends to hold out the carrot of bonus grants to cities which include "social planning" — a euphemism for integration—in their use of federal funds. There will also be the stick approach where a cutoff of funds is threatened by HUD if there is no compliance, they predict.

But a HUD spokesman told UPI:

"That is not our primary purpose. There are too many things on our minds to zero in on that."

Since Congress has only granted the first $11 million of the ambitious project and has yet to actually appropriate $900 million it authorized for metropolitan development programs and $260 for urban renewal projects, conservatives still have ample leverage to call HUD to account on its intentions.

Stereo Taken In Tam Valley

Theft of $850 in stereophonic equipment in a burglary of the home of Peter Richard Gilliam, 332 Pine Hill Road, Tamalpais Valley, was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers.

Grant J. Halsing, 1605 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Oak Manor, told deputies his vacant home at 119 Oak Manor Drive was entered by breaking a kitchen window.

Nothing was believed taken, but litter was scattered on the floors, he said.

Southern California Sniper Wounds Two

VAN NUYS (UPI) — An unknown sniper armed with a .22 caliber weapon wounded two persons and fired on at least three others during a two and one-half hour shooting spree that ended early yesterday.

The assailant's first victim was Randy Scott Robbins, 15, Van Nuys, who was talking with friends in a service station when he was shot in the back of the head.

He was taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital, where doctors said the bullet had caused a skull fracture.

Perry Adler, 43, Hollywood, was getting into a car at a Van Nuys service station when he was struck in the arm.

"I heard a pop like a shot and felt something slam into my right arm," Adler said. "I could feel it go right through."

Detective Sgt. Ken Brondell said the sniper apparently picked his victims at random.

"We very easily could have had two or three murders . . . It looked like the sniper was shooting to kill," he said.

Readers Demand The Best Now

The biggest change in newspapers in recent years is in the readership, Jack Craemer, editor and co-publisher of the Independent-Journal, told students of the College of Marin.

"The reader of today has a better comprehension of activities in the world and a newspaper tilts its writing towards this new intelligence," he said.

Craemer was answering questions posed by journalism students on the staff of the Tower Times, the campus newspaper, Wednesday.

Today in Dumbarton, Scotland, a gaggle of 18 geese patrols sheds storing thousands of barrels of aging whiskey. At the sight of an intruder, presumably thirsty, the geese start cackling and guards come running.

KEYBOARD SCHOLARS

A pleased Heidi smiles as others applaud the announcement that she is the first place winner in the Mitroupolis Awards finals.

In the wings another contestant, Heidi Upton of Forest Hills, N.Y., waited nervously for her turn to perform, discouraged by Mary's brilliant piano playing.

So it went last March as these two girls from opposite sides of the country competed with six others for the coveted Dimitri Mitroupolis Music Scholarships to Stephens.

They'd worked their way through regional eliminations to this moment of truth. Now, the final eliminations rested upon the critical ears of the distinguished judges.

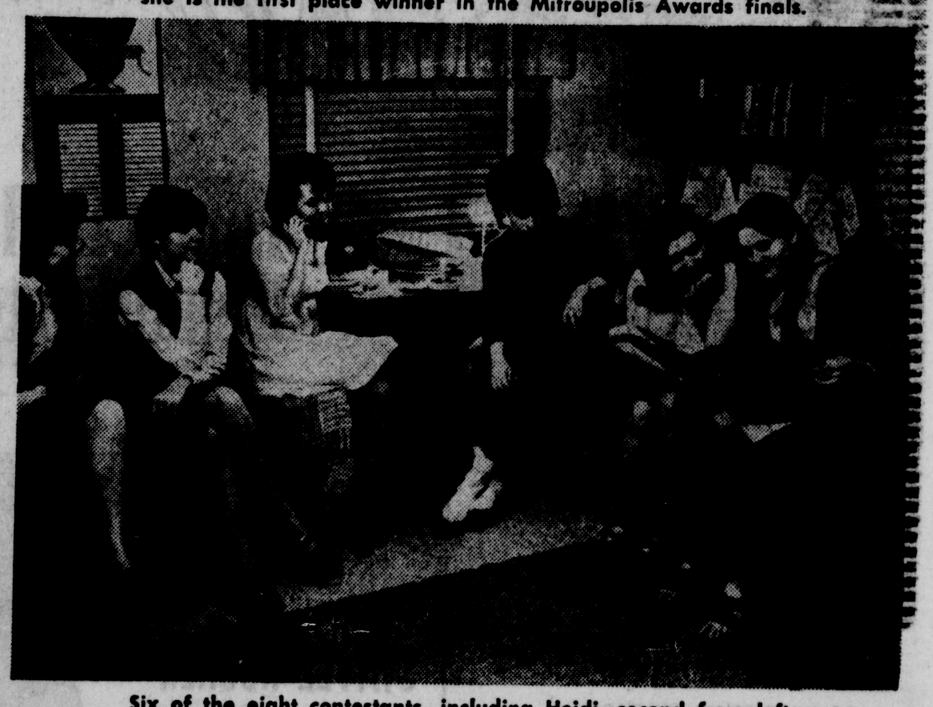

When it was over Heidi was named winner and Mary runner-up. As Mary tried to fight back her tears one of the judges announced that he would make up the $1,500 difference between first and second place from his own pocket.

Both girls were winners. Both are now studying at Stephens.

Now it's time for a new group of talented young girl pianists, eager to study at Stephens, to begin the trial by elimination for this year's awards. Preliminary auditions started in Miami October first and will be followed, through December, by other regional auditions in Detroit, San Francisco, New York and Columbia, Mo. The finals will be held again in March at Stephens.

The Mitroupolis awards of $6,000, $4,500 and $3,750, plus ten additional scholarships, are made yearly to aspiring young girl concert pianists so that they may further their studies in music.

They're given by the Helis Foundation of New Orleans as a memorial to the late Greek-born conductor of the New York Philharmonic Society Orchestra and Metropolitan Opera.

District Attorney Will Take Jail Escapers To Grand Jury

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today he will seek grand jury indictments next Wednesday charging county jail escapees Ronald Harold Berg, 21, and Lewis Barton Pettijohn Jr., 33, with kidnaping, robbery and escape.

The pair, whose six-hour reign of terror Wednesday included weilding steel chair legs at a jailer to flee their cell, kidnaping a taxi driver and robbing him of $50, and holding a family of three as hostages in their Sleepy Hollow home, remained in an isolation cell without bail today.

Bales said the kidnaping charge will probably be for forcing the cab driver, Bruce Hall, 35, Forest Knolls, to drive the fugitives to Terra Linda, and for holding the Sleepy Hollow family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Jorgensen and their son, Larry, as hostages in their home at 510 Fawn Drive.

The pair also forced Jorgensen to drive them away from the residence — a drive which ended in their arrest by a police road blockade at Fawn Drive and Butterfield Road.

Penalty on conviction of a kidnaping not involving an injury is one to 20 years in state prison.

The robbery, which has a penalty of five years to life imprisonment, would be for the taking of the money from Hall, said Bales.

Escape with force or violence — which Bales said was involved in this case — is punishable by either a year's county jail term, to be run consecutively with any term the inmate is serving, or one to 10 years in prison.

Bales said a possible deviation from indictment-seeking will be in the case of Pettijohn, who has a history of mental instability. He said he might insead charge Pettijohn with offences in a Marin Municipal Court complaint, so a judge would have the option to start psychiatric examination at that level.

Pettijohn was awaiting Marin Superior Court jury trial on worthless check charges. He is held in lieu of $5,500 bail, but has a no-bail hold for escape in Montana.

Berg, awaiting trial for the armed robbery Aug. 17 of Edgewater Inn Motel in Corte Madera, and on concealed weapons charges, was in custody in lieu of $19,250 bail. He also has a hold from the California Youth Authority.

Bales said if either man attempts bail, he will immediately file other charges and ask for $25,000 bail each.

JFK's Son Celebrates His Sixth Birthday

NEWPORT R. I. (UPI)— John F. Kennedy Jr., son of the late President, celebrated his sixth birthday today at the estate of his grandmother.

Aussie Airline Clients Stranded

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — More than 640 perosns were stranded today by the strike of Quantas airlines pilots. Some passengers faced up to a week of waiting.

Harassed airline officials were working to rebook passengers on other airlines and expected to get most of them on their way again in a few days.

The last Boeing 707 to continue flying after the strike was called yesterday touched down here this morning, bringing to 19 the number of aircraft idle.

Half of all oil wells recover only 15 to 25 per cent of the oil available.

Irate Driver Pummels Motorist After Collision

Sheriff's officers today were seeking a young motorist who last night assaulted another motorist following a traffic incident on Highway 101 at Richardson Bay Bridge.

The victim, Claude Eldon Morey, 37, of 15 Garden Avenue San Rafael, told deputies he and a friend, Elizabeth Bigelow of 401 Canal Street, San Rafael, were passengers in a car driven by his wife when a second car started following them too closely.

Mrs. Morey became nervous, he said, and stopped her car. The second car bumped the rear of the Morey auto then stopped. The driver stepped out and challenged Morey to fight.

Morey said the man, a stranger, struck him in the face, stunning him, then continued hitting him.

After the assailant drove off, officers said, and Morey went to a nearby telephone and called deputies. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple face cuts.

Politico Clears Old Nazi Ties

BONN, Germany (AP) — Kurt Georg Kiesinger, Christian Democratic candidate for chancellor, has issued a legal report showing he was cleared in 1948 by a West German de-Nazification court.

The report was issued without comment last night by Kiesinger's office. His efforts to succeed Ludwig Erhard as chancellor have been marked by criticism of his part in the Nazi government under Adolf Hitler.

The court record showed Kiesinger had once been fined $12.50 as an ex-Nazi, but won an appeal. The court remitted the fine and ruled Kiesinger had risked his life to oppose the Nazis.

Kiesinger joined Hitler's Nazi party in 1933. He says he turned against the party in 1934, but did not quit. During the war he was second in command of the radio propaganda section in the Foreign Ministry and at the end of the war was interned in an American camp.

Groceries Taken

Larry Majore, clerk at Safeway, 700 B Street, San Rafael, told police at Latin-looking couple with a small child loaded a cartful of unpaid-for groceries into their car and drove off Wednesday. There was no license plates on the car, he said.

Police Arrest Two More In $50,000 Clothes Hijack

OAKLAND (AP) — Police arrested two more men today in connection with Monday's $50,000 hijacking of a big delivery van.

Finnard Brown, 26 Oakland, was picked up on a traffic warrant, questioned and booked for suspicion of armed robbery.

William Anthony Kidd, 29, Oakland, was arrested later and held on the same charge.

Suits, jackets, shirts and men's jewelry were taken Monday when the driver of the truck was forced at gunpoint to drive from downtown Oakland to a deserted warehouse — and the $50,000 worth of goods were loaded to a second truck.

About half of the loot was recovered Wednesday when highway patrolmen arrested Don Richardson, 22, of Chicago, and Michael Turner, 21, of Los Angeles, on charges of kidnaping and robbery.

Crippler Claims Near Relatives More Frequently

CHICAGO (SS)—The closer the relationship the more likely are members of the same family to develop multiple sclerosis, the central nervous system disease that attacks young people between the ages of 20 and 40 years.

A survey of 2,900 relatives of twins, of whom one or both got M.S., revealed this, two doctors reported in the Archives of Neurology.

The prevalence of M.S. among these relatives was 20 times that of the general population, decreasing as the relationship became more remote. Secondary cases were found in 22 per cent of the families of twins.

Dr. Roland P. Mackay of Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago, and Dr. Ninos C. Myrianthopoulos of the National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Md., reported the findings which follow up a study of twins 10 years ago.

Leap From Apartment Lands In Hospital

A 25-year-old Sausalito woman was committed early today to Napa State Hospital for observation after she jumped off her third floor apartment balcony.

Patricia Henwood, 25 Rodeo Avenue, landed on a second floor balcony when she jumped at about 3 a.m., police said. She was treated at Marin General Hospital for back bruises. Police said she reportedly jumped because she was angry with her sweetheart.

Ranchers Blast Housewife Strike

RENO (AP) — Demonstrations by housewives against supermarkets had the effect of depressing an already depressed cattle market, the president of the Nevada State Cattle Assn. said today.

"For cattle producers the chain reaction from retailer to processor to producer was instantaneous," said Roger Smith of Elko. "The resulting losses were shoveled upon the shoulders of the beef producer."

Smith said government spending is the cause of inflation.

Cattle feeders were forced to take losses from $15 to $50 per head on beef carcasses at a time when they would have been lucky to break even, Smith said.

Driver Seriously Hurt In Holiday Collision

One driver was seriously injured and the other driver and a passenger suffered minor hurts in a rear-end truck-auto collision on Highway 101 south of the Corte Madera overpass just before last midnight.

The truck driver, Lawrence Park Shaffer, 29, of 196½ Bothin Road, Fairfax, was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital with numerous cuts and bruises. The auto driver, Dave John Straus of San Francisco, required no hospital treatment, but his passenger, Patricia Myers of 20 Rosebank Drive, Kentfield, was treated for neck strain.

Reagan Picks Newsman He Fussed With

SACRAMENT O(AP)—Republican Governor - elect Ronald Reagan today appointed as a press aide a newsman with whom he once wrangled during his campaign.

Named to the post was Paul J. Beck, a Los Angeles Times reporter since 1961. Beck and Clyde Beane, named earlier, will serve under Press Secretary Lynn Nofziger.

Beck, who covered the governor's race for the Times, once drew Reagan's fire during a news conference in Chico. Beck's questioning at one point prompted Reagan to say:

"You're boring in. You're really boring in, aren't you?"

Reagan on Thursday had appointed a San Diego man to serve as his personal liaison with the Republican party.

Reagan said the post to be filled by Winfred W. Adams, 49, was unique in state history. Philip M. Battaglia, the governor-elect's executive secretary, said the appointment was evidence "that Ronald Reagan intends to continue to build the Republican party in California."

Adams has worked for the Republican State Central Committee since 1963, directing a program designed to elect GOP candidates in districts where Democrats showed possible weakness.

Crowds Ask Arms To Fight Israel

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP) — Troops of Jordan's Arab Legion drove through the streets of Ramallah today firing in the air above slogan-chanting demonstrators demanding arms to fight Israel.

As in yesterday's troubles, the troops fired over the heads of the crowd and there appeared to be no casualties.

Ramallah, scene of antigovernment demonstrations for the past three days, was placed under tight curfew again by midmorning.

A curfew imposed last night had been lifted earlier today, but crowds of Palestine refugees took to the streets when the curfew was lifted and the army rode back in to restore order.

Soldiers took positions on rooftops and blocked all access roads to the town, a center for some 40,000 Palestine refugees 10 miles north of Jerusalem.

Nadim Zaru, mayor of Ramallah, told The Associated Press that 10 persons were injured in scuffles with troops yesterday. The stone-throwing demonstrators attacked the building housing the United Nations Relief and Works Agency in Ramallah, smashing most of the windows.

Tension and unrest have been spreading along Jordan's west bank since the Nov. 13 raid by Israel on the village of Samua.

Youth Killed When Dynamite Explodes

CRESCENT CITY (UPI) — Dennis Sperry, 16, was killed yesterday when several sticks of dynamite exploded in a pile of trash he was burning in the backyard of his family's home.

Del Norte County sheriff's officers said the high school student was helping his family clean up the yard when the explosion occurred. Members of the family said they did not know how the dynamite got into the trash.

Annex Discussed

Trustees of Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the Sausalito district office, Wateree and Nevada streets, to discuss annexation to the Sausalito district of the western half of Tennessee Valley, now split by the two districts. The special meeting will precede the regular meeting of Sausalito trustees.

RESCUER'S FAIR SHARE

Travelers Saved On Train Track

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A truck driver who helped rescue four travelers from their wrecked auto seconds before it was hit by a speeding train, says too many people pass the buck by "letting George do it."

James Martin, 32, said he "didn't do anything that spectacular" in the early Thanksgiving Day rescue on U.S. 30 near Plymouth, Ind.

"It was only my fair share as far as one human to another," said the father of five. He has been honored twice as Ohio driver of the month by the Ohio Trucking Assn. for earlier acts of helpfulness and is a part-time policeman in Granville.

"I just don't pass anybody up who needs help," Martin said in an interview.

"As I came up I saw the reflection of the license plate on the car," Martin said. "Then I saw a form on the ground next to the passenger side and a man standing on the other side.

"I stopped almost in the intersection and ran over to him. Inside were a young lady and a boy about two. They were covered with blood. I helped them out.

"My thoughts were only how badly they were hurt, and how could I be of assisstance.

"Then, I heard the train coming. I had a light in my hand and waved it. But there wasn't enough time to flag down the train. Later, the engineer told me he never saw it.

"I hollered to the man: 'Let's get these people moved over to the other side of the road!' I don't think he was aware that a freight train was coming down the track."

As Martin and the driver of the car, Carlos Kitchen, 21, of Chicago, carried Mary Alice Evans of Williamson, W. Va., across the road, the train struck the car.

Police said the car apparently ran off the end of a dead-end road and landed on the tracks.

As the five reached the other side of the road, Martin said, "the car started cartwheeling — railroad cars started piling up and falling over." Thirty-four freight cars and two engines of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Chicago to Fort Wayne, Ind., train derailed.

Martin, who has been a truck driver for four and one-half years, said one of his first thoughts as he ran from his truck to the wrecked car was the little boy.

The boy, son of Kitchen and his former wife, Jeanne Taylor, 20, of Elmwood, Ill., the other passenger in the car, was not seriously hurt.

Kitchen and Mrs. Taylor were listed in fair condition at a hospital. Mrs. Evans' condition was listed as poor.

Priest's Auto Runs Over Him

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A priest, en route to a Thanksgiving dinner, was run over by his own car when he got out to examine a street sign.

His blind brother, also a priest, sat in the auto unaware of what happened last night.

The physician who was to have been their host treated the Rev. Thomas McNicholas, 59, of Westchester, at UCLA Medical Center. Father McNicholas suffered a fractured pelvis.

The priest attempted to halt the rolling car with his own weight. He remained beneath the vehicle until a policeman happened to pass by. The blind brother, the Rev. Martin McNicholas, was still in the car.

Missing Girl Plea Goes Out

A plea for information on whereabouts of a former Marin County resident, Diana Mench, 13-year-old girl missing from her Petaluma home since Wednesday, was made today by her mother, Mrs. Delphine Mench.

She said she believes her daughter is with former school friends. Diana, described as five-feet, six-inches tall, and having long, light brown hair and blue eyes, resided at 239 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, for 12 years prior to moving to 1716 Gilrix Street in Petaluma about six months ago.

Mrs. Mench said Diana was wearing mocassins, a brown pleaded skirt, and a blue corduroy jacket.

Terra Linda Man Booked In Forgery

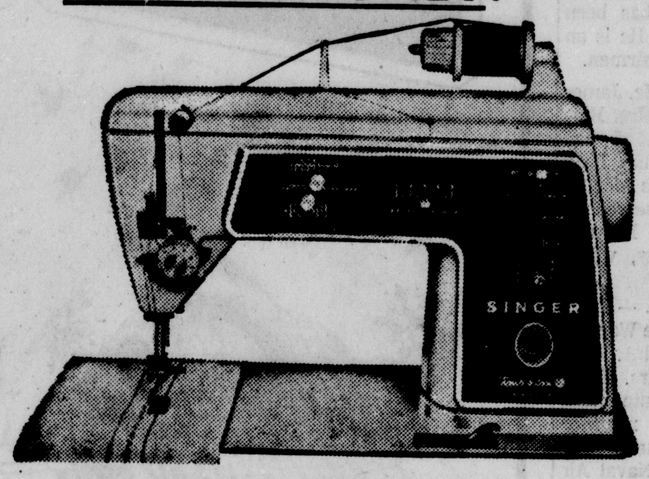

Winston John Wiggers, 36, of 62 Serie Lane, Terra Linda, was booked in county jail yeterday on a charge of forgery of a $42 check.

The Festival Of Trees Draws Near—

The annual Festival of Trees held by the 13 guilds of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum will open Dec. 2 at 6 p.m., and close at 11 p.m. On Saturday the Festival will be open from 12:30 p.m., to 11 p.m., with children's entertainment in the afternoon from 1 to 3 p.m.

THE FESTIVAL is held each year to expand the educational program of the Museum. The proceeds will by used for the purchase of equipment and visual aids needed to augment school science classes, and for building a planetarium dome for the new museum. The planned new Museum building to be located at the Civic Center will offer additional educational facilities.

Mrs. James W. Dollar is chairman of this year's event with Mrs. David Howard as the co-chairman. In addition to the many gift items for sale there will be over 90 decorated Christmas exhibits donated by garden clubs, merchants including interior decorators, florists, artists, and many creative friends of the Museum. The Camp Fire Girls and the Girl Scouts will also have exhibits that will appeal to the younger ones.

THEMES OF decorated trees will vary from a fishing lure tree, a European doll tree to special children's trees and other creations. Special attractions are restaurant trees, dove trees and a money tree which will be on display at the Crocker-Citizens Bank in San Rafael the week before the Festival. The annual doll with complete wardrobe will be displayed along with handmade puppets depicting the Dr. Seuss characters. San Quentin Vocational Horticultural Section has donated decorated plants.

Some special exhibits being loaned for the occasion and previously shown at the Oakland Holiday Decorations Show are a minature doll house belonging to Mrs. Mable MacLellan and a Christmas felt tablecloth done in trapunta embroidery by Mrs. Rose Casazza. Mrs. Kit Vandal Bidstrup and Mrs. Carrie Young are also lending some of their creative works.

Judge of the exhibits are Mrs. Nildred Coughlin McNutt, artist; Mrs. Robert Tuckey, flower arranger; Norman Gordon, art director for Sunset Magazine and Norvell Gillespie, horticulturist.

Serving on the festival committee and chairman are Mesdames Herbert Briggin, Gardiner Trowbridge II, Knowles Hall, Rodney Friedman, Peter Arrigoni, Karl Minegerode, David Howard, William Van Winkle, Rudolph Kopfer, Gilbert Oliver, Lou Vaccaro, Robert Miller, Patrick Smythe, William Morrow and Ronald Jacobsen.

Also serving as Festival chairman are Mesdames D. K. Loomis, David Egan James McGuire, Laurence Higbie, C. J. Orsini and David Carter.

ALL GUILDS of the Louise Boyd Museum are participating in the Festival. Working on this special creation for the youngsters are, from left, Mesdames Rudolph Kopfer, William Corrigan and David Egan. The event will also feature special displays and a football film. Proceeds go to help expand the educational proceeds of the museum.

FESTIVAL CHAIRMAN—Mrs. James W. Dollar, left, admires a feathered and sequined tree, decorative plant and Mexican pepper tree along with Mesdames Rodney Friedman, center, and David Howard, co-chairman. The Festival of Trees will open at 6 p.m. on Dec. 2 and close at 11 p.m. Children's entertainment will be featured in the afternoon on Dec. 3.

Mrs. Wurtz Heads Music Auxiliary

Mrs. Roger Wurtz of Kentfield, new president of the Symphony Guild of Marin Auxiliary, announced that invitation's have been issued for the preview of "Music For Majors."

The program, to be held on Nov. 30 at 10 a.m., will feature Marin Symphony performers demonstrating and lecturing on reed instruments.

Virginia Ojeda will demonstrate the bassoon and Carolyn Michaelian the oboe.

Mrs. Wurtz formerly served on the Symphony Guild of Marin board of directors as membership chairman for two years, the board of the League of Women Voters and is active in the Principia Mother's Club and the First Church of Christ Scientist in San Rafael.

Marin residents for 18 years, the Wurtzs have four children, Joy, 17, and a freshman at Principia College, Wendy 16 Principia Middle School, Michael, 14, freshman at Redwood High School and Peter, 11, at Wolfe Grade School in Kentfield.

Social Service Tea Will Have Mexican Theme

"Santo Navidad", Holy Christmas South of the Border, will be the theme of Marin County Social Service Auxiliary's annual Christmas tea which will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 8 at Fanjeaux Hall, Dominican Convent.

Decor will feature both religious and festive Mexican decorations and Dominican College madrigal singers will include a Spanish Christmas song in their program.

Auxiliary chapters featuring handmade items at the tea will be St. John's; Infant of Prague, boutique; St. Dorothy's, sewing and St. Francis of Assisi which will feature wreathes, trees and jewelry made from natural outdoor materials. Robert Huber of Mill Valley will once again play the role of Santa Claus.

General chairman Mrs. Vernon Stanford will be assisted Mesdames Robert Abell, co-chairman; Lawrence Murray, food; Stanley Lawrence, ways and means; Richard Jackson, entertainment; Clifford Meagher, clean-up; Louis Bernardoni, reservations; Roger Garety, publicity; Frank Ubhaus, hospitality; Joseph Gue and Robert Ward, properties and Miss Eleanor Beales, Santa's stockings.

Marin Symphony Auxiliary Plans First Meeting

The first meeting of the Marin Symphony Auxiliary will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Samuel Levin, 5 Inverness, San Rafael.

A "Music for Majors" theme will be followed for each of the four meetings held during the year.

Wednesday Mrs. Raymond Ojeda and Mrs. Donald Michaelian will describe and illustrate informally the hows and wherefores of the bassoon and oboe. Both women are members of the Marin Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Roger Wurtz, president of the auxiliary, will welcome new members and hold a short business meeting outlining plans for the coming year. She will introduce her executive committee: Mesdames Ralph Ericksen, vice president; Charles C. Clarke, recording secretary; R. R. Hughes, corresponding secretary; Irving Ritter, treasurer; Tore Noren, publicity; Edward M. Zeller, previews; William Pemberton, membership; and Robert Schultz, by-laws.

Wholesale Food Prices Have Slowed Their Steady Climb

NEW YORK (AP) — There is happy news in the supermarkets this holiday season.

Wholesale food prices have slowed their steady climb, and may ease the strain on the family food budget in the weeks ahead.

Last February, wholesale food prices were running 14.9 per cent higher than the previous year. This week they were up only .02 per cent.

Beef dropped this week, and so did bacon, butter and coffee. That is at the wholesale level. The lower prices may show up at retail stores this winter.

Some stores already have cut prices, so it pays to check advertised specials. Steak may be down one day and up a few days later.

A major supermarket chain in the New York area, for instance, cut the price of sirloin 30 cents a pound early this week and put it back up for Friday. But it cut pork chops 20 cents and leg of lamb 10 for the weekend.

Butter dropped 2 cents a pound this week in New York.

Pork prices are down again. Loins dropped 2 to 4 cents a pound on the West Coast this week. In Chicago, bacon is selling for 69 to 89 cents a pound, down 20 per cent in the last month.

Beef prices took a jump on the West Coast this week, with ribs up 4 to 5 cents a pound in Portland, Ore.

Broilers are down in the Southwest.

Bad weather and rising labor costs have cut into the rest of the menu.

Frost damaged the Idaho potato crop in October, and hot, dry weather shriveled crops in the Midwest and East. Hurricane Inez cut into plantings in southern Florida intended for harvest this winter.

What it adds up to is higher prices for peas, beans, tomato juice, onions, sweet potatoes, sauerkraut, lettuce and apple and grape-based juices.

But pears, cling peaches and fruit cocktail are down, along with carrots, canned salmon and cranberries. And so are citrus juices.

It looks like a huge crop of oranges this year.

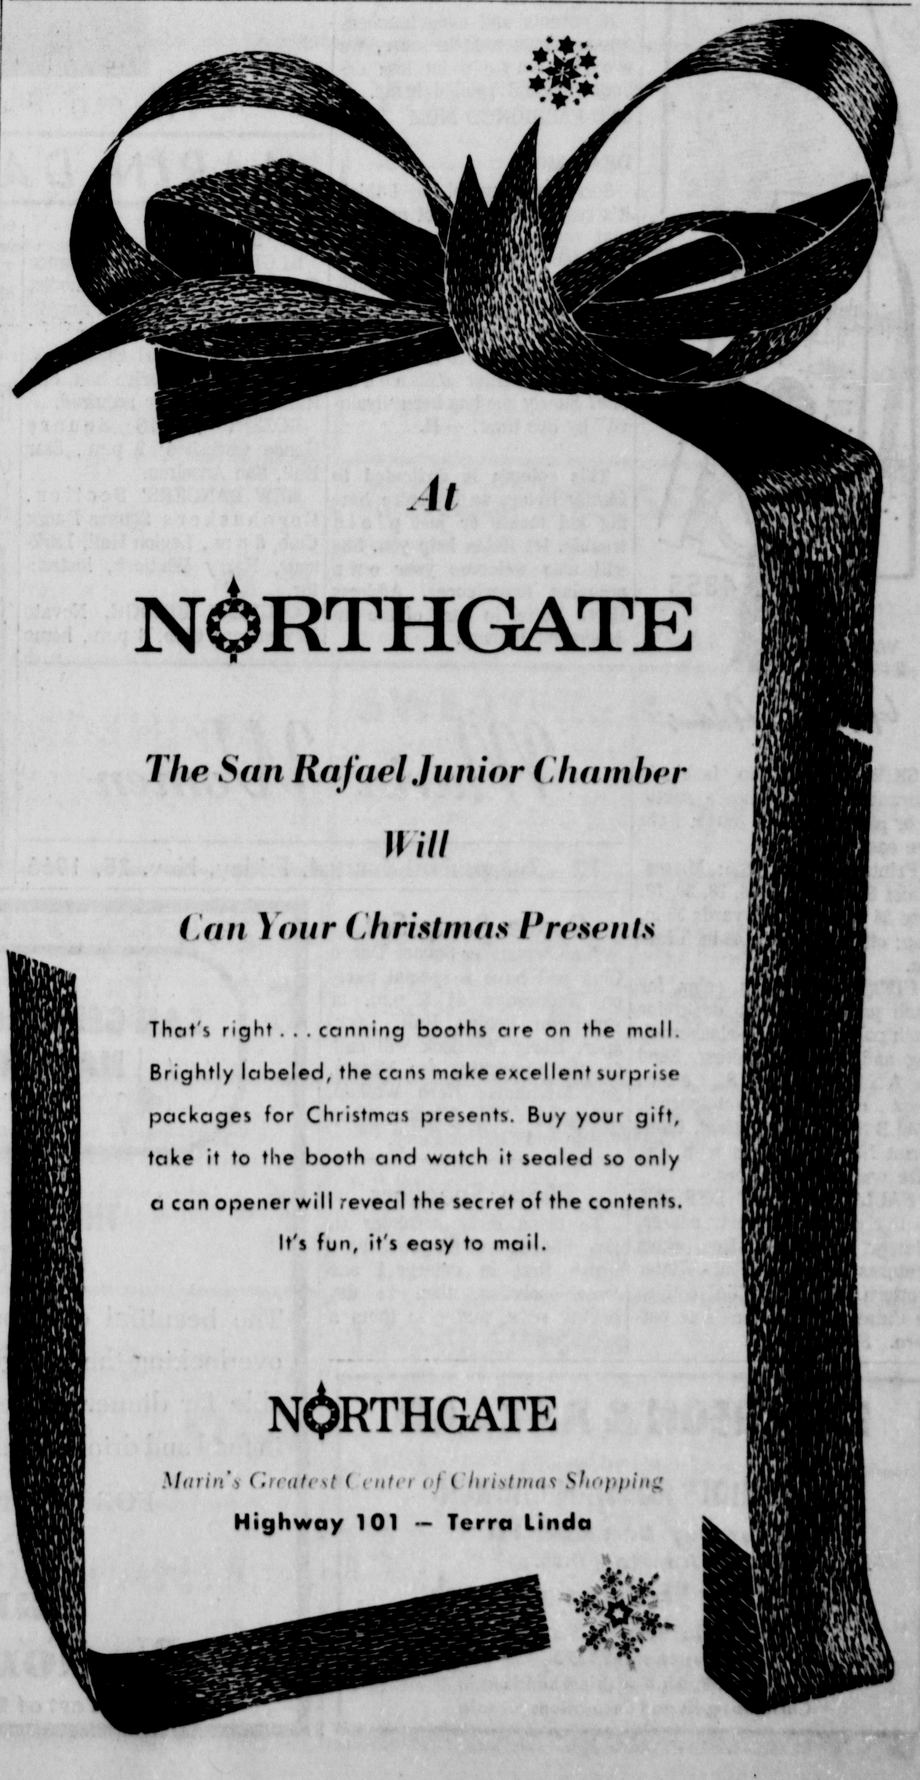

WOMEN'S NEWS PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen who are interested in getting news into the Marin Women's Society Section of the Independent - Journal is now available in the San Rafael, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Novato offices of the newspaper.

The booklet "Getting News Into Your Newspaper" is to assist press chairmen for Marin women's organizations.

Features in the guide tell how to handle stories and picture requests.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Primary Grade Set Uses A Door Key As A Partial Status Symbol

DEAR HELEN:

This is a switch!

I stay home and care for my family because I like it that way. Am always home when our children arrive from school. Felt kind of virtuous about it — not being a working mother who lets her kids come into an empty house.

Well! Our eight-year-old Mellie informed me the other day that she had to have a house key on a chain like the other kids do, this after I discovered a neck-chain with an old key on it in her jewelry box and asked her what it was all about. Seems she'd been wearing this to school every day so she wouldn't feel "inferior" to her friends. A door key in the primary grade set has become a status symbol, no less!

Incidentally, the old key opened nothing around our place — Mellie found it in the street. But the kids didn't know that. She's now a "key-chain-kid."

Should I let her keep on wearing it, explain to her the other kids are the ones who are "deprived," or just have it come up "missing"?—MRS. W. O.

DEAR W. O.:

Thereis no harm in letting Mellie wear an old key until she tires of it (which shouldn't take over a month).

Don't, repeat don't, tell her the other kids are "deprived." How do you know? Their parents may manage just as well as hers do.

Working mothers have it tough enough without youngsters getting into the controversy!

DEAR HELEN:

You're probably tired of the spanking question. (Note from H: That I am. I must either spare the rod or spoil my column.) But I have a problem with our 12-year-old daughter. She has never been spanked, and begs me to spank her. She thinks this makes children respect their parents more. I've told her discipline can be maintained other way, and have read some good books about it with her. But she still insists.

She has talked to friends, relatives and neighbors about it, and the problem becomes embarrassing. She figures if I really love her I'd get upset enough to spank her when she needs it. She's driving me crazy.

What's a mother to do? — MRS. M.

DEAR MRS. M.:

Tell her if you hear one more nagging word about this silly business you'll "turn her over your knee and spank her." And show a little fire in your eye Wanta bet that will be the end of THAT?

Your daughter doesn't want switches — she wants limits. Perhaps, in your urge to be an un-pushy, giving and forgiving mother, you've fallen short on generalship; and she takes this to mean you don't care what happens to her. So switch to the "Do this or else!" school — and she'll hopefully stop short before "else" — most of the time. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

You dismissed the letter from the teenager who was spanked in front of her boyfriend as a hoax, but expressed shock if it really happened.

If any of my girls (age 6 to 16) were rude to me or disobeyed in front of others, they would get paddled then and there. A public spanking is humiliating enough to keep teenage rebellions under control. At that age, when youngsters are too big for their britches, a smart whack on the britches can be very effective.

If parents and even teachers spanked kids a little more, we would have a lot less delinquents and spoiled brats. — OLD-FASHIONED MOM

DEAR MOM:

Sorry to disagree, but I think it's respect, not fear of parents, that makes a good teen. And what teen could possibly respect a mother who gave her a spanking in front of a boy?

Moreover, if a switch is your panacea, why is it that at age 16 your daughter still needs one? Surely she has been "trained" by this time! — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid touble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Using Special Aids Can Help Seamstress Do A Better Job

While feminine curves are a thing of beauty, fitting garments to them is somewhat less than a joy. The home seamstress becomes plagued by her own assets which, from a garment's point of view, are distributed about the shoulders, waist, hips and bust. Only if each of these curves is pressed in its own way to complement the contours, is perfect fit possible.

1. To press as you sew, the creed of every good seamstress, a tailor board is handy. Specially designed for the basic garment curves, it's a hinged assemblage of vari-sized polished hardwood surfaces providing an assortment of points, curves and straight or flat contours. For molding seams instead of non-discriminate pressing of the entire garment, simply fit them to the corresponding contour on the tailor board. (See photo 1)

2. If you're plagued by seams on collars and facings, have you tried a point presser? It'll help you flatten them as well as press out points where the seams meet. (See photo 2)

3. It's a cinch to flat-press faced edges on collars, lapels, hems or pleats—and with no shine. The trick is a pounding block or its cousin, the clapper. Either will pound steam through the thickest fabric till you've a beautiful knife-thin edge. (See photo 3) A two-in-one pressing aid has the point presser doubling as a handle for the pounding block. (See photo 2)

4. For molding instead of flat-pressing curved areas, the tailor's cushion and its slightly smaller version, the dressmaker's ham, are the answer. Both are ideal for pressing jackets, coats and curved areas of varying sizes. Look for the "two-faced" ones, though. They belong to a whole new era of pressing aids that come with a wool face for use with low to medium heat and a cotton face for medium to high heat. (See photo 4)

5. For seam-pressing without that tell-tale mark on the outside of your garment, use a seam roll. It's similar to a pressing ham but shaped like a long salami. If you've a sleeve to press, just slip it inside—it's the perfect size and shape.

6. Good insurance against scorch or shine is a pressing cloth. Several types are available, serving different purposes. Handiest is a two-faced cloth with cotton on one side and wool on the other. Another is silicone-treated to help your iron glide freely without sticking. Third is a see-through cloth. This is transparent. You see as you press and avoid injuring delicate buttons or other no-press items. (See photo 5)

7. No doubt you've wondered how the pros press velvet, camel's hair, fleece and other nap or high pile fabrics without flattening. A needle-board is the secret. Now available to non-professionals for home use, it eliminates messy bathroom steaming. A miniature version of the Fakir's bed of nails, it consists of needles carefully angled so that the pile falls between them. Used with a steam or dry iron, you press the reverse side of the fabric, never compressing the pile. (See photo 6)

8. If you're planning a trip, a good tip for toting is the pint-sized folding board. A two-part affair, one is a scaled-down ironing board (less than 2 feet long) while the other, a sleeve board, is sized a little smaller — just right for easy insertion into sleeves or shoulders. It will fit into a suitcase or the trunk of a car and serve as your on-the-spot ironing board, eliminating the need for makeshift ironing surfaces. It's handy even for wash 'n' wear. (See photo 7)

9. A good companion to your traveling iron is a pressing mitt. It's just what you need for getting wrinkles out of suits and such that you've just unpacked. For curved-surface pressing, you do it right over your hand.

THE TOPS PLEDGE . . .

'Poundage For All The World To See'

By LOIS SENS

With a solemn pledge, "I am an intelligent person. I will control my emotions, not let my emotions control me. Every time I am tempted to use food to satisfy my frustrated desires, build up my injured ego or dull my senses, I will remember. . . . Even though I overeat in private. . . . My excess poundage is there for all the world to see. . . . What a fool I've been," members of Take Off Pounds Sensibly began their weekly meeting in San Rafael.

The most important business of the evening, the weighing-in, had been completed as soon as the members arrived, with weight recorder Bernice Thomson noting the exact poundage in an official notebook.

"We don't even dare talk on the scale," noted one member, "it makes the needle flip too much."

The club's newly-acquired Harmony House scale measures weight accurately to the one-fourth pound.

WITH THE PLEDGE behind them, members got down to the business of paying up for pounds gained that week. Those who pledged to lose and didn't, plunked nickels and dimes into the yellow pig and more into the pink pig who tipped his hat gratefully.

One member piped up that it had been quite a week, since most of the pledges were broken and coins jingled into the piggy banks.

After a recital of losses and gains dutifully recorded, Queen For The Week was announced (she had lost six pounds) and awarded the tiara for the evening.

GAINERS GOOD naturedly gathered before the group (more than half of those present that week) and sang the "Pig Song" with occasional interjections of "oink, oink" and appreciative laughter from the rest.

The previous week's gainers were called upon to read off the daily diets down to the last cookie. (One member begged to be excused as a relative's wedding party occurred on one of the designated days with quite an extensive feast.)

"You must record everything you eat for a whole week — breakfast, lunch and dinner—or pay a dollar," confided one of the members. Those who gained were also out of the contest which ran for several weeks with each participant contributing 50 cents to join initially.

Georgia Delchini, the club's vice president, had lost six pounds the preceding week and was awarded the pledge money.

THE WOEFUL MEMBER who had gained the most pounds (nine that week) was given the yellow plastic pig to take home as a reminder to 'think thin.' Other gainers received place mats for the week with the admonitions, "Count Your Calories, Pig," "Carrots, Not Calories" and "What A Fool I've Been."

And so it went, pledges, admonitions, encouragement, and above all, complete understanding within the group of the seemingly overwhelming effort involved in weight loss.

Following the election of officers for 1967, talk concerning the TOPS annual installation banquet began. It was decided that weighing-in scale would be toted to the restaurant and used before the dinner which would be held the first week in January.

Such a festive menu might include—cherry wine, consomme, relish plate, broiled filet mignon with mushroom sauce, garden salad with dressing, green beans, almondine, chilled twin sherbet and coffee. The total calorie count of which amounts to 787.

TARGET OF TOPS Club, Inc., future plans involves a research grant given to Evangelical Deaconess Hospital in Milwaukee, Wis., to study certain aspects of obesity over a three year period. Recent studies have already indicated that "intake of a certain number of calories distributed over five or six meals per day results in weight reduction, whereas the same total amount given in one or two meals per day results in no weight loss and even in gain."

The program will also study the relationship of glucose tolerance, meal patterns and dietary composition to obesity and try to establish certain criteria to detect individuals who are not yet obese but may have the predisposition to develop obesity.

AND FACE THE PROBLEM we must, since it has been estimated that Americans spend more than $250 million annually on reducing pills, slimming salons and appliances for losing weight.

And what do TOPS members have awaiting them in the near future? Well, there's KOPS, Keep Off Pounds Sensibly which admits TOPS members after they have succeeded in reaching their pledged weight loss. KOPS members attend at least one meeting a month to keep in the spirit of things.

Then, there's the Century Club for TOPS members who have lost 100 pounds or more and maintained the loss for 12 months. All of these accomplishments, however, are achieved through a prescribed diet and weight consultation with a doctor. The club supplies the necessary incentive and encouragement.

AND ENCOURAGE they do with a library of books such as "Delicious Dishes For Dieters" and "Calories, Vitamins and Common Sense" by Dr. H. Curtin Wood Jr. plus discussions on diets and a round of the calorie game following the two-hour meeting.

CINNAMON PIXIE COOKIES

Yield: 30 Cookies
35 Calories Each

5 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon baking powder
1 tablespoon milk, fruit juice, or coffee
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon liquid sweetener
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Form into balls and roll lightly in cinnamon and sugar mixture. Flatten with a fork—bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes.

DATE NUT COOKIES

Yield: 76 Cookies
10 Calories Each

2 eggs
¼ cup all purpose flour
½ cup chopped walnuts
1½ teaspoons liquid sweetener
1½ cups bread crumbs
⅓ cup chopped dates
1½ teaspoons baking powder

Beat eggs until light and lemon colored. Combine sweetener and baking powder. Add to eggs. Dredge dates with flour, add bread crumbs and nuts and mix well. Chill one-half hour. Drop by measured teaspoon on greased cookie sheet. Bake for about 15 minutes at 350 degrees.

EASY COCONUT MACAROONS

Yield: 36 Cookies
35 Calories Each

4 egg whites
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup powdered sugar
½ cup sifted flour
1¾ cups shredded coconut

Add the almond extract to the beaten egg whites, beat until stiff but not dry. Gradually add the sugar and continue beating until the mixture is stiff and glossy. Gently fold in the flour and coconut. Drop by teaspoon about one inch apart on a well greased cookie sheet. Bake about 15 minutes at 350 degrees.

Same Rate

For many years we have felt that foods that were frozen and then defrosted would spoil more quickly than the fresh product. Recent research tends to discount this idea. Recent studies by bacteriologists, based on bacteria count and odor tests, showed that the shelf life at chill temperature was about the same for fresh chicken and that which had been frozen, thawed and then refrigerated.

Triumphant Crew Feted On Return From Bermuda Races

By MOLLY MARIN

An impromptu celebration at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere Tuesday evening welcomed Frank "Jake" Wosser and his crew who returned that day from Bermuda in triumph. Skipper Wosser had just successfully defended his world's championship in the international one design yacht races. About forty attended the informal party organized by Mr. and Mrs. William Votaw of Tiburon to greet Mr. and Mrs. Wosser and their daughter, Susan who was on her dad's crew during the eventful races, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ashley. Among those attending the gathering were Messrs. and Mesdames Leonard Delmas, Howard Mc Gill Jr., Roger Eldridge, Robert A. Davies, Leonard James, Jeff Capell, Allen B. Mitchell, and Dr. and Mrs. Paul De Silva. Much of the talk centered on the 1967 world's championships, where the Tiburon man will again be defending champion. Those races will be held in Norway.

A PROGRESSIVE LUNCHEON marked the end of the year's activities for Belvedere Guild 1 of Sunny Hills last week. The members met for punch at the home of Mrs. Ben Hirsch on the lagoon, then went on to Mrs. Walter Levison's for the main course, and had dessert at the home of Mrs. Robert Rodden. Twenty members attended the affair.

members gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Eppinger Jr. in Belvedere for Thanksgiving dinner, including the Eppingers' youngest son, Michael Hoffman, who arrived from Santa Barbara where he is attending University of California.

Lemmon Back In New Wilder Comedy, 'The Fortune Cookie'

By LESLIE DARD

JACK LEMMON

RAFAEL THEATER

The show starts out with TV cameraman Jack Lemmon being knocked unconscious at a televised pro football game by star halfback Ron Rich. It soon comes to light that Lemmon is not really injured, but here's where the fun starts.

It's in the delightful form of Walter Matthau, who steals the show with a marvelously juicy portrayal. He plays Lemmon's scheming brother-in-law, a lawyer. "Whiplash Willie," as he's called, persuades the confused cameraman that life is but a giant fortune cookie and there's big money everywhere "out there" if you just go after it.

So Lemmon develops an astonishing variety of ailments, partly for the money but mostly in the far-flung hope of getting his roving wife back. But there's a side of pathos here too that is woven skillfully into the climax—Rich, the halfback, is terribly anguished in thinking that he maimed Lemmon, and is about to give up his career to care for him.

NORTHGATE AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

In another corner of the comedy spectrum is the new Western satire, "Texas Across the River," with Dean Martin, Joey Bishop and Alain Delon.

It's a farce, yes, and wild comedy is slung around like bullets in a saloon, but it all has the professional touch—never overplayed to the point of slapstick.

Good viewing.

101 DRIVE-IN

Elvis Presley's flock of fans won't want to miss his latest, "Spinout."

It's a merry romp that winds up in a fast-paced auto race and is spiked with plenty of new songs along the way.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

NOVATO THEATER

The movie version of Gore Vidal's TV and Broadway hit "Visit to a Small Planet" is making the rounds again, featuring Jerry Lewis in the role of a celestial nut who finds his way to earth and promptly determines to take over.

Co-featured is Walt Disney's famed feature - length cartoon "Bambi." Also on the bill is another big Jerry Lewis entry "Bellboy."

MOTOR MOVIES

He started the whole superspy movement, and he's back again. Right—it's James Bond, Agent 007 to his enemies, here in a record-breaking double bill —"Dr. No" and "Goldfinger."

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Simply stated, "The Fantastic Voyage," holding forth, is fantastic.

It tells the story of a team of five medical and technical experts reduced to microbe size and injected into an unconscious scientist's bloodstream — their mission is to fight their way through the body's defenses and perform a delicate operation.

LARK THEATER

"Morgan!" is still with us, happily holding over with David Warner in the title role and Vanessa Redgrave alongside. It's all a lovely romp, and the audience is glad to come along.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Also held over is "Darling," the glittering, irreverent drama for which Julie Christie won an Oscar last year.

Poverty War Extension Is Promised

Extension of War on Poverty financing in Marin through Jan. 31 has been promised by the regional Office of Economic Opportunity, Donald Sanford, county coordinator for the programs, reported today.

"But we have nothing in writing yet," he warned.

Sanford, who spent half a day in the federal office in San Francisco Wednesday, was to go there again today to make sure the extension will be confirmed.

Without confirmation, the War on Poverty in Marin will come to at least a temporary truce at the end of this month. It is proposed that $31,000 once allocated for Marin for a "total enrichment program," but not used, be applied to cover extensions.

The War on Poverty projects involved are the Head Start, study center, unwed mothers and teen-age couples programs and the administration staff for the Marin City Community Action Project.

'Very Bright' Meteor By Tower Officials

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A "very bright" meteor was spotted last night by officials at control towers at both Oakland and San Francisco National Airports.

They said it flashed brightly for several seconds across the sky to the southwest about 9:30 p.m., apparently over the Pacific Ocean.

Man Is Killed In Watts Area

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A barrage of bullets, fired into a crowded Watts night spot by an unidentified gunman, killed a 24-year-old man and wounded another late last night, police said.

The victim was identified as Jimmy Gidden of Los Angeles.

Critically wounded was Fletcher Harris, who was taken to General Hospital, police said.

Cartoons Set

Cartoons will be shown tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at Terra Linda Recreation Center. The show will include "Bugs Bunny," "Woody Woodpecker" and "Sylvester."

Lecture Slated On 'Nibelung'

A lecture on Richard Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelung" will be given Wednesday by Jack Wolfram, a former vice president of General Motors at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at College of Marin. Wolfram will accompany his lecture with tapes of the opera.

As an executive, Wolfram encouraged music among his employees, and factory workers performed his arrangements of "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Aida" and "Faust."

His lecture is part of the college's concert-lecture series, and is open free to the public.

Farmers in New Jersey and Texas have employed geese to herd sheep. Persistent honking and wing flapping and an occasional nip on a sheep's tail or ears keeps the herd in line.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Time for Christmas shopping is growing shorter than you think. And to help you out, the I-J Marin Magazine is once again running its gift idea pages. From now until after Christmas, you will find advertisements and stories suggesting gifts and offering other holiday ideas in the front pages of your weekend supplement. Awaiting you there may be the solution to your knottiest gift problems.

Among the most popular features of the Marin Magazine have been the stories of various dog breeds and their Marin owners that have appeared from time to time. There's another one tomorrow for dog-lovers. This time the feature story subject is the Gordon Setter, a handsome hunting dog from the Highlands of Scotland. He is not too often seen in Marin, but he's the favorite of a Woodacre family.

Australia's Commitment In Viet Nam Election Key

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The commitment of 4,500 fighting men in Viet Nam is the big issue in Saturday's Australian national elections. Prime Minister Harold Holt's government, which sent the troops to war, is heavily favored to survive.

"Foreign policy is the very core of this election and that's how it has been, if foreign policy is taken to mean the wisdom of being involved in Viet Nam," Holt declared early in the campaign.

Despite a rash of anti-Viet Nam demonstrations, political circles say that feeling does not appear strong enough to give victory to the Labor party of Arthur A. Calwell.

Labor has 52 of the 124 seats in the retiring Parliament and needs a big vote to swing to win a majority and unseat Holt. The ruling Liberal-County party coalition has 71 seats. There is one independent.

Holt is a liberal.

In campaign speeches, Calwell said: "We will act, in consultation with the American authorities immediately if we become the government, to withdraw all conscripts in Viet Nam.

"The remainder of our troops will be brought home at the earliest practicable moment after consultation with our allies and so as not to endanger the lives of any Australian or allied troops."

Angkor Wat in Cambodia is the largest single religious structure in the world.

Bombs Go Off In Sears Store

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Three bombs went off inside the Sears, Roebuck store last night in what authorities said was the second terrorist attack on U.S. property in Caracas this week.

As firemen fought to control flames in the two-story Sears building, Venezuela's largest department store, a municipal councilman said there was no doubt that terrorists planted the bombs. No injuries were reported.

On Monday, a supermarket owned by a group in which New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has a large interest, was sprayed with bullets from a speeding car. There were no injuries and damage was minimal.

Warren Commission Asked To Clear Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—Finding "general confusion in the public mind," the New York Times today editorially called on the Warren Commission itself to speak up in response to the cerning the Kennedy assassination.

"Further dignified silence, or merely more denials by the commission or its staff, are no longer enough," the editorial said.

Long before World War II, royal preserves protected areas of natural beauty throughout Europe. Today scores of national parks, set aside for public enjoyment, dot the continent.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Thanksgiving Touches Off Yule Party Season For Restaurants

Just as Thanksgiving is the signal to start the Christmas shopping spree, so too does it touch off the holiday and party season for restaurants with banquet facilities.

Office and club bookings have already begun to fill the calendars. If your group has some sort of party in mind, don't wait until the last minute to make arrangements. You may already be too late to get the space and time you want.

THE AVERAGE PERSON thinks of any town or city on the waterfront as the proper place to get good seafood.

This may or may not be necessarily so, but in the case of one Sausalito restaurant it is—the Seven Seas at 682 Bridgeway, where Paul and Della De Moss take particular delight in trying to amaze you with the sheer excellence of their fare. They have a good aide in chef Frank Terrell, who's an old hand at this sort of thing.

Paul himself is an experienced cook, having spent a good part of his adult life in some phase of the restaurant business. I wouldn't be surprised to find that he can take over the food operation on a minute's notice.

Pride and joy of the Seven Seas is its bouillabaise — and well it should be. It's a delicious meal itself and if you don't try it on your first visit—make another one. It won't change.

I'll give equal billing to the baked filet of sole Marguerite, augmented with crab, shrimp and mushrooms en casserole, with a Newburg sauce as savory as the caress of a trade wind across the brow of a sailor homeward bound.

And there's ample stock of other preparations from which to choose—almost all the accepted dishes of crab, lobster, shrimp and prawns plus eastern oysters in their traditional forms. Praise, too, is due waitress Lydia Greisheimer, who somehow manages to be every place at once in her serving—at just the right time.

LIN FA GARDENS in the Northgate Shopping Center is approaching another anniversary—its third. For me, the time has gone fast and it doesn't seem three years since its opening.

For owner Ethel Barrie, who was one of the pioneers in the shopping center and had to take the slim pickings available during those first quiet months, it must seem even longer. Ethel will observe her anniversary the night of Dec. 8—that's on a Thursday—with a special party.

She also will have a special menu — prime rib and fried chicken on the American side, and two different Chinese dinners. High spots of the evening will be Polynesian music and entertainment, dancing and the console talents of both Bill McCoy and Jim Murray at the organs. Bill will play in the dining area for dancing and Jim in the lounge.

THERE IS A CHANGE of ownership and operation at the Redwood Restaurant in downtown Mill Valley. This has been taken over from G. J. Bus by Lu and Nancy Gorman of Novato.

Name will remain the same, but hours of service are now from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for breakfast, lunches and early dinners Mondays through Saturdays. It will be closed Sundays instead of Wednesday, as formerly. Breakfasts will run about $1.25, merchant lunches the same and complete dinners are being offered at $2.50. For instance, Lou has a culotte steak with soup, salad and dessert at that price. Entrees will be rotated to include other selections. He expects to have a wine and beer license after the first of the year.

IN ANOTHER TRANSACTION, Gold Nugget on the San Rafael Miracle Mile has been sold by the Ansaras to Emil W. Gradhandt, who is already making several improvements, and cleaning up.

Emil plans to restore many breakfast and dinner specials on the menu the Marshalls had when they owned it before the Ansaras. Hours are from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week, with breakfast any time, as well as lunches and dinners. The name will remain the same—changing it would just confuse the identification, I think.

Emil was formerly co-owner of a drive-in in Napa and still lives there with his wife Alma, a schoolteacher.

NOVATO WILL SOON have another restaurant—probably in two weeks or so, at 1624 Grant Avenue.

This will be called The Peacock, serving Chinese and American lunches and dinners. Owners Mr. and Mrs. Walter Del Rose of Novato.

The Peacock will be open seven days a week—at least at the beginning. Lunches will be served from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and dinners from 3 to 10. No lunches on Sundays—just dinners from 4 to 10. Application has been made for a wine and beer license.

Mrs. Del Rose previously worked at Lin Fa Gardens, and her chef, Tom Hom, was a member of the Lin Fa kitchen staff.

THERE WILL BE a new restaurant operation at the Fireside Motel on Highway 1, Sausalito (near the Richardson Bridge). Camilla Russo has given up her pizzeria here and the dining room is now being remodeled for Mexican food.

The name will be El Rebozo—it should be open in a couple of weeks, and will be operated by Francisca Uanua and Maria Vazquez. More about this later.

IF YOU GO BY King Cotton, San Rafael during the afternoon or early evening, the place is not closed down—there are different hours now prevailing.

Dinners have been discontinued, but the restaurant is still open from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. for breakfasts and lunches.

LOOK FOR a new menu soon at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera. Restaurant manager Ole Madsen and chef Art Hill are working at it. Should be ready in a couple of weeks.

The bar at Bob's is now opening an hour later—at noon instead of at 11 a.m.

NOTHING ABOUT FOOD HERE—but after an early dinner the Ice Capades at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium is a fine performance. Trouble is, it only runs through Sunday. Tickets, if available, can be secured from the Downtown Center Box Office in the city, I understand.

Sherman Clay Box Office in San Rafael opened too late to get any, but this agency does have tickets for "Holiday on Ice" at the Coliseum Complex in Oakland Dec. 7-18.

Mid-September rains in the northeast United States have significantly relieved the water shortage, at least for the present.

State Orders Reductions In PT&T Customer Bills

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A California Public Utilities Commission order to the Pacific Telephone Company will result in reduced rates for many phone users in the state, effective Jan. 1.

The PUC order, issued late Wednesday, was intended to give the company a 6.3 per cent of return and still give some patrons a price break.

The commission has been investigating the rates since 1962. It established interim rates in June, 1964, bringing the company's gross revenue down $40.7 million annually.

The final rates ordered will reduce basic monthly rates for three million customers. Another 1.7 million will pay the present charges and 480,000 will pay higher rates.

The largest reductions will occur in the Bay Area where rates will go down $6,175,000. Los Angeles rates will be reduced by $2,397,000 annually; San Diego rates will drop $340,000, and Orange County, $300,000.

Long distance charges in the state will be lowered and in addition, lower rates for long distance calls will become effective at 6 p.m. instead of the present 9 p.m. Night rates will be effective all day Sunday and holidays.

The premium payment for colored phones will be reduced from $10 to $5, but charges will be higher for service connections, moves or changes, private switchboards and other miscellaneous equipment.

Basic monthly charges will be increased, the order said, only where there has been an expansion in the calling area or where there has been an increase in service. This will affect 87 of the 396 exchanges in the state.

Hiking Trails Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Riding and Hiking Trails Advisory Committee will meet here Dec. 1 to discuss 17 proposed trail projects in 14 counties and to draft an appeal to the 1967 legislature for funds to finance the plan.

Finch To Seek Nuclear Plant

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Lt. Gov.-elect Robert H. Finch said today he'll go to Washington next week to urge selection of California as the site for a $375 million nuclear accelerator.

Finch told a Capitol news conference he'll also attempt to head off a $700 million cutback in federal highway funds that state officials say could mean a $100 million loss for California.

In Sacramento with his wife, Carol, to hunt for a house, the GOP leader said he thinks California "has a 50-50 chance of landing" the Atomic Energy Commission accelerator.

U.S. Viet Deaths Over 6,000 Mark

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The number of American servicemen killed in action in Viet Nam has passed the 6,000 mark, the Defense Department disclosed today.

A casualty summary for the week ending last Saturday showed that the 100 killed in action that week raised the total who had died since Jan. 1, 1961 to 6,049.

Of the total, 4,406 have been killed in action this year.

MARINWOOD VISITORS, HOST SPOT HUGE CAT

A mountain lion in Marinwood?

Allan G. Howells of 8 Lisa Court, Marinwood, and his guests watched a tawny yellow mountain lion basking in the sun on the hill behind his house yesterday afternoon, he reported today.

We were sitting talking when one of the women, who had been watching for deer, spotted the lion on the hill between Lucas Valley and Marinwood, up behind Lee Brothers Market," said Howells.

The company watched the lion, which they estimated to weigh 150 pounds, until it ran into the bushes.

Art Friends Rally To Help Florence

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — In a spontaneous outpouring of affection for this flood-ravaged city of Renaissance treasures, art lovers around the world have rallied to help Florence heal its wounds.

The cause has linked bankers and beatniks, connoisseurs and common laborers, the famous and the unknown of at least 35 lands.

Three weeks after flood waters ruined some of Western culture's most precious relics, these art lovers have set in motion a far more friendly flood — pouring into Florence millions of dollars in cash and supplies, thousands of hours of volunteer labor and the knowledge of scores of art experts.

Much of the assistance has gone to save the poor, homeless and sick of this city of 450,000, as well as to salvage its art.

The job of restoration is enormous. Dr.Ugo Procacci, superintendent of Florence galleries, has estimated it will take more than $30 million and at least 20 years. Experts have listed damage to 1,300 painted masterpieces and several million books and ancient manuscripts.

Dozens of aid committees have been hastily organized. Mrs. John F. Kennedy is honorary president of the New York-based Committee to Rescue Italian Art, which hopes to obtain $2.5 million for emergency "first aid" restoration.

The State Department in Washington said that following the Nov. 4 floods across northern and central Italy, U.S. forces in Italy flew 800 hours of helicopter rescue operations. They also airlifted a German water filtration plant and 24 Dutch water-tank trucks and distillers.

The department said Americans delivered 18,600 C rations, 1,500 cans of evaporated milk, 2,600 blankets, quantities of diesel fuel, 150,000 vitamin C tablets and other medicines and supplies.

The State Department said the over-all amount of financial assistance from American governmental and private sources already has been put by some estimates at "millions of dollars."

To help blot moisture from delicate canvases, the Japanese government has promised 4,000 sheets of absorbent rice paper. The Soviet Union and Canada have offered expert help.

Art experts have flown in from Europe, the United States and Israel. Nineteen specialists, led by Lawrence J. Majewski, associate professor at New York University's Institute of Fine Arts, flew to Italy to inspect recovery work.

Attempted Car Theft Charges

Two boys were arrested yesterday by San Anselmo police and charged with attempted car theft.

E. Guthrie Ord of 706 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, told police he saw two boys, 14 and 15 years old, backing his 1964 Pontiac Grand Prix out of his driveway at 5:30 p.m.

He yelled at the boys, and they got out of the car and ran. Police picked them up on the street a few minutes later and took them to juvenile hall.

Curiosity Saves His Life; Costs A Mere 63 Cents

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

"Curiosity may have killed the cat, but it saved my life."

That's something 58-year-old Leo Houde kept repeating with wonder yesterday in the simply furnished and immaculate room he rents at 29 Juanita Avenue, Mill Valley, as he spoke of events that led him to Ross General Hospital where he was operated on and received a bill for 63 cents.

Equally astonishing to Houde—who has paid his own way all his life out of modest earnings as a dry cleaner—have been the total strangers who rallied around in a time of need.

"I want to tell the whole world about it," he said, speaking of the agencies that cooperated on his behalf — agencies to him mysterious in their workings, but which he had unthinkingly helped create through his taxes over the years: the county health department, medical department, social services department, and the state system of unemployment compensation.

Curiosity did its work for him about two months ago, when he saw a mobile X-ray unit on a street corner in San Francisco.

"I saw people going in this truck," he said, "so I asked myself what it's all about. I went in and I'm told they take X-rays. It's free, so I say, 'Why not?' "

LIKE A NEW MAN — Leo Houde of Mill Valley "wants to tell the world" how curiosity and a lot of strangers combined to give him a new lease on life. (Independent-Journal photo)

A few weeks later, Houde said, he received a letter telling him to report to the Marin County health clinic at 920 Grand Avenue in San Rafael. His X-rays had disclosed a shadow in his lungs.

A series of appointments, additional X-rays and a bronchoscopic examination failed to account for the mysterious shadow to the satisfaction of Dr. Robert Clarke, in charge of the clinic.

On Oct. 25, Clarke sent Houde to the Terrace at Ross Hospital, the county's tuberculosis hospital, where he was operated on by Dr. Richard S. Hahn, Belvedere chest surgeon.

According to Dr. Patricia Hallinan, in charge of tuberculosis control for the county, Houde had a partially collapsed lung as a result of a tumor, which Dr. Hahn removed.

"It was benign, but there is always the danger of these turning malignant. We caught Mr. Houde in time," said Dr. Hallinan.

Dr. Hallinan noted that tuberculosis in the county, following a nationwide trend, is up 40 per cent, with 49 cases this year as compared to 35 at the same time last year. "If only more people would be curious like Mr. Houde," she said, "and come to the clinic for an X-ray!"

Houde, enjoying his return home from the hospital, said he "feels like a new man!" He was having trouble breathing before the operation and felt a growing weakness, but had not realized anything might be seriously wrong.

Even more miraculous to Houde was the fact that his only bill was 63 cents for newspapers during his stay. The rest of the bill, a total of $1,358 for surgery and hospitalization, will be taken care of either by the state or the county.

The county social services department said it was seeing what part of the cost would be picked up by the state under Medi-aid, the Casey Act. In any event, according to Betty Reibling, administrative assistant to County Medical Director Michael Scholl, Houde does not have to worry about being saddled with the heavy expense. The county's medical department will take care of it, she said.

Now, while Houde recuperates and looks forward to going back to work in about 10 days, he receives $41 a week in disability insurance payment from the state. "I don't understand it all," he said, "but it is like a miracle."

Houde's warmest words, however, were for the care and kindness he received at the county's tuberculosis hospital at Ross General. "Nobody should be afraid to go to such a place," he said. "It isn't a hospital. It's a garden of love."

HOLIDAY EVE PRANKSTER A BUSY PERSON

Someone bent on mischief and with a touch of larceny in his heart spent a busy Thanksgiving Eve on Rollingwood Drive in San Rafael.

Bud R. Rockwell of 73 Rollingwood Drive reported two four-foot sections of his front fence broken and post removed. A part of the fence was dragged around the corner and abandoned.

A bicycle belonging to Kirk Teagarden of 27 Maplewood Drive was found hanging in a tree in front of 43 Rollingwood Drive. It has been stolen from the Teagarden garage.

Another bicycle, belonging to Gordon S. Jones of 15 Rosewood Court, was found in the back of a pickup truck between 11 and 43 Rollingwood Drive.

U.S. Aide Sees Czech Prisoner

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The U.S. vice consul in Prague, Martin A. Wenick, today was allowed to see an imprisoned Czech-American travel agent charged with antistate activities.

Vladimir J. Kazan-Komarek was arrested Oct. 31 when he was taken from a Soviet airliner. The Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported Nov. 18 that Kazan-Komarek confessed to having acted as a spy against Czechosiovakia.

Wenick, reached by telephone from Vienna told The Associated Press after his meeting with Kazan-Komarek that he was "not in a position to comment at present."

Yacht Sinks; Gas Threatens Harbor

A $30,000 cruiser sank yesterday in Sausalito and threatened several hundred boats when the 500 gallons of gasoline aboard began to spread through the Clipper Yacht Harbor.

Firemen cleared the area and police blocked access to the 400-foot pier at Basin No. 3 for more than three hours while chemicals were sprayed on the water to neutralize the gasoline. The fuel covered about 100 square feet, and could be smelled 200 feet away, fireme neported.

The 51-foot cruiser, the Frolic sank in about 12 feet of water at the end of the pier. Only about four feet of its pilot cabin remained above water.

Cause of the sinking was under investigation today, firemen said.

T. J. Nelson, owner of T. J. Nelson Marine Service Co. on Gate Six Road, dove down to the boat and attached cables to bring it up. No estimate of damage to the boat, now at Nelson's firm, was available today.

Owner of the cruiser, David Adler of Burlingame, reported the sinking to the fire department at 9:10 a.m. when he arrived to check his boat. The boat already had gone down when he arrived, he said. Last person known to have been aboard, he said, was a mechanic who worked on the motor Tuesday.

Five firemen from two trucks and a Coast Guard cutter stood by while an expert on "water purge," Don Bailey of Gate Six Road, sprayed a chemical over the floating fuel with a high pressure hose.

The boat was brought up shortly before noon, and the area declared safe by firemen at 12:35 p.m.

Stolen Car Spotted Wrecked In Sonoma

A car reported stolen Wednesday from Helen Maxine Schuhmann's carport at 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, was found that evening by the California Highway Patrol in Monte Rio, Sonoma County.

The car had been driven over a cliff and wrecked. There was no report on the fate of "a large amount of clothing" Mrs. Schuhmann reported was in the car.

Deputy's Auto Strikes Stalled Car On Highway

A sheriff's patrol car struck the right rear of an automobile stalled broadside on Highway 101 on Puerto Suello Hill yesterday, deputies reported today.

Deputy R. A. Keaton said he and Reserve Officer Richard Wilson were southbound on the highway late Wednesday when they changed lanes to avoid two persons waving at them from beside two other halted vehicles.

They then saw the stalled vehicle directly ahead. Deputy Keaton said, but were unable to swerve or halt in time. California Highway Patrol said the stalled vehicle was driven by Jerry Lewis Falconer, 20, of Petaluma, and had just been involved in an accident with yet another vehicle.

No flares had yet been ignited, according to the report. No citation was given. There were no injuries.

Quarrel With Officers Ends With Arrest

Charles F. Richmond, 39, was arrested last night in front of his home at 45 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, and booked at county jail on charges of striking a police officer and resisting arrest.

Richmond's arrest followed the untangling of a minor traffic snarl by San Rafael Patrolmen Terry V. Lucchesi and Arthur E. Myers.

The officers at 10:25 p.m. found two cars bound for Marin City, stopped in the middle of the street in front of Richmond's house, and both drivers discussing how to proceed. After they had sent the cars on their way, according to Myers, Richmond came up to them and used abusive and anti-racial language, wanting to know why the drivers weren't booked on some charge.

The officers said they told Richmond to return home and calm down, and at that point he jabbed Myers in his chest, following up with a punch.

Bail was set at $1,100.

Teen-Agers Held On Auto Parts Probe

Two 16-year-old boys were turned over to juvenile authorities Wednesday when found taking parts from a car in the San Rafael High School parking lot.

A chrome head gasket from the car of J. V. Gurge of 27 Twin Oaks Avenue, San Rafael, was found in their possession, according to San Rafael police, who said the youths were also removing Gurge's car battery. Stereo tapes found in the youths' car were held by police for a check against reported thefts of tapes.

Ethics Code On Personnel Board Agenda

Discussion of a code of ethics for county employees will be taken up by theh Marin County Personnel commission Monday.

The commission will meet at 3 p.m. at the Civic Center.

The code of ethics was suggested some time ago by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, but the idea was not considered until Ann McCorry of Greenbrae Boardwalk asked the board to look into the John McGoran case to see if the district attorney's office had handled it properly.

McGoran complained that he was beaten by Larkspur police after a bar scuffle and arrested on improper charges.

County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott will recommend that the code of ehtics study be referred to a subcommittee of the commission.

Egypt Seizes Ford Property

CAIR O(AP) — Egyptian authorities have seized the Ford Motor Co.'s property and deposits in Egyptian banks pending clearance of custom debts totaling $1.7 million, a government announcement said today.

At Dearborn, Mich., headquarters of Ford Motor Co., Ford officials, including President Arjay Miller and Allen W. Merrell, vice president, civic and government affairs, went into a hastily called meeting to discuss the seizure.

A Ford spokesman said the Alexandria plant had been closed since last February.

The amount accumulated because of customs duties on spare parts imported by Ford into the United Arab Republic, authorities said.

Cabin Ransacked

Burglars smashed a rear window of a Nicasio weekend cabin to enter and steal a table radio and toaster, sheriff's officers reported today. The cabin owner, Trevor L. Jones, of Colma, San Mateo County, told officers the intruders also ransacked the rooms.

Radio Panelists Call For State Control Of Adoption Agencies

In the wake of controversy over Marin County's adoption program, experts and laymen agreed today that centralization of adoption agencies, on a statewide basis, is the only way to resolve problems of matching children with prospective parents.

Betty Presley, director of Marin County Social Services Department, said a state-wide approach is needed. "The problem of people who want children in one locality and children who need to be placed in another locality must eventually be approached through a regional agency. It would take legislation," she said.

Speaking on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," Miss Presley recalled she felt a statewide approach was needed even before Marin got into the adoption business two years ago.

Mrs. Roy Sanderson of Santa Venetia, who has applied to adopt through the county agency, said that "while we must rely on the good judgement of the social worker," a computer is being used in one area to correlate data on parents and children.

"It appears desirable that a central agency should be formed to combine all the adoptive agencies in the greater Bay Area," she said.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella, who prepared a report on the adoption program at the supervisors' direction, said the ultimate solution would be a state-wide adoption agency.

Mrs. Sanderson said that Marin's adoptive parents—all waiting for children—felt Tuesday's action by the board of supervisors to open relinquishments of Marin County children for adoption "was a wise decision."

"But we also realize this action will not be sufficient to provide children for all homes," she cautioned.

"We realize a problem existed locally," said Mrs. Sanderson. "But we question that it was right to close intake and turn away girls. These are human beings and we should place health and safety of child and mother above budgeted dollars."

Robert Vickers, supervisor of the adoption unit, emphasized that a brief survey of foster homes has shown there are only five foster homes in Marin to take infants. "We must find homes now to take children when they start coming in," he said.

Listeners' questions telephoned during the broadcast included several on allowing Marin couples to apply for children in other counties.

Vickers said, "We have an arrangement between county adoption agencies, we don't study each others'." However, he agreed with this week's recommendation by the supervisors that if, after a reasonable time, a suitable child does not become available for approved applicants, "we would attempt to cooperate with other counties or the Bay Area Exchange." He claimed the exchange is now inadequately staffed, however.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer asked Vickers if it hadn't been "tactless' for a social worker to tell a bereaved mother she should mourn for six months before adopting a child.

Vickers said he felt the case "was handled adequately." "We don't have a policy of any set time after a death in a family, but we do feel strongly when people have a tragedy they have to recuperate," he said.

The program will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Elections Clerk Has Operation On Throat

John H. Musser, assistant county clerk for elections, was back at work this week following a "striping" of vocal cord tissue which had induced an increasing huskiness in his voice.

The treatment at Marin General Hospital occurred Nov. 17.

Suede Jacket Theft

Auto Radio Taken

DeGaulle Hits U.S. Viet Policy

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle upheld France's policy of rapprochement with the Communist bloc and castigated American policies in Viet Nam today in a toast for visiting Belgian Prime Minister Paul Van den Boeynants.

At an Elysee Palace lunch attended by 25 high French and Belgian officials, De Gaulle, in a toast, stoutly reaffirmed his foreign policy views.

Youngster Fair From Auto Injury

Five-year-old Kenneth D. Morris of 67 Porteous Avenue, Fairfax, was listed in fair condition with a cut scalp today at Marin General Hospital where he was admitted after being knocked down by a car yesterday near his home.

Police said the car was driven by George F. Bottini of 51 Woodland Road, Fairfax.

Italians Suffer New Weather Troubles

ROME (UPI)—Snow, rain and howling winds caused new avalanches and mud slides in mountainous northern Italy today while to the south army and civilian volunteers worked unceasingly to repair shattered sea walls and dikes in the Po River Delta.

The rain-swollen Ombrone River surged over its banks and sent flood waters rolling toward Grosseto, threatening more damage for one of central Italy's worst hit cities. Many of the town's 50,000 inhabitants moved to upper floors while those in the suburbs fled their houses.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
No. 000-18-80428

WHEREAS, DRAPER DEVELOPMENT, INC., a California corporation, heretofore executed and delivered a certain Deed of Trust dated February 8, 1963 to CITIZENS AUXILIARY CORPORATION, a corporation, as Trustee, to secure the payment of a Promissory Note to CITIZENS FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, and also all other indebtedness agreed by said Deed of Trust to be secured, which said Deed of Trust was recorded February 11, 1963 in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1656 of Official Records, at Page 619; and

WHEREAS, default having been made in the payment of said Promissory Note, according to its terms, CITIZENS FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, as owner and holder of said Promissory Note and beneficiary under said Deed of Trust, on the 28th day of July, 1966 filed for record a Notice of Default under said Deed of Trust in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, which said Notice of Default was recorded in said office in Book 2068 of Official Records, at Page 48; and

WHEREAS, more than three months have elapsed since the recording of said Notice of Default and said CITIZENS FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION has demanded that the undersigned, as Trustee, sell the property described in said Deed of Trust pursuant to the terms thereof and the provisions of law;

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Overactive Thryoid Produces Many Recognizable Symptoms

VAN DELLEN

An overactive thyroid increases the metabolism of the body and leads to symptoms that are easily recognized. The victim has a staring expression and is extremely nervous. If the physician is detained, they usually pace about the examining room, look at the magazines, peep out of the door at least once, and ask the nurse whether the air conditioning is on.

The skin is warm and moist; the individual complains about the heat even though the room is cool. This stems from the metabolic increase and is comparable to raising the thermostat in the home. The body is warm because the tissues are "burning up" at an abnormal rate. Weight loss occurs even though more food is consumed.

THE INCREASED metabolism also steps up the activity of the heart leading to an acceleration in the pulse rate and blood pressure. Unless the irregular beat is corrected, heart failure may ensue.

Not everyone is this toxic. Some are not so restless and the pulse is slower. Changes in weight may not take place especially when they eat enough to compensate for the metabolic changes.

There are several good tests to confirm the diagnosis. The breathing test (basal metabolic rate) is the oldest. However, the reading is altered by fever, hypertension, diabetes, heart failure, and pulmonary insufficiency. The serum protien-bound iodine (PBI) blood test, is the easiest to do. Testinnig with isotopes (I131) also can be done to determine thyroid activity.

THE RATIONALE OF treatment is to limit the production of thyroid hormones. This is done by removing the gland surgically or taking drugs that block the manufacture of the hormone (anti-thyroid agents). Radioatcive iodine also depresses the cells and is a simple, effective, and inexpensive means of treating thyrotoxicosis.

ATTENTION GETTER

Mrs. D. writes: What is meant by regression? That is what the doctor says about my 4-year-old who was toilet trained before the new baby arrived but now has many accidents.

REPLY

Many children return to infantile habits when they become ill or emotionally upset. During this period they may stutter, lisp, or wet the bed. Give him more attention or responsibility.

WEAK BLADDER

R. D. M. writes: Is there anything I can do to strengthen my weak kidneys?

REPLY

If you mean you are subject to frequent urination, your bladder rather than your kidneys, is responsible. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on urinary disturbances which explains some of the causes.

PAINFUL CHEST MUSCLE

H. M. writes: The doctor says my chest pain is due to trouble with the pectoral muscles. Can you explain?

REPLY

The victim of chest pain usually suspects his heart, but other structures in this area are capable of producing distress. One is the pertoralis major, a muscle located beneath the breast.

SUBWAY READER

L. F. writes: Does reading on the subway every morning and evening harm the eyes?

REPLY

No, but the constant jerking may create strain. But when you become one of the older customers and need glasses, be sure to blame Father Time rather than the subway for failing vision.

Caddie Didn't, Lightning Did

STUTTERHEIM, South Africa (AP)—An African here is looking for a golf caddie who hits with the power of lightning.

The African, Bantu Nboyi, 13, was sitting against a tree when lightning struck it. He fell over unconscious.

Stutterheim golf club secretary Trevor Collett applied artificial respiration and rushed Nobyi to hospital. He was released after treatment.

Collett returned to the course and told Nboyi's friends: "He wanted to know which fellow African caddie had hit him on the head with a golf club. He will not believe he was struck by lightning."

Bulgarian Twins Reach Age Of 104

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Bulgarian twin sisters celebrated their 104th birthday in excellent health and enjoying fullest mental ability, the news agency BTA reported.

The two women never needed medical treatment and the first time they consulted a physician was for a routine check-up after their centenary birthdays.

Five Generations

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Bistra, a baby girl born in the village of Bistritsa near the Bulgarian capital is cared for by mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and great-great-grandmother, the news agency BTA reported. The great-great-grandmother is 86 years old and still working in the fields. She has a total of 12 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Vaccines Offer New Conquests Of Disease

By FAYE MARLEY
Science Service

WASHINGTON — The decline of poliomyelitis among more than 350 million people of the world was cited here by speakers from many nations as offering a promise of vaccines that will soon be used against other diseases, considered hopeless or untreatable until recently.

Vaccines against some viruses causing the common cold, as well as rubella and others, are on the way.

Dr. Albert Sabin, developer of the oral polio vaccine, and Dr. Mikhail P. Chumakov were among the speakers recently at the International Conference on Vaccines Against Viral and Rickettsial Diseases of Man. Rickettsial diseases — typhus, Q fever, psitticosis, etc. — are caused by bacteria-like organisms—parasites carried by ticks, lice and other living creatures.

The conference is a continuation of discussion started a few years ago under the same sponsorship on live poliovirus vaccines.

Dr. Sabin estimated that in the past six years more than 350 million people have received oral poliovirus vaccine in most of the countries of Europe and North America, and many countries or regions in South America, Africa, Asia and Oceana.

The greatest success in breaking the chain of transmission of the virulent polioviruses seems to have been achieved in those areas of the world with temperate climates and good health services.

Czechoslovakia, with a population of about 14 million, has been most outstanding in vaccination coverage. From 1960 to the present time there has not been a single confirmed case of paralytic polio of local origin, Dr. Sabin said, due to the vaccination since 1961 of new generations of children who were vaccinated each spring and revaccinated the following year.

Spain and Italy, with larger and more diverse population groups and climates, show examples of the rapid effect of different kinds of mass campaigns with oral vaccine but without elimination of some centers of the naturally occurring polioviruses, Dr. Sabin explained.

Japan is an example of a large country with highly developed health services in which governmentally directed mass use of oral vaccine during the past five years has almost completely eliminated the disease.

In the United States, paralytic polio has been reduced from a disease numbered in thousands of cases annually to a mere 61 in 1965.

Report Turns Out Too True

An hour later, Higgins received a call about an accident.

'Take Bath' Sign Posted

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John Bockey arrived in town the night Hopkinsville was scheduled to play Bath County High School's football team.

"This is the first place I've ever seenw here people take cleanliness so seriously they even put up signs," Bockey said to a friend, pointing to a large placard which read:

"TAKE BATH."

Rivers Sometimes Steal Each Other's Headwaters

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Rivers and streams sometimes turn into "pirates" and literally steal flowing water right away from one another.

This usually happens in the highlands or places where rivers are young and vigorous. As the turbulent head of a stream undercuts and erodes away the land, it recedes upstream and sometimes carves into the valley of another stream.

A contest then begins between the two streams for the available water supply. The stream that wins is the one that has a larger channel and steeper slope that makes it more accessible for water to drain downward toward the sea. Water that has been flowing into one river now turns and flows into another —the pirate has had its way. The other valley is left with only a trickle for a river, or no river at all. Geologists say this is the explanation for "wind gaps" — valleys down which the wind blows but no water flows.

In regions of the ancient Appalachian Mountains, where rivers have been cutting and eroding for millions of years, geologists have found many such curious wind gaps where water had been pirated by other streams.

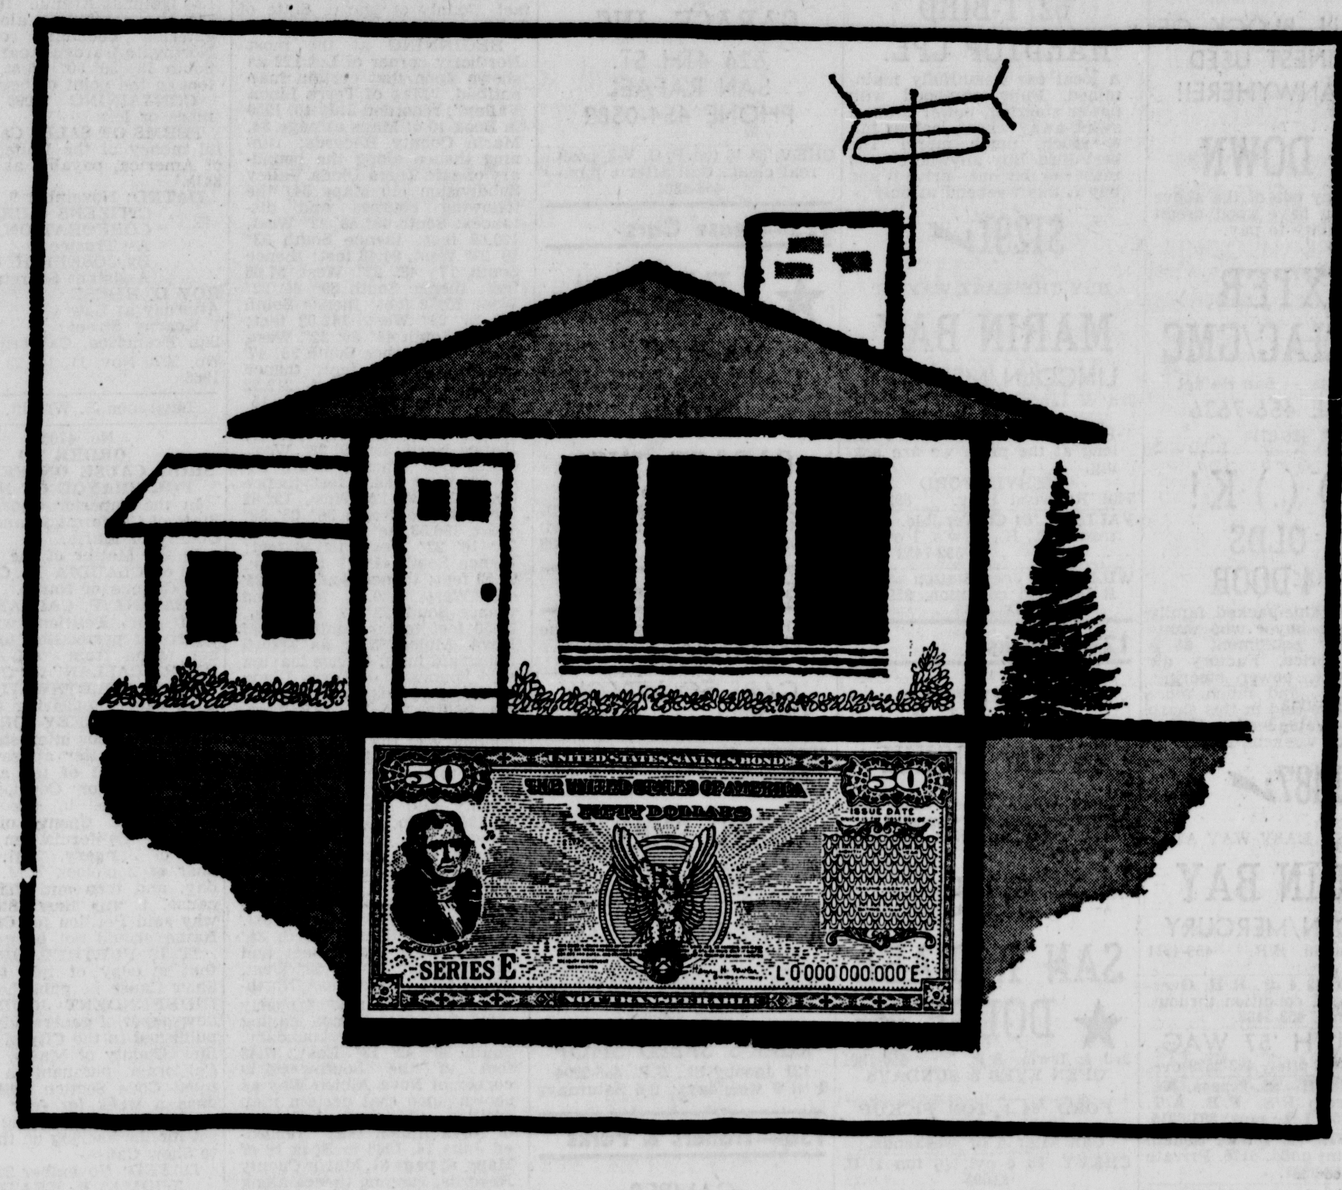

River piracy is part of the whole process of land erosion that has been going on since the world began. In the constant flow of water to the sea, rivers have churned and loosened the land bit by bit, leveling the high points and filling the low hollows with sediment it has dragged sometimes for thousands of miles.

Left to themselves, rivers would eventually erode and smooth the wrinkled crust of the whole earth into a round ball.

Yet this will not happen, for powerful forces within the earth are constantly shifting masses of land and thrusting up new mountains — which the restless streams start all over again to erode away.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 10 p.m. — Fredric March will narrate the hour-long special "Legacy of Rome," giving an overall impression of what Rome and its people were like, and their accomplishments in art, science and law, on "The Saga of Western Man."

Vaccine Claimed Not Best Way To Conquer TB

WASHINGTON (SS)—Although tuberculosis is still a problem in the United States, the way to treat it or prevent it is not with the Bacille Calmette Guering (BCG) vaccine except on a limited scale, U.S. Surgeon General William H. Stewart says.

The BCG recommendations resulted from a meeting of an 11-member panel at the U.S. Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, and were reported in the Medical News section of the Journal of the American Medical Assn.

The 1966 special panel's recommendations state that BCG should be reserved for situations when "modern methods for detection, isolation and treatment by drugs cannot be applied. BCG should be used for the uninfected person or small groups of uninfected individuals living in unavoidable contact with one or more uncontrolled infectious persons who cannot or will not obtain or accept supervised treatment."

$2,500 Worth Of House Items Taken

While Bernard Anker, 29, of 1274 Denlyn Street, Novato was having Thanksgiving dinner away from home, burglars took approximately $2,500 in household items from his house, according to Novato police.

Missing were a portable television, radio, sewing machine, movie camera, typewriter, radio, stereo record albums and jewelry and watches, police reported. Entry was through a rear door.

Auto Parts Stolen

Theft of vehicle parts worth $75 was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Harold W. Clements, 57 Meadow Drive. Tachometer, oil pressure and ampere gauges were taken from his locked car while it was parked in his driveway, he said.

Lumber Export Meeting Set

Special to the I-J

EUREKA — A conference on lumber export for California's north coast wood products industry will be held here Dec. 16.

The one-day meeting in the Eureka Inn, will bring together experts in overseas marketing from the industry and government agencies in this country and Canada, said William A. Dost, conference chairman and forest products specialist, University of California Agricultural Extension Service. Sponsors are the University and Humboldt State College.

Subjects to be discussed include financing, insurance, foreign freight forwarding and documentation, international lumber trade, plywood exports, and assistance available from federal and other sources.

U.C. Builds New Gear For Sea Floor Maps

Special to the I-J

SAN DIEGO—A complex sea-floor mapping instrument and its accompanying underwater navigation system have been used successfully by the Scripps University of California here.

The 1,200-pound, four-foot-long instrument is called FISH, short for Fully Instrumented Submersible Housing.

The system, built by Scripps under Navy contracts, will allow the Navy to cope more effectively with problems such as those posed by the search for the nuclear submarine "Thresher" in the North Atlantic in 1963, or for the hydrogen bomb off the coast of Spain earlier this year.

New Pickup Truck Taken From Drive

Someone took a 1966 model pickup truck from his driveway at 1547 Center Road, Novato, between 8 p.m. yesterday and 6 a.m. today, Thomas Alvan Lacy, 44, reported to Novato police.

The pickup belonged to Harold Taylor of 22 Diamond Head Passage, Corte Madera, according to police. The keys had been left in the truck police reported.

TELEVISION REVIEW

CBS Kills Off Moore's Show

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —CBS-TV formally, finally and publicly killed its big turkey, the new one-hour Garry Moore series, on Thanksgiving Day.

The final broadcast of the weekly Sunday night program will be on Jan. 8. On Feb. 5, the air time will be taken over by the Smothers Brothers in a variety series of their own. Between Jan. 8 and Feb. 5, CBS-TV will present three specials in the current Moore slot.

You may recall that the Smothers Brothers had a misconceived half-hour situation comedy series on the same network last season. Naturally enough, they portrayed a couple of brothers —one a young executive here on earth (that was Dick, the straight man), and the other a deceased fellow who returns as a sort of fumbling angel (that was Tom, the funny one).

Unfortunately, the series simply wasn't tailored properly to the talented boys. The stories were just too leaden anf farfetched, and only Tom's fumbling occasionally saved them from total disaster.

The spot the Smothers Brothers now will inherit from Moore is, as the excellent clinche has it, one that you wouldn't give to a leopard. It is opposite the most successful series in television in terms of ratings, NBC-TV's "Bonanza," and also is in direct competition with the first half of ABC-TV's Sunday Night Movies.

Nevertheless, the Smothers Brothers, showcased properly, are a uniquely entertaining pair. They have won a wide following with their takeoffs on folk songs, especially because of Tom's wild, precise verbal fumbling. One television host summed them up nicely in these general terms: he didn't know exactly how to describe what they had, but nobody could ever steal it.

The Moore series was one of the most obvious and embarrassing failures on television in years. It got murdered by both the ratings and the critics. There is an expression in video that "they never come back' '—that former stars don't return as successful as they once were. There are exceptions to everything, of course, but both Moore and Milton Berle, whose ABC-TV series also is cancelled, are illustrations this season. The Berle show, however, was often entertaining, but had station clearance problems.

The Moore show started off with a comedy format mainly involving young humorists, and promptly died. A new producer tried gamely to come up with different ideas —straight variety with name stars, upcoming all-circus and all-magic hours, and last Sunday a condensed version of "High Button Shoes" which came off badly. The series began this season with its executive producer Sylvester (Pat) Weaver, former NBC president who initiated such creative endeavors as radio's "Monitor" program. He also was the boss of the ill-fated Subscription Television Inc. firm that attempted pay-TV here in California.

Gas Line Breaks

A break in a gas line in the 200 block of Molino Avenue was reported early today to Mill Valley police by Dr. Jack Saylor, 291 Molino Avenue. A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said a coupling was broken by the weight of a new retaining wall. Service was not interrupted to any customer, he said.

Met Manager Blasts Union

NEW YORK (AP) — General Manager Rudolph Bing says that the Metropolitan Opera's glittering new house will be plunged in darkness if the Met's orchestra members carry out a threat to strike.

Calling the musicians "the Metropolitan's would-be grave-diggers," he accused them of "effrontery" and "total irresponsibility" and said they were "jeopardizing the very existence" of the company.

Bing's blast came yesterday in response to a warning by the musicians' adviser, labor negotiator Herbert Gray, that the orchestra might walk out unless the Met management sat down "in good faith" to iron out final details in their new contract.

Overseas Executives Not Second-Raters

Special to the I-J

LOS ANGELES—Contrary to the opinion of many in the business world, Americans serving overseas executives are not second-raters.

In fact, by a number of criteria, the overseas executives score higher than their domestic counterparts, according to Dr. Anant R. Negandhi, assistant professor of business administration at UCLA.

In a survey of more than 1,100 over-seas executives Dr. Negandhi found that they rated higher in social, family, occupational and educational background.

MORRIS IS BACK!

Back to the "Good Old Days"

In 1961 the importation of the Morris Minor was halted after twelve successful years. It was felt the Morris was too old fashioned for the American market. This year it is back again and for a very good reason. The Morris was built to give safe and economical transportation. The Morris did this job so well that Morris owners insisted on holding on to their cars even when they became eight and ten years old. They of course could never understand why the car was discontinued in this market, and it is basically because of their loyalty and enthusiasm that the Morris is back again. We are also happy to report that during its absence it has had no superfluous face lifting—only dozens of solid improvements designed to give even better safety and economy. The reasons for buying a Morris are as follows: 1. Low initial price; 2. Economy of operation; 3. Reliability and long life; and last—high resale value. What more is needed?

OPEN SAT. and SUN. NOON to MIDNIGHT—DEALERS BRING RESALE NUMBERS

San Rafael, Marin Catholic, Tam Win Cage Openers

With a four-game night of mixed results already under their belts, Marin County Athletic League teams go a little deeper into their 1966-67 schedule with a three-game non-league slate tonight and a single game tomorrow night.

In Wednesday's action, San Rafael trimmed Sonoma, 52-35 at San Rafael; Redwood lost to powerful Washington of San Francisco at Redwood, 55-71; and Tamalpais anr Marin Catholic topped alumni teams, 43-40, and 73-52, respectively.

Terra Linda makes its debut tonight against Healdsburg at Terra Linda at 8 o'clock, San Rafael meets Napa at Napa, Marin Catholic hosts Lick-Wilmerding and Redwood visits Santa Rosa. Novato takes on Hogan at Vallejo tomorrow night.

John Farrar with 10 points and Rich Schau and Roger Widmer with eight each helped the San Rafael Bulldogs past Sonoma.

The Marin Catholic Wildcats got a 26-point performance from Rick Garms, a 6-1 junior who came off the bench. The big victory marked the first time that the Wildcat varsity had triumphed over an alumni team in three years.

Junior Ches Bornia and forward Jim Ingrassia helped out with 12 points each, while Paul Dickers contributed six assists and soph Dan Fouts turned in a promising performance.

Tam coach Bernie Schneider let everybody play and it almost proved the Indians' undoing as they had to stave off an alumni rally to win.

Ron Blasingame and Pat Schafer with seven points each paced the varsity while Connie Hoetger led the alumni and all scorers with 19 points.

The Giants got some good performances out of Jack Fitzhenry (18 points and 14 rebounds), Jim Mark (15 points) and Andre Horn (14 points) but could not overcome 6-6 Mack Johnson, and his teammates. Johnson, an all-city center last year, pushed in 26 points.

Al Fritz had 12 rebounds for Redwood.

49ers Romp; Hot Lions Turn Into Cold Turkeys

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

49er Coach Reads I-J; He Got Team Hungry For Thanksgiving

HUNGER PANGS — It's like I was telling the both of you just the other day; The 49ers aren't hungry enough to win a championship. It's either a feast or famine with them. "The hungry survive; the content fall," is the way I remember putting it in my Monday pitch for a Pulitzer.

Well, you'd better believe Jack Christiansen of Palo Alto reads the ol' I-J avidly. I understand from my peninsula agents that Happy Jack picked the local blatter off the lawn Monday evening, turned immediately to the Sports Section to devour my words of wisdom, slapped his forehead and gushed to his next-door neighbor: "That's it! By Jim, By Golly, By Gilly, that is it! My players aren't hungry. Remind me to send old Shamus a thank you note and a bouquet of red roses for Christmas."

WITH THAT, the head coach of the 49ers rushed off to training camp and slapped a lock on the reefer. "No victory, no turkey," he told his troops.

Thus, it was a starving gang of Prospectors you saw on television yesterday morning while mom was slaving away in the kitchen. Seldom has a team looked better—or hungrier—than our favorite pros in the process of carving up the Lions, 41-14 which is a funny score because when you read it backwards it comes out the same. (Ha-Ha. I took my clever pills this morning.)

EXCEPT FOR just a few teensie-weensie mistakes, like three intercepted passes and a 79-yard punt return, our gang played a flawless game. Particularly in the front wall, where they separate the men from the boys. Our lineman played hungrier than the backs because they're bigger and have bigger tummies to fill. They earned double helpings of everything.

Man, the way they blocked and tackled they would have whupped Green Bay, Notre Dame and Michigan State before breakfast.

THAT 49ER defense applied a rushin' dressing to the turkey, who was rookie Lion quarterback Karl Sweetan. After chasing him all over the Sovereign State of Michigan and catching him consistently, I heard one 49er tackler say to the other, "Make a wish." There are now two Karl Sweetans. Twins.

IT IS difficult to single out an individual star because they all had huge appetites.

Even the Detroit crowd was rooting for the 49ers to win. I heard them chant "Hold that Lion, Hold that Lion!" And that's exactly what our starving troops did. The Lions were held to 47 yards rushing. Shucks, our Ken Willard STUMBLED that far. He's going to be a great one before he hangs 'em up. Yesterday was his second straight 100-yard performance. Wait 'til next year. And with Dave Kopay and Gary Lewis in the wings to fill in for the aging John David Crow, we're set for running backs for years.

THE WAY our offensive line, led by John Thomas and Bruce Bosley, manhandled that ferocious Lion defensive line, also was heartening. When you rush for 214 yards and pass for 272 against a team like the Lions, you've got some hard-nosed blockers.

TIME IS running out, but we still have an excellent shot at that Runner-Up Bowl. I'm confident of home victories over Baltimore and Chicago and a complete performance like yesterday should beat Green Bay in Milwaukee Dec. 4. This adds up to an 8-4-2 record, which should earn a trip to Miami in January. That would be the 49ers' first bowl performance and also there best record since the 8-4 mark in 1957.

LET US hope that John-John Brodie flushed the pass interception problem out of his system with those three yesterday.

Royals, Bulls Swap Players

CINCINNATI (AP) —The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. traded reserve George Wilson to the Chicago Bulls Friday for Lenney Chappell. It was a straight player transaction.

Chappell, a Wake Forest graduate in his fifth year in the NBA was acquired to help bolster Cincinnati's pivot position.

He stands 6-foot-8 and weighs 245 and has a scoring average of 5.2 in 18 games this year. He previously played with Syracuse, Philadelphia and New York and was acquired by the Bulls in the expansion draft when the Chicago club was admitted to the league.

Wilson, a native of Chicago and a university of Cincinnati graduate, also is 6-8 and started with the Royals in the 1964-65 season.

WHEN IT STILL LOOKED GOOD

The Oakland Raiders' Billy Cannon (33) takes a pass at the goal line from quarterback Tom Flores in the first period against Buffalo yesterday at Oakland Coliseum. That kept the Raiders in contention but the roof fell in later as Buffalo, with an eye to the Eastern Division title in the NFL, won 31-10. Story on page 30.

Navy Choice Over Army; Irish Picked Over USC

Annual Service Classic On Nat'l TV Tomorrow

By WILL GRIMSLY

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — "We've got to win this game," Don Downing, Navy's 230-pound linebacker and captain from Lorain, Ohio, said today. "We can't let another class graduate without a star on their football letters."

The little-publicized but highly-cherished emblem will be one of the main driving forces behind the Midshipmen tomorrow in their 67th service battle against Army before a sellout crowd of 100,000 and a national television audience at Philadelphia 10:30 a.m., PST, ABC-TV.

The star is attached to the varsity letter of the player who has been a member of a team that whipped Army.

"The last class to be graduated without getting a star was the class of 1949," Downing recalled. "Every senior knows that unless we win Saturday we will be the next. It would be a memory hard to live with."

When Downing and the rest of his senior class were sophomores, in 1964, Army beat Navy 11-8, the first Cadet victory since 1958. Last year the two teams fought to a 7-7 tie.

Army holds an edge in the colorful classic, dating back to 1890, with a 31-29-6 advantage but the Black Knights of the Hudson have found the going much rougher in the past 15 years, Navy winning nine, losing four and tieing two.

The Midshipmen are three-point favorites in tomorrow's game although Army has the superior mark this season with a 7-2 record compared with Navy's 4-5.

"There is not as big a disparity in the records as it seems," said Coach Bill Elias of Navy. "We felt we should have beaten both the Air Force and Duke — but we didn't. And Army won

Both Sides Have Great Incentive In L.A. Tilt

By ALEX KAHN

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Notre Dame opened its season by beating one team that was selected for the Rose Bowl, Purdue, and the Irish close their season tomorrow against the other Rose Bowl team, Southern California.

Although battered and bruised from the 10-10 tie with Michigan State last weekend, the Irish still were two-touchdown favorites to end their campaign with a victory and to emerge as the uncrowned king of the Rose Bowl.

The incentive was strong on both sides. Southern California goes into the game hoping to prove that its selection to represent the west in the bowl was justified. The Trojans were picked despite losing 14-7 to UCLA last Saturday.

Notre Dame, which does not participate in post-season games, hopes a decisive win over USC will move the Irish back into first place in the national ratings, a spot they lost, due to the Michigan State tie, in the UPI coaches selections.

Both teams had injury problems but those confronting Notre Dame appeared greater. Southern California will be without the services of quarterback Troy Winslow who suffered a leg injury in the UCLA game.

The Irish again will be without their sensational sophomore quarterback, Terry Hanratty. In addition, Nick Eddy was a doubtful starter at halfback although he may play some. And the other halfback, Bob Bleier, was out with a kidney injury.

Coach Ara Parseghian's halfback problem also was compounded by the injury of Bob Gladieux who was a doubtful performer.

As a result, the Irish could

HELMS OF CINCY ROOKIE OF YEAR

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Helms of the Cincinnati Reds, a shortstop in the minors, a second baseman in the spring and a third baseman in the summer, has been named National League Rookie of the Year by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

A 20-man committee, composed of two writers from each National League city, gave Helms 12 votes.

Sonny Jackson, Houston shortstop, was second with three votes, followed by Tito Fuentes, San Francisco shortstop, with two votes. The remaining votes were divided among Cleon Jones, New York Mets' center fielder; Randy Hundley, Chicago Cubs' catcher, and Larry Jaster, St. Louis pitcher. Each got one.

Helms was the third Cincinnati player to win the honor. Pete Rose, current Cincinnati second baseman, took the award in 1963, and Frank Robinson, whose trade to Baltimore last winter brought such dramatic success to the Orioles, won in 1956. The top rookie in 1965 was Jim Lefebvre, Los Angeles Dodger second baseman.

S.F. Line Tough In 41-14 Triumph

By WHITEY SAWYER

DETROIT (AP)—The bubble burst for the Detroit Lions.

You could say John Brodie pricked it by completing 14 of 26 passes for 253 yards and two touchdowns. Or that Ken Willard did it by thundering through the Detroit line for 114 yards on 20 carries. Or that Dave Kopay was responsible by catching a 24-yard touchdown pass, recovering a Detroit fumble and then running 32 yards for another T.D.

But the fact is that the San Francisco 49er front walls—both offensive and defensive — smashed the bubble of three games without defeat for the Detroit Lions.

The 49ers turned the National Football League Thanksgiving Day feature into a 41-14 rout.

Sweetan was thrown three times for 26 yards lost while trying to pass.

Offensive lineman John Gordy said, "They used an odd alignment and stunted a lot. They shifted their strength onto our weakness. We were flat and didn't do a very good job of adjusting."

Defensive linebacker Wayne Walker said, "They just knocked heck out of us running right straight at us."

"We had man on man blocking and Ken Willard was running the heck out of Detroit, that was the story," San Francisco Coach Jack Christiansen said. And, he said, the offensive line contained Alex Karras and Roger Brown. "John Thomas and Bruce Bosley had the job of handling Karras and Brown and they did it real well," he said.

"We didn't hit from the very beginning," said Lion Coach Harry Gilmer. "We were as flat as could be and didn't hit anybody offensively or defensively."

The 49ers drove to a field goal in nine plays the first time they the ball, with Brodie hitting Bernie Casey for 20 yards and Dave Parks for 19 in the drive. Tommy Davis kicked a 14-yard field goal.

San Francisco quickly got a touchdown when Mike Dowdle picked off a Sweetan pass and ran 27 yards for a touchdown.

Detroit got back in the game when Johnny Robinson ran a punt back 79 yards to score.

The Lions went ahead when Sweetan hit Ron Kramer with a 69-yard pass play to the San Francisco eight, the longest in Kramer's career. Tom Nowatzke scored from the one just after the second period opened.

But Brodie hit John David Crow with a 54-yard pass play to set up a 10-yard field goal by Davis. Then San Francisco got a touchdown on a 58-yard drive. Willard ran for 17 yards in one burst in the drive. Brodie hit Kopay with a 24-yard scoring pass.

San Francisco turned it into a rout in the third period with two quick touchdowns. One came on a drive that went 60 yards in five plays with Dave Parks catching a 45-yard TD pass. Then Robinson dropped a punt and Kopay recovered for the 49ers on the Detroit 25. A penalty pushed San Francisco back, but Kopay ran 32 yards for the score.

Brodie went to the sidelines and George Mira took over the helm late in the fourth quarter and engineered another touchdown. Gary Lewis got it from the one.

The Lion rushing? Sweetan, who called himself twice with long yardage needed, got 19 yards on three tries. Amos Marsh ran once for 14 yards, Bobby Felts five times for one yard and Tom Nowatzke nine times for 13.

Vet Collars Barry, 76ers Top Warriors

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Veteran Dave Gambee showed youthful Rick Barry a few defensive tricks in the National Basketball Assn. Thanksgiving night.

Barry reeled 27 points in the first half for the San Francisco Warriors against the Philadelphia 76ers, but in the third period the 29-year-old Gambee held him to just one field goal and the 76ers opened a 22-point lead to beat the Warriors 140-123.

The victory kept the 76ers one game ahead of the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Division. The Celtics whipped the St. Louis Hawks 101-78 in the other NBA holiday game scheduled.

Barry, former Miami, Fla., star in his second pro season, finished with 36 points, but was handcuffed by Gambee, former Oregon State luminary, in the second half.

High scorer for the 76ers on their home court in Philadelphia was Big Wilt Chamberlain with 27 points. Billy Cunningham and Wally Jones chipped in with 20 each.

Rookie Lou Hudson from Minnesota led the Hawks with 20 points, all of them in the second half.

HANLEY

DETROIT—When William Clay Ford signed Garo Yepremian to a professional football contract six weeks ago, Detroit fans asked: "Who's he?" They soon found out. So did the rest of National Football League fans.

FORD, WHO BOUGHT the Detroit franchise three years ago with $6 million of the many millions he inherited from his grandfather Henry Ford, wasn't indulging himself in a whim just because he had played soccer at Yale and Yepremian was a soccer player.

YEPREMIAN TRIED four field goals against the 49ers and the Kezar crowd of 36,745 hooted when he missed three of them from 35, 41 and 43 yards. He did make one from 30 yards good with a side kick off the instep of his left foot. His other attempts hooked to the left of his target. They cost the Lions a 27-24 loss to the 49ers.

Yepremian, a young man of 22, was very depressed after that game but Ford didn't fire him. Ford had faith in his prodigy and Yepremian justified it a couple of weeks ago when he kicked an unprecedented six field goals, four of them in one quarter, in Detroit's squeaking 32-31 win over Minnesota's Vikings.

THEN LAST SUNDAY Yepremian booted two field goals in Detroit's 20-14 upset of the Baltimore Colts, the same team against whom Yepremian made his NFL debut on Oct. 16.

It not only was Yepremian's NFL debut it was the first pro game he ever attended. And it well might have been his last had it not been for merciful Colts who couldn't find it in their heart to decommission Yepremian as he innocently stooped to pick up the kicking tee after his game-opening kickoff.

NOBODY HAD TOLD Yepremian that he was legitimate prey for on-rushing enemy giants. Since then he has learned to get out of the way.

"HOW ABOUT NO. 11?" interposed Roy Macklem, Lion equipment manager. "It's supposed to be lucky."

"I'd rather be the best than lucky," said Yepremian. "Could you give me No. 1?"

The Lions could . . . and did.

EVEN THOUGH HE now literally is No. 1 in NFL records with his six-for-six field goals, Yepremian isn't satisfied.

"Being the best in one game is nice," he said. "But I want to be the best kicker in the league . . . the best ever. Until that six-for-six game, I had made only one kick in six tries. That was awful. I was ashamed of myself."

Bills Crush Oakland's Title Chances

By JACK STEVENSON

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Raiders tell you it's tough to run against the Buffalo Bills who've moved closer to top honors a third straight year in the American Football League.

In a game billed as a "must" for both Buffalo and Oakland on Thanksgiving Day, it was the Bills by a 31 - 10 count after their defense provided the turning point in the fifth straight victory.

Clem Daniels went nowhere on his first try. He went a yard backward in the arms of Harry Jacobs on the second.

Oakland Coach John Rauch decided on a field goal try and although Mike Eischeid made it good from the eight, Oakland had its final points. The Bills evened the count and went ahead by halftime.

Victory for Buffalo virtually assured Kansas City the title in the West since the Chiefs stand 8-2-1 while the second place Raiders dropped to 7-5.

Buffalo went to 8-3-1 and a solid lead over Boston which stands 5-3-2 and New York at 5-4-1.

In games Sunday, San Diego plays at Denver, Kansas City at New York and Boston at Miami. Buffalo meets Boston on Dec. 4 on the Patriots home field in what could be the Eastern decider.

The Raiders netted only 58 yards rushing against the big Buffalo forward wall while fullback Wray Carlton alone ran for 97 against the Raiders and he scored two touchdowns, on runs of 11 and 2 yards.

Oakland quarterback Flores had more success against the defense as he hit 17 of 30 passes for 286 yards and one touchdown—a 16-yard throw to Billy Cannon which opened the scoring.

Buffalo quarterback Jack Kemp had a touchdown throw of 26 to rookie halfback Bob Burnett and also a 52-yard gainer on a throw to Bobby Crockett reaching Oakland's four. Jack Spikes went over from the one moments later.

All told the veteran signal caller hit 14 of 29 for 241.

In addition to scoring the two touchdowns, Carlton set up the 19-yard field goal by Booth Lusteg. The veteran fullback from Duke carried four times for a net of 37 moving into scoring position.

Texas Wins Bluebonnet Bowl Berth

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas beat Texas A&M for the 10th straight time yesterday, accepted a bid to play Mississippi in the Bluebonnet Bowl and found that its season had turned out very well under strained circumstances.

The Longhorns beat the Aggies 22-14 as sophomore Bill Bradley directed them on four scoring drives before suffering a partly dislocated left shoulder that might keep him out of the Bluebonnet Bowl.

But Bradley has played all season with an injured knee. He was one of the many Longhorns hurt during the campaign, which saw Texas lose four games.

However, the finish was good and the Longhorns will take a 6-4 record to the 15th bowl game in which Texas has appeared. It also is the eighth for Darrell Royal in 10 seasons as coach.

Bradley ran six yards for the first Texas touchdown and David Conway converted. The Aggies came back with a touchdown by Bill Sallee on a one-yard smash, but Glynn Lindsey missed the conversion and Texas led 7-6.

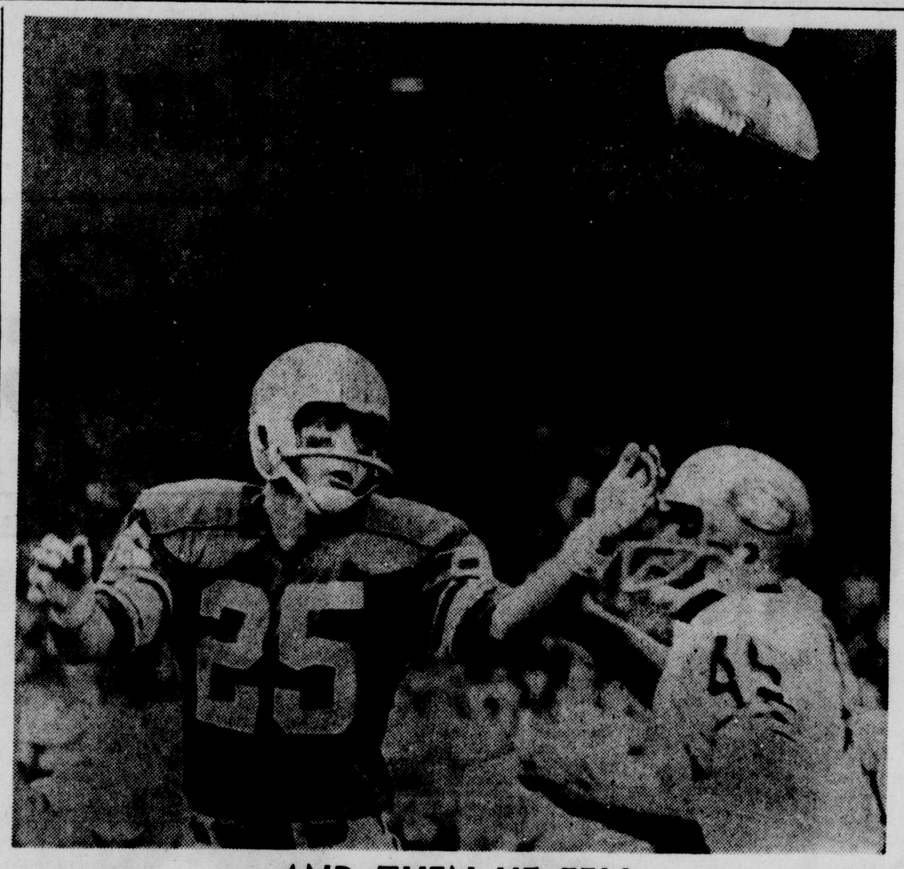

Bradley passed 61 yards to Tom Higgins for the next Texas touchdown and Conway again kicked the point. Conway booted two field goals in the third period, one from 30 yards and the other 27.

Texas got its final points on a safety when John Elliott downed Aggie quarterback Charley Riggs in the end zone.

Then Riggs passed and ran the Aggies for a touchdown and passed for the two-point conversion, leaving A&M only eight points behind. The Aggies failed on an onside kick, however, and they never could muster a drive after that.

Chris Gilbert, Texas sophomore backfield star, ran for 137 yards to gain third place in the all-time Southwest Conference rushing records. He finished with 1,099 yards in 10 games.

If Southern Methodist should lose to Texas Christian at Fort Worth Saturday, SMU, Arkansas and Texas would tie for the title. In that event Arkansas would get the Cotton Bowl host spot.

AND THEN HE FELL

Nebraska Jolted By Oklahoma '11'

NORMAN (AP) — "It's a great profession when you're a winner," sighed Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie, whose Sooners turned the upset of Thanksgiving Day by flooring nationally fourth ranked Nebraska, 10-9.

It was Mackenzie who midway through the third quarter stared into the saddened eyes of kicking specialist Mike Vachon.

"Vachon," he said, "We'll get you another chance."

A national television audience which observers said numbered over 56 million persons saw the bruising running game of previously unbeaten Nebraska and the quickness of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma's winning field goal snapped a 19-regular season game victory string for the Big Eight Champion Cornhuskers, and it marked the second time in three years the Sooners have spoiled the record of a bowl-bound Nebraska team. In 1964 the 'Huskers headed to the Cotton Bowl, and this year will meet Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

The Sooners, to Mackenzie's great surprise, threw only four times, and completed the whole bunch for 104 yards.

It was a 48-yard pass play from quarterback Bob Warmack to wingback Eddie Hinton that got the Sooners a second quarter lead and which nulilfied a 28-yard field goal by Larry Wachholtz.

Nebraska came back in the third quarter for its only score, with Dick Davis plowing over from the two. But Bobby Stephenson, a halfback moved to end on extra point defenses, ripped untouched into the Cornhusker backfield and slammed down the conversion attempt.

Then, after the Sooners shoved goalward and Vachon missed on a 23-yard attempt, Oklahoma got the ball back at its 24 and pushed to victory.

Nebraska had little time to regroup, but the Cornhuskers charged to just past midfield before a Sooner pass interception on the final play of the game.

Asked at a post-game press conference if the Nebraska victory was sweeter than the triumph over Texas earlier this season, Mackenzie answered: "This one was seen by over 50 million people. And besides, it's getting close to recruiting time."

The triumph may have put the Sooners in a good position for a bid to the Liberty Bowl, and Mackenzie said at his press conference he was "most interested" in a bid.

Bowl spokesmen said the Liberty Bowl opposite Miami of Florida had been offered to Arkansas, but the Razorbacks still are in position to snare the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

SMU, which currently leads the Southwest Conference, can get the Cotton Bowl bid if it beats TCU Saturday, but if TCU wins, then Arkansas will represent the SWC.

Army will send a sophomore quarterback, Steve Lindell of Princeton, Minn., against the Midshipmen, who will be guided on the field by junior John Cartwright of Sharon, Pa.

Both teams have tough defensive units, Navy headed by Downing and Army by 210-pound Townsend Clarke, also a linebacker and captain from Newport, R.I.

"The tenseness preceding an Army-Navy game is unlike that found in any other game," Downing said. "I can't describe it. From the very beginning of the season you can't get Army off your mind.

"I know I tried to. I'd say to myself, 'take them a game at a time,' but it was foolish. I couldn't — none of the guys could. We kept looking ahead to Army.

"Then after the Vanderbilt game two weeks ago; it hit us. We knew only Army was ahead. Everybody on the team was more spirited. We worked harder, we hit harder, we thought more—it was electric.

"That's the way it is in the Army-Navy game but this time it means more than ever to me and the other seniors. It's our last chance to get a star."

Southern California, however, has shown defensive strength all season also. The Trojan defenses are built around Adrian Young, Nate Shaw, Ray May, Tim Rossovich and Gary Magner.

Coach John McKay has a 2-4 record against Notre Dame in six seasons at the Trojan helm. Parseghian is 1-1 in two seasons. The series edge belongs to Notre Dame, 24-11-2.

The game was expected to be a virtual sellout in Memorial Coliseum with a crowd of more than 90,000 expected for the 1 p.m. kickoff.

standing second base-shortstop combo a few years back, he moved to second base last spring. Don Heffner, then the manager, had Leo Cardenas at short and decided to switch Rose to third and play Helms at second.

The switch affected Rose's play and he was returned to second in early season. Helms took over at third and did a fine job. The 25-year-old rookie from Charlotte, N.C. hit .284 with 23 doubles, one triple and 9 homers included among his 154 hits. He drove in 49 runs and stole three bases. He recently made a trip to South America with a group of players to play games against a Japanese team.

Jackson had an outstanding year at shortstop for the Astros, hitting .292 and stealing 49 bases. An injury put him out of action in midseason but he came back strong. Sonny finished second to Lou Brock's league-leading total of 74 stolen bases.

Fuentes wound up with a .261 average for San Francisco. Although he did play 26 games for the Giants in 1965 he still was a rookie under the rules.

Jones hit .275 and set a Met record with 16 stolen bases.

Hundley slammed 19 homers while batting .236 for the Giants and Jaster, who won fame by shutting out the Dodgers five times, wound up with 11-5 for the year.

Redwood 'B' Cagers Win

Redwood High School's "B" basketball team downed Healdsburg, 46-33 as Skip Corsini scored 16 points and George Shaffer hauled down 15 rebounds at Redwood Wednesday.

Starting guard Bob Crossley suffered a broken wrist during the game and will be out until the start of league play in January.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Opening Weekend Rains Should Mean More Pheasants Available

STEVENS

So the season on pheasants opened last Saturday—so it rained—so the bully boys who had awaited the opening of the seeason on ringnecks — tramped the rice checks, trudged through the sticky mud and mire, and blamed the weather, the early harvesting of crops (reducing the cover for the birds to a bare minimum) for the low scores they made. Too bad, but that's hunting, you know. Still a chance to make the grade between now and Dec. 1.

In fact, from where I sit, chances look better because of the poor opener. It always has been tough to register with limit-kills for a day after the season opens. Most oldtimers stayed away on the second and third day—waited for the excitement to abate; they waited until the following weekend or at least for three days before venturing forth.

SO, CHEER UP my hearties, you may yet stick a tailfeather in your hat.

It was not only the scattergunners who were stymied by adverse conditions. The angling addicts didn't fare much better. The lads and lassies who worked the middle and upper Sacramento River areas (and braved the damp and dismal weather) didn't make the grade either. Some steelies were landed, but the expected runs of salmon failed to show up.

AS EXPECTED, THE coast streams (tide-water streams) were high and badly colored. The upper Klamath region had hoped for rain to activate the fish (mainly steelhead) and did not expect a deluge, but that's what they got.

Jim Roads of the Klamath River Guide Service suggested a phone call be made to his headquarters at Happy Camp to learn conditions before making the long drive.

I NOTE ON my calendar that a bang-up bass derby will be staged by the Castro Valley Rod and Gun Club on Saturday and Sunday. I understand this derby is open to all comers who purchase a ticket as entry fee. The first five cash prizes will go to the five largest fish. There will also be a door prize with the winner walking away with a portable TV and stand. Any and all members of this aggressive sports club are entitled to get additional tickets to sell by contacting Larry Henderson. Good thing this derby was not held last weekend.

ACCORDING TO weather reports we will have a much milder weekend. Here's hoping for a very successful non-profit bass derby. If no harsh conditions, both hunting and fishing should be rewarding. To prognosticate, I am convinced that all waters above the Martinez Bridge to Rio Vista will be prime if we have a fair weekend.

Pros Blister Toughened Cajun Course

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — After 56 pros carded sub-par rounds on the first 18 holes of the 1965 Cajun Classic golf tourney, host pro Luca Barbato decided his Oakbourne Country Club course needed a few more trees, water hazards and bunkers.

The alterations were ready when the pros attacked Oakbourne yesterday for this year's first round in the Cajun Classic —the last stop of the year on the PGA national tour.

Just about every pro who played in the tourney before will admit that the layout is tougher this year and also in superb condition.

What happened?

There were 62 sub-par rounds yesterday under almost perfect playing conditions—near cloudless skies, little wind and 75-degree plus temperatures — as Bert Yancey and Chuck Courtney took the lead with seven-under par 65s.

"I know it's tougher," said Barbato. "Look, I even got a double bogey when I went into a lake on No. 6."

Barbato carded a 73 and must scramble to make the 36-hole cut.

The pros surviving the cut today will probably have to card a three-under 141 for 36 holes.

"It's hard to walk but it doesn't bother my golf," said the 26-year-old Minnesota native who won the St. Paul Open in 1964 but slumped last year.

Yancey won his first tour victory this year in the Azalea Open and since then has taken titles at the Memphis and Portland Open. If the 24-year-old blond belter from Florida can win the Cajun Classic he will tie Billy Casper for the most victories by a pro for 1966.

Yancey, who said he played "the best putting round I ever had," knocked in an 18-footer for an eagle three on No. 13 and on the front side had four birdies in a row at Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Argentina Masters

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Roberto De Vicenzo and four other Argentina pros tied for the first round lead yesterday in the Argentina Masters Golf Tournament with two-under-par 68s.

Bob McCallister of Corona, Calif., topped the foreign players with a 35-36—71. Jim Ferreee of Savannah, Ga., had a 36-36—72 and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco 37-37—74.

A Strange Year In J. C. Football

It was the kind of year that produces haunting, recurring nightmares in the Golden Valley Conference.

More games were decided by less than a quarter of a touchdown, the space of a second or two, the wrong motion at the wrong time, or the big play, than anybody would care to remember.

Napa lost three games by 10 points. Santa Rosa lost four by 18 points. Marin College missed the championship by a total of nine points, lost three games by 11 points. The title was decided by one point.

After all that, you find coaches lying awake at night in a cold sweat, seeing deciding plays over and over. Or others might kneel down and thank that great Coach in the sky or wherever for deeming them fortunate.

The big surprise was Sierra coming out of the depths of a winless season to squeak through the conference undefeated and winning the title on the strength of a last second, 96-yard touchdown against Santa Rosa, a three-point victory over the Tars and a one-point, 13-12 win over Shasta.

And College of Marin coach Dick Reed could very well say, "There but for the grace of a break go I."

Reed was naturally disappointed over the final showing of the Tars in the conference (2-3) but was generally pleased with their performance throughout the year.

"We tried something we've never done before this year when we used the double wing T," he said. "I was pleased with the results. We got a lot of mileage out of our passing and our running was improving with every game.

"Yes, it was frustrating to lose those games like that," he said. "We could have won the championship just as easily. But this has been the best balance I've seen in the league since I've been coaching Marin.

"I felt our passing gave everybody a lot of problems," he said. "Simontacchi did an excellent job throwing. There was a stretch there when we averaged over 400 yards total offense a game."

The Tars will lose Al Simontacchi, an all-league quarterback, who, once the statistics are totaled up, will undoubtedly have set several school passing records, along with his top receiver, all-league end Honor Jackson.

But Jackson, along with an excellent backfield of Dick Otis, Horace White, Donnie Smith and Joe De Masi, will return, giving Reed at least the promise of another shot at the title that has thus far eluded him.

Jackson topped Marin receivers in league play with 23 catches and White was the top rusher with an 8-yard average.

DALLAS BEATS BROWNS

Cowboys Draw Bead On First NFL Title

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Meredith is calling his shots again and the Dallas Cowboys are drawing a bead on their first division title in the National Football League.

Meredith, intercepted four times in an early-season loss to Cleveland, picked the Browns' defense apart yesterday, driving the Cowboys to a 26-14 victory that sent them into first place in the NFL's Eastern Division stretch race.

The victory moved Dallas one-half game ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals, who take on improved Pittsburgh Sunday without No. 1 quarterback Charley Johnson, who's out for the year with a damaged knee.

Meredith completed 16 of 24 passes for 131 yards and one touchdown, directed another touchdown drive and set up two of Danny Villanueva's four field goals with his passing and running. "I thought Meredith called a great game," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry. "He mixed his plays very well and kept a balanced game going."

The Dallas signal-caller, who has overcome a string of mid-season interceptions in leading the Cowboys back into the Eastern lead, is confident they'll nail their first division crown since coming into the NFL six years ago. "We expect to win it," he said. "We have three games to go and we'll just have to win them all."

SUNDAY GAMES

Sunday, in addition to the Steelers-Cardinals scrap at St. Louis, the Green Bay Packers are at Minnesota, the Los Angeles Rams at Baltimore, the Atlanta Falcons at Chicago and the Giants at Washington.

Dallas, beaten seven straight times by the Browns and 11 times in 12 previous meetings, overcame a 14-13 halftime deficit yesterday to hand the defending Eastern champions their fourth setback in 11 starts. Villaneuva booted 12 and 13-yard field goals in the third quarter and Don Perkins, who carried for 111 yards in all, capped a 69-yard fourth-quarter march with a 10-yard scoring jaunt.

Meredith's six-yard payoff pitch to Dan Reeves in the second quarter was his 23rd TD pass of the season — tops in the league.

Leroy Kelly, who led the Cleveland ball-carriers with 115 yards, plunged a yard for the Browns' first touchdown and Frank Ryan passed 16 yards to Ernie Green for the other.

Ryan, however, was thrown six times for losses by the Dallas defenders, led by tackle Bob Lilly.

Miss Ferraris, Three Others Tie For Golfing Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Peggy Kirk Bell, Jan Ferraris, Judy Kimball and Mary Mills carded 73s yesterday to lead first-round play in th 2e7th annual Titleholders Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Bell, of Southern Pines, N.C., a golfing veteran, put together a 36 and a 37 on the par 72 course. Miss Ferraris, of San Francisco, who turned pro only in July, carded a 35 and a 83.

Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Kimball had 38s on the front nine, improving with 35s on the back nine.

Virginia Tech Rolls Past VMI, 70-12

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Tommy Francisco was tired and dirty and wholly indifferent to his personal role of hero after scoring six touchdowns for Virginia Tech in its 70-12 rampage past Virginia Military yesterday.

"I guess we showed some people out there today," Francisco said. "The bowl people, I mean, and I can speak for every man on the team."

This had been the most overwhelming victory either team had ever scored in the 62 games played since the bitter VPI-VMI rivalry began in 1894.

Struggling to escape its image as a cow college next-to-nowhere in the Virginia hills, Tech desperately had wanted a post-season bowl bid. But although the bowl scouts came a-visiting often during its 8-1-1 season, the coveted invitation never arrived.

HANLEY

DETROIT—When William Clay Ford signed Garo Yepremian to a professional football contract six weeks ago, Detroit fans asked: "Who's he?" They soon found out. So did the rest of National Football League fans.

FORD, WHO BOUGHT the Detroit franchise three years ago with $6 million of the many millions he inherited from his grandfather Henry Ford, wasn't indulging himself in a whim just because he had played soccer at Yale and Yepremian was a soccer player.

YEPREMIAN TRIED four field goals against the 49ers and the Kezar crowd of 36,745 hooted when he missed three of them from 35, 41 and 43 yards. He did make one from 30 yards good with a side kick off the instep of his left foot. His other attempts hooked to the left of his target. They cost the Lions a 27-24 loss to the 49ers.

Yepremian, a young man of 22, was very depressed after that game but Ford didn't fire him. Ford had faith in his prodigy and Yepremian justified it a couple of weeks ago when he kicked an unprecedented six field goals, four of them in one quarter, in Detroit's squeaking 32-31 win over Minnesota's Vikings.

THEN LAST SUNDAY Yepremian booted two field goals in Detroit's 20-14 upset of the Baltimore Colts, the same team against whom Yepremian made his NFL debut on Oct. 16.

It not only was Yepremian's NFL debut it was the first pro game he ever attended. And it well might have been his last had it not been for merciful Colts who couldn't find it in their heart to decommission Yepremian as he innocently stooped to pick up the kicking tee after his game-opening kickoff.

NOBODY HAD TOLD Yepremian that he was legitimate prey for on-rushing enemy giants. Since then he has learned to get out of the way.

"What number would you like to wear?" Ford asked Yepremian after signing him.

"HOW ABOUT NO. 11?" interposed Roy Macklem, Lion equipment manager. "It's supposed to be lucky."

"I'd rather be the best than lucky," said Yepremian. "Could you give me No. 1?"

The Lions could . . . and did.

EVEN THOUGH HE now literally is No. 1 in NFL records with his six-for-six field goals, Yepremian isn't satisfied.

"Being the best in one game is nice," he said. "But I want to be the best kicker in the league . . . the best ever. Until that six-for-six game, I had made only one kick in six tries. That was awful. I was ashamed of myself."

Bills Crush Oakland's Title Chances

By JACK STEVENSON

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Raiders tell you it's tough to run against the Buffalo Bills who've moved closer to top honors a third straight year in the American Football League.

In a game billed as a "must" for both Buffalo and Oakland on Thanksgiving Day, it was the Bills by a 31 - 10 count after their defense provided the turning point in the fifth straight victory.

Clem Daniels went nowhere on his first try. He went a yard backward in the arms of Harry Jacobs on the second.

Oakland Coach John Rauch decided on a field goal try and although Mike Eischeid made it good from the eight, Oakland had its final points. The Bills evened the count and went ahead by halftime.

Victory for Buffalo virtually assured Kansas City the title in the West since the Chiefs stand 8-2-1 while the second place Raiders dropped to 7-5.

Buffalo went to 8-3-1 and a solid lead over Boston which stands 5-3-2 and New York at 5-4-1.

In games Sunday, San Diego plays at Denver, Kansas City at New York and Boston at Miami. Buffalo meets Boston on Dec. 4 on the Patriots home field in what could be the Eastern decider.

The Raiders netted only 58 yards rushing against the big Buffalo forward wall while fullback Wray Carlton alone ran for 97 against the Raiders and he scored two touchdowns, on runs of 11 and 2 yards.

Oakland quarterback Flores had more success against the defense as he hit 17 of 30 passes for 286 yards and one touchdown—a 16-yard throw to Billy Cannon which opened the scoring.

Buffalo quarterback Jack Kemp had a touchdown throw of 26 to rookie halfback Bob Burnett and also a 52-yard gainer on a throw to Bobby Crockett reaching Oakland's four. Jack Spikes went over from the one moments later.

All told the veteran signal caller hit 14 of 29 for 241.

In addition to scoring the two touchdowns, Carlton set up the 19-yard field goal by Booth Lusteg. The veteran fullback from Duke carried four times for a net of 37 moving into scoring position.

Texas Wins Bluebonnet Bowl Berth

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas beat Texas A&M for the 10th straight time yesterday, accepted a bid to play Mississippi in the Bluebonnet Bowl and found that its season had turned out very well under strained circumstances.

The Longhorns beat the Aggies 22-14 as sophomore Bill Bradley directed them on four scoring drives before suffering a partly dislocated left shoulder that might keep him out of the Bluebonnet Bowl.

But Bradley has played all season with an injured knee. He was one of the many Longhorns hurt during the campaign, which saw Texas lose four games.

However, the finish was good and the Longhorns will take a 6-4 record to the 15th bowl game in which Texas has appeared. It also is the eighth for Darrell Royal in 10 seasons as coach.

Bradley ran six yards for the first Texas touchdown and David Conway converted. The Aggies came back with a touchdown by Bill Sallee on a one-yard smash, but Glynn Lindsey missed the conversion and Texas led 7-6.

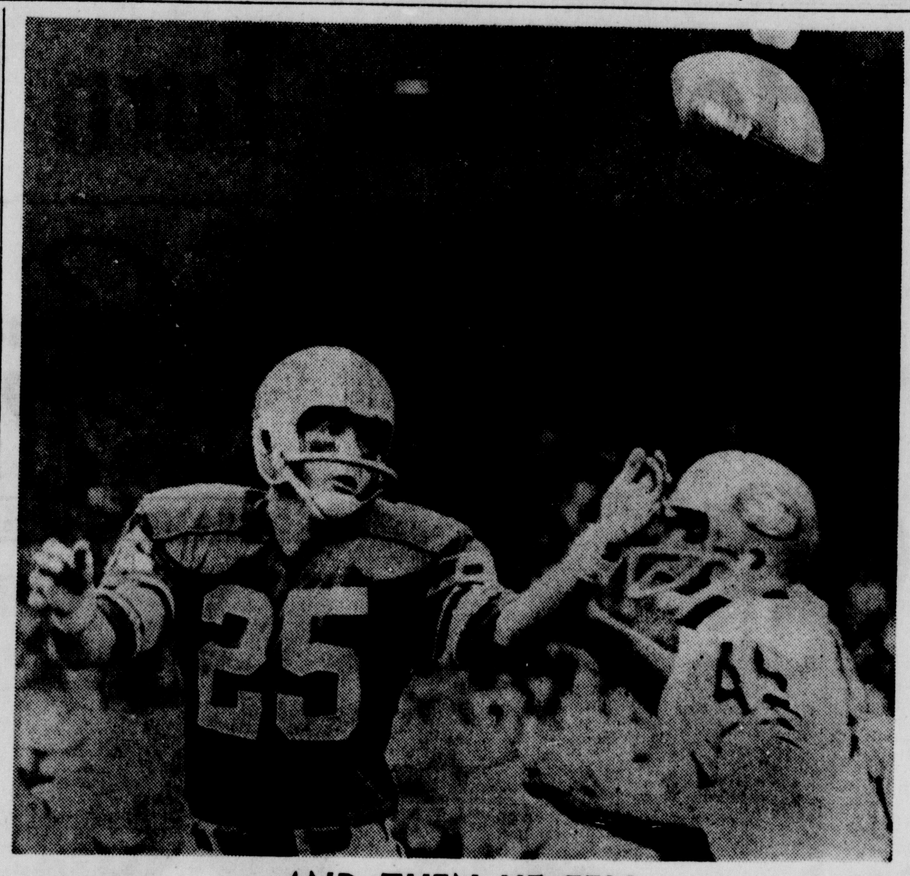

Bradley passed 61 yards to Tom Higgins for the next Texas touchdown and Conway again kicked the point. Conway booted two field goals in the third period, one from 30 yards and the other 27.

Texas got its final points on a safety when John Elliott downed Aggie quarterback Charley Riggs in the end zone.

Then Riggs passed and ran the Aggies for a touchdown and passed for the two-point conversion, leaving A&M only eight points behind. The Aggies failed on an onside kick, however, and they never could muster a drive after that.

Chris Gilbert, Texas sophomore backfield star, ran for 137 yards to gain third place in the all-time Southwest Conference rushing records. He finished with 1,099 yards in 10 games.

If Southern Methodist should lose to Texas Christian at Fort Worth Saturday, SMU, Arkansas and Texas would tie for the title. In that event Arkansas would get the Cotton Bowl host spot.

AND THEN HE FELL

56 MILLION WITNESSES

Nebraska Jolted By Oklahoma '11'

NORMAN (AP) — "It's a great profession when you're a winner," sighed Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie, whose Sooners turned the upset of Thanksgiving Day by flooring nationally fourth ranked Nebraska, 10-9.

It was Mackenzie who midway through the third quarter stared into the saddened eyes of kicking specialist Mike Vachon.

"Vachon," he said, "We'll get you another chance."

A national television audience which observers said numbered over 56 million persons saw the bruising running game of previously unbeaten Nebraska and the quickness of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma's winning field goal snapped a 19-regular season game victory string for the Big Eight Champion Cornhuskers, and it marked the second time in three years the Sooners have spoiled the record of a bowl-bound Nebraska team. In 1964 the 'Huskers headed to the Cotton Bowl, and this year will meet Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

The Sooners, to Mackenzie's great surprise, threw only four times, and completed the whole bunch for 104 yards.

It was a 48-yard pass play from quarterback Bob Warmack to wingback Eddie Hinton that got the Sooners a second quarter lead and which nullified a 28-yard field goal by Larry Wachholtz.

Nebraska came back in the third quarter for its only score, with Dick Davis plowing over from the two. But Bobby Stephenson, a halfback moved to end on extra point defenses, ripped untouched into the Cornhusker backfield and slammed down the conversion attempt.

Then, after the Sooners shoved goalward and Vachon missed on a 23-yard attempt, Oklahoma got the ball back at its 24 and pushed to victory.

Nebraska had little time to regroup, but the Cornhuskers charged to just past midfield before a Sooner pass interception on the final play of the game.

Asked at a post-game press conference if the Nebraska victory was sweeter than the triumph over Texas earlier this season, Mackenzie answered: "This one was seen by over 50 million people. And besides, it's getting close to recruiting time."

The triumph may have put the Sooners in a good position for a bid to the Liberty Bowl, and Mackenzie said at his press conference he was "most interested" in a bid.

Bowl spokesmen said the Liberty Bowl opposite Miami of Florida had been offered to Arkansas, but the Razorbacks still are in position to snare the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

SMU, which currently leads the Southwest Conference, can get the Cotton Bowl bid if it beats TCU Saturday, but if TCU wins, then Arkansas will represent the SWC.

standing second base-shortstop combo a few years back, he moved to second base last spring. Don Heffner, then the manager, had Leo Cardenas at short and decided to switch Rose to third and play Helms at second.

The switch affected Rose's play and he was returned to second in early season. Helms took over at third and did a fine job. The 25-year-old rookie from Charlotte, N.C. hit .284 with 23 doubles, one triple and 9 homers included among his 154 hits. He drove in 49 runs and stole three bases. He recently made a trip to South America with a group of players to play games against a Japanese team.

Jackson had an outstanding year at shortstop for the Astros, hitting .292 and stealing 49 bases. An injury put him out of action in midseason but he came back strong. Sonny finished second to Lou Brock's league-leading total of 74 stolen bases.

Fuentes wound up with a .261 average for San Francisco. Although he did play 26 games for the Giants in 1965 he still was a rookie under the rules.

Jones hit .275 and set a Met record with 16 stolen bases.

Hundley slammed 19 homers while batting .236 for the Giants and Jaster, who won fame by shutting out the Dodgers five times, wound up with 11-5 for the year.

Both teams have tough defensive units, Navy headed by Downing and Army by 210-pound Townsend Clarke, also a linebacker and captain from Newport, R.I.

"The tenseness preceding an Army-Navy game is unlike that found in any other game," Downing said. "I can't describe it. From the very beginning of the season you can't get Army off your mind.

"I know I tried to. I'd say to myself, 'take them a game at a time,' but it was foolish. I couldn't — none of the guys could. We kept looking ahead to Army.

"Then after the Vanderbilt game two weeks ago; it hit us. We knew only Army was ahead. Everybody on the team was more spirited. We worked harder, we hit harder, we thought more—it was electric.

"That's the way it is in the Army-Navy game but this time it means more than ever to me and the other seniors. It's our last chance to get a star."

Southern California, however, has shown defensive strength all season also. The Trojan defenses are built around Adrian Young, Nate Shaw, Ray May, Tim Rossovich and Gary Magner.

Coach John McKay has a 2-4 record against Notre Dame in six seasons at the Trojan helm. Parseghian is 1-1 in two seasons. The series edge belongs to Notre Dame, 24-11-2.

The game was expected to be a virtual sellout in Memorial Coliseum with a crowd of more than 90,000 expected for the 1 p.m. kickoff.

Redwood 'B' Cagers Win

Redwood High School's "B" basketball team downed Healdsburg, 46-33 as Skip Corsini scored 16 points and George Shaffer hauled down 15 rebounds at Redwood Wednesday.

Starting guard Bob Crossley suffered a broken wrist during the game and will be out until the start of league play in January.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Opening Weekend Rains Should Mean More Pheasants Available

STEVENS

So the season on pheasants opened last Saturday—so it rained—so the bully boys who had awaited the opening of the seeason on ringnecks — tramped the rice checks, trudged through the sticky mud and mire, and blamed the weather, the early harvesting of crops (reducing the cover for the birds to a bare minimum) for the low scores they made. Too bad, but that's hunting, you know. Still a chance to make the grade between now and Dec. 1.

In fact, from where I sit, chances look better because of the poor opener. It always has been tough to register with limit-kills for a day after the season opens. Most oldtimers stayed away on the second and third day—waited for the excitement to abate; they waited until the following weekend or at least for three days before venturing forth.

SO, CHEER UP my hearties, you may yet stick a tailfeather in your hat.

It was not only the scattergunners who were stymied by adverse conditions. The angling addicts didn't fare much better. The lads and lassies who worked the middle and upper Sacramento River areas (and braved the damp and dismal weather) didn't make the grade either. Some steelies were landed, but the expected runs of salmon failed to show up.

AS EXPECTED, THE coast streams (tide-water streams) were high and badly colored. The upper Klamath region had hoped for rain to activate the fish (mainly steelhead) and did not expect a deluge, but that's what they got.

Jim Roads of the Klamath River Guide Service suggested a phone call be made to his headquarters at Happy Camp to learn conditions before making the long drive.

I NOTE ON my calendar that a bang-up bass derby will be staged by the Castro Valley Rod and Gun Club on Saturday and Sunday. I understand this derby is open to all comers who purchase a ticket as entry fee. The first five cash prizes will go to the five largest fish. There will also be a door prize with the winner walking away with a portable TV and stand. Any and all members of this aggressive sports club are entitled to get additional tickets to sell by contacting Larry Henderson. Good thing this derby was not held last weekend.

ACCORDING TO weather reports we will have a much milder weekend. Here's hoping for a very successful non-profit bass derby. If no harsh conditions, both hunting and fishing should be rewarding. To prognosticate, I am convinced that all waters above the Martinez Bridge to Rio Vista will be prime if we have a fair weekend.

Virginia Tech Rolls Past VMI, 70-12

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Tommy Francisco was tired and dirty and wholly indifferent to his personal role of hero after scoring six touchdowns for Virginia Tech in its 70-12 rampage past Virginia Military yesterday.

"I guess we showed some people out there today," Francisco said. "The bowl people, I mean, and I can speak for every man on the team."

This had been the most overwhelming victory either team had ever scored in the 62 games played since the bitter VPI-VMI rivalry began in 1894.

Struggling to escape its image as a cow college next-to-nowhere in the Virginia hills, Tech desperately had wanted a postseason bowl bid. But although the bowl scouts came a-visiting often during its 8-1-1 season, the coveted invitation never arrived.

Pros Blister Toughened Cajun Course

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — After 56 pros carded sub-par rounds on the first 18 holes of the 1965 Cajun Classic golf tourney, host pro Luca Barbato decided his Oakbourne Country Club course needed a few more trees, water hazards and bunkers.

The alterations were ready when the pros attacked Oakbourne yesterday for this year's first round in the Cajun Classic —the last stop of the year on the PGA national tour.

Just about every pro who played in the tourney before will admit that the layout is tougher this year and also in superb condition.

What happened?

There were 62 sub-par rounds yesterday under almost perfect playing conditions—near cloudless skies, little wind and 75-degree plus temperatures — as Bert Yancey and Chuck Courtney took the lead with seven-under par 65s.

"I know it's tougher," said Barbato. "Look, I even got a double bogey when I went into a lake on No. 6."

Barbato carded a 73 and must scramble to make the 36-hole cut.

The pros surviving the cut today will probably have to card a three-under 141 for 36 holes.

"It's hard to walk but it doesn't bother my golf," said the 26-year-old Minnesota native who won the St. Paul Open in 1964 but slumped last year.

Yancey won his first tour victory this year in the Azalea Open and since then has taken titles at the Memphis and Portland Open. If the 24-year-old blond belter from Florida can win the Cajun Classic he will tie Billy Casper for the most victories by a pro for 1966.

Yancey, who said he played "the best putting round I ever had," knocked in an 18-footer for an eagle three on No. 13 and on the front side had four birdies in a row at Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Argentina Masters

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Roberto De Vicenzo and four other Argentina pros tied for the first round lead yesterday in the Argentina Masters Golf Tournament with two-under-par 68s.

Bob McCallister of Corona, Calif., topped the foreign players with a 35-36—71. Jim Ferreee of Savannah, Ga., had a 36-36—72 and Bob Rosburg of San Francisco 37-37—74.

A Strange Year In J. C. Football

It was the kind of year that produces haunting, recurring nightmares in the Golden Valley Conference.

More games were decided by less than a quarter of a touchdown, the space of a second or two, the wrong motion at the wrong time, or the big play, than anybody would care to remember.

Napa lost three games by 10 points. Santa Rosa lost four by 18 points. Marin College missed the championship by a total of nine points, lost three games by 11 points. The title was decided by one point.

After all that, you find coaches lying awake at night in a cold sweat, seeing deciding plays over and over. Or others might kneel down and thank that great Coach in the sky or wherever for deeming them fortunate.

The big surprise was Sierra coming out of the depths of a winless season to squeak through the conference undefeated and winning the title on the strength of a last second, 96-yard touchdown against Santa Rosa, a three-point victory over the Tars and a one-point, 13-12 win over Shasta.

Reed was naturally disappointed over the final showing of the Tars in the conference (2-3) but was generally pleased with their performance throughout the year.

"We tried something we've never done before this year when we used the double wing T," he said. "I was pleased with the results. We got a lot of mileage out of our passing and our running was improving with every game.

"Yes, it was frustrating to lose those games like that," he said. "We could have won the championship just as easily. But this has been the best balance I've seen in the league since I've been coaching Marin.

"I felt our passing gave everybody a lot of problems," he said. "Simontacchi did an excellent job throwing. There was a stretch there when we averaged over 400 yards total offense a game."

The Tars will lose Al Simontacchi, an all-league quarterback, who, once the statistics are totaled up, will undoubtedly have set several school passing records, along with his top receiver, all-league end Honor Jackson.

But Jackson, along with an excellent backfield of Dick Otis, Horace White, Donnie Smith and Joe De Masi, will return, giving Reed at least the promise of another shot at the title that has thus far eluded him.

Jackson topped Marin receivers in league play with 23 catches and White was the top rusher with an 8-yard average.

DALLAS BEATS BROWNS

Cowboys Draw Bead On First NFL Title

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Meredith is calling his shots again and the Dallas Cowboys are drawing a bead on their first division title in the National Football League.

Meredith, intercepted four times in an early-season loss to Cleveland, picked the Browns' defense apart yesterday, driving the Cowboys to a 26-14 victory that sent them into first place in the NFL's Eastern Division stretch race.

The victory moved Dallas one-half game ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals, who take on improved Pittsburgh Sunday without No. 1 quarterback Charley Johnson, who's out for the year with a damaged knee.

Meredith completed 16 of 24 passes for 131 yards and one touchdown, directed another touchdown drive and set up two of Danny Villanueva's four field goals with his passing and running. "I thought Meredith called a great game," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry. "He mixed his plays very well and kept a balanced game going."

The Dallas signal-caller, who has overcome a string of midseason interceptions in leading the Cowboys back into the Eastern lead, is confident they'll nail their first division crown since coming into the NFL six years ago. "We expect to win it," he said. "We have three games to go and we'll just have to win them all."

SUNDAY GAMES

Sunday, in addition to the Steelers-Cardinals scrap at St. Louis, the Green Bay Packers are at Minnesota, the Los Angeles Rams at Baltimore, the Atlanta Falcons at Chicago and the Giants at Washington.

Dallas, beaten seven straight times by the Browns and 11 times in 12 previous meetings, overcame a 14-13 halftime deficit yesterday to hand the defending Eastern champions their fourth setback in 11 starts. Villaneuva booted 12 and 13-yard field goals in the third quarter and Don Perkins, who carried for 111 yards in all, capped a 69-yard fourth-quarter march with a 10-yard scoring jaunt.

Meredith's six-yard payoff pitch to Dan Reeves in the second quarter was his 23rd TD pass of the season — tops in the league.

Leroy Kelly, who led the Cleveland ball-carriers with 115 yards, plunged a yard for the Browns' first touchdown and Frank Ryan passed 16 yards to Ernie Green for the other.

Ryan, however, was thrown six times for losses by the Dallas defenders, led by tackle Bob Lilly.

Miss Ferraris, Three Others Tie For Golfing Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Peggy Kirk Bell, Jan Ferraris, Judy Kimball and Mary Mills carded 73s yesterday to lead first-round play in th 2e7th annual Titleholders Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Bell, of Southern Pines, N.C., a golfing veteran, put together a 36 and a 37 on the par 72 course. Miss Ferraris, of San Francisco, who turned pro only in July, carded a 35 and a 83.

Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Kimball had 38s on the front nine, improving with 35s on the back nine.

Today is Friday, Nov. 25, the 329th day of 1966 with 36 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

Pope John XXIII was born on this day in 1881.

On this day in history:

In 1783, more than 6,000 British troops evacuated New York City following the peace treaty ending the Revolutionary War.

In 1944, the American War Refugee board charged Germany with mass murder during World War II.

In 1960, John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr. was born.

A thought for the day—President Abraham Lincoln said: "Towering genius disdains a beaten path. It seeks regions hitherto unexplored."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Trump Opening Lead Always Best Play Against Low Bid

When an opening bid of one is passed to your partner and he decides not to reopen the bidding, he must have a weak hand or trump length.

Your best chance to defeat the contract is to open trumps in the hope that your partner has trump length.

Opening lead — ♡ 7

South easily makes one heart if West opens the jack of spades. South takes the top spades, ruffs a spade in dummy and then waits for three trump tricks.

Declarer must not lead trumps himself, but waits for trumps to be led to him.

It costs the defenders a trick to lead trumps, but they can do nothing about this since leading anything else would allow South to ruff with one of his small trumps.

West can defeat the contract by opening the three of hearts.

South wins the first trick with the king of hearts, but now he cannot ruff a spade in dummy.

TRUMP RETURN

As soon as East gains the lead, he returns a low trump. South must play the seven, and West wins with the eight.

South manages to get three trumps and three spades, but that is all.

HEART LEAD

South makes the contract if West opens the eight of hearts. Now when East leads trumps, South can win a finesse with the seven or six. South will manage to get four trump tricks if he is careful.

There is no harm in leading the top card of a doubleton in a side suit, but it is foolish and wasteful to lead the top card of a doubleton in trumps.

DAILY QUESTION

♣ A Q

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts.

This shows good trump support (usually at least Q-x-x-x) and a count of 13 to 16 points. In this case you have 11 points in high cards and two points for the doubletons.

All These Coins Paid On Taxes

CHICAGO (AP) — Americans paid a record $51.6 billion in state and local taxes during 1965.

This was a jump of $3.8 billion, reports the Commerce Clearing House.

Topping the state-by-state per capita list was California with $379. Arkansas ranged into a low of $159.

Stocks Close Higher In Moderate Action

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with some sharp gains. Trading was moderately active.

Stocks rose from the start but the opening gain was narrow and tentative. As strength spread gradually, more and and more stocks entered the list of gainers. Advances widened.

Glamor stocks, including airlines, office equipments, photographic stocks and electronics, were favored by traders.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.6 million shares compared with 7.36 million on Wednesday.

IBM rose 7, Xerox about 6, Polaroid 5, Corning Glass and Texas Gulf Sulphur about 4 each.

Gains of about 3 were made by Kerr-McGee Oil, Continental Airlines and Braniff Airways.

Eastern Air Lines gained 5, American Airlines 4, United, North West and Pan American about 2 each. KLM added about 1½.

Gains of a point or better were made by a variety of issues, including Douglas Aircraft, Zenith, Raytheon, International Telephone, Eastman Kodak and Union Carbide.

Three-Wheel Auto Claimed By Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China claims it is producing a three - wheeled passenger car which could replace pedicabs in some cities.

Peking's New China News Agency (NCNA) reported that the car can seat four persons, has a maximum speed of 37 miles per hour and has a low gasoline consumption.

In Alaska, 50 natives who had no teaching experience have now completed an eight-week training program to become Head Start teachers in their villages.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

If Well-Heeled, Hold The Rental

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "My husband and I own some excellent stocks, our savings are adequate and we have accumulated quite a bit in a credit union. We own our home, which we live in, and we have another house which we rent out for $175 a month. Should we sell the rented house and invest the proceeds in more stocks?" A. H.

A. I am very glad that you are so soundly situated. You appear to have a balanced program of investments which should work out well. I do not advise you to sell your rental property, provided that it is well located and gives you an adequate return—at least six per cent—after taxes and all other expenses. Real property is a good thing to own as an inflation hedge and it helps to balance your entire financial situation. In most instances, good rental property has increased in value substantially since World War II and it should continue to do so if the dollar depreciates further.

Q. "What should a small investor do with about $500 in a savings account — let it stay there or put it into a savings bond or a few shares of stock?" A. S., R. U.

A. Reading between the lines, I assume that $500 is the extent of your savings reserve. If that is so, I do not consider that you are yet in a position to buy stocks. My choice would be a Series E savings bond, on which interest accrues at the rate of 4.15 per cent compounded semi-annually and guaranteed for at least seven years.

Bank interest is declared quarterly and may be altered at the discretion of the bank's directors if money conditions change. Should you unexpectedly need cash before your bond matures, you may redeem it after two months holding without loss of principal. When your E bond matures, principal and accrued interest will be automatically extended for 10 years.

PayLess Stores Sales Increase

OAKLAND—Sales of Skaggs PayLess stores for the three months ending Oct. 31 were $12,873,107, an increase of 14 per cent over sales in the comparable 1965 quarter.

Sales for the six months ending Oct. 31 were $25,781,369, up 18 per cent from the first fiscal six months of last year. Earnings for the quarter ending Oct. 31 will be available in January.

Underdeveloped Nations Urged To Make More Use Of Forests

MADRID, SPAIN—In some of the world's "forest rich" but underdeveloped nations, forest industries could open the gate to an economic "takeoff," a University of California economist suggests.

John A. Zivnuska, in an address to the Sixth World Forestry Congress held in Madrid this summer suggested that many developing nations might take a good look at their frozen forest resources.

Zivnuska, Dean of the UC School of Forestry at Berkeley, stressed that economic growth in labor-surplus, underdeveloped nations must involve new uses of resources to increase productivity.

"Increases must be achieved in agricultural productivity so that the hidden reserves of of underemployed farm labor can be released to the industrial sector," Zivnuska said. "Simultaneous increases in industrial employment opportunities must be generated to absorb this released labor force."

That is where the forest industries, essentially rural, fit into the developing economic picture, he suggested.

"As labor is released from agriculture," said Dean Zivnuska, "the shift to the forestry sector is far more readily achieved than a shift to more highly urbanized and mechanized industries.

"The development of roads and communications necessary to break the bondage of subsistence agriculture and permit the requisite increase in agricultural productivity will itself often service the forestry sector as well. The expanded forest operations will release capital from the frozen form of natural resources to a more liquid form, which can be directed to various sectors of the economy as needed.

"The reduction of import requirements as the products flow into consumption will have a favorable effect on the balance of payments and help protect domestic capital sources.

"In short, the forest industries sector of the economy in many of its major characteristics represents an intermediate stage between the agricultural sector and the general industrial sector."

Once initiated, Dean Zivnuska said, the forest development process can generate its own capital requirements for continuing expansion. He described the industrial development of the United States, which drew—more by expediency than plan—upon the forests of the Great Lakes region.

"The total result," he said, "contributed directly to the economic development of the United States. Today the nation has reached a level of economic growth and a degree of affluence such that it is now able to reinvest capital in natural resources. Alternate materials are available to replace the traditional forest products in many uses, and total forest growth is some 60 per cent greater than the annual cut."

THIS WEEK IN BUSINESS

Midwestern Drugstore Chain's Sales Increase

WALGREEN CO., Chicago-based drugstore chain, has increased its quarterly dividend, payable in mid-December from 32.5 cents per share to 35 cents. This is the fourth increase in four years. In the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, sales were up 13 per cent to 487 million dollars. Estimated profits were $3.25 to $3.30 a share, compared with the 1965 high of $2.59. The company has 494 drug stores, mostly concentrated in the midwest.

MOBIL OIL CO., through affiliates, has become involved in a large Hong Kong housing development, which ultimately will cover 36 acres on the shore of Hong Kong harbor, and provide apartments for 60,000 to 80,000 people. Apartments are being designed for the city's middle-income group which has been faced with increasing difficulty in finding suitable housing.

CONSTRUCTION DESIGN, Pacific Coast home remodeling firm based in Los Angeles, has reported sales for its 1965-66 fiscal year at slightly more than one million dollars, down from $1.3 million the previous year. Net income dropped from 21 cents a share to 18 cents a share. The company franchises through Allied Builders System, Inc., with 13 franchised offices, one of which is in San Rafael.

KIMBERLY - CLARK CORP. has reported record sales and earnings for both the second quarter ended Oct. 31 and for the year to date. Second quarter sales were $176 million; earnings were $11.6 million equal to $1.14 a share, compared with $1.01 per share last year. Total first half sales showed $337.9 million and earnings equal to $2.12 per share, compared with $1.75 for the first half of fiscal 1965.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND CO. net income set a new record for the nine months ended Oct. 31 at $197.6 million or $1.29 per share. This compared with 189.5 million dollars or $1.24 per share in the same period of 1965. Third quarter income was $74 million—slightly above last year's third quarter.

UNITED STATES BORAX AND CHEMICAL CORP. has reported preliminary, unaudited net income of $7,932,992 for the year ended Sept. 30. This amounts to $1.88 per common share as compared with $2.14 per share reported last year—or $1.82 per share when provision is made for taxes on income in the 1965 year on the same basis as 1966. Sales of 98.4 million dollars for 1966 was slightly above 1965 sales.

NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE CLUB has elected D. N. Corwin its new president. Corwin is vice president of the Crum and Forster Group of Insurance Companies.

ZALE CORP. and Levine's, Inc. shareholders have approved the merger plan by which Zale will acquire the business and assets of Levine's, pending favorable rulings by the Internal Revenue Service that the merger may be considered a tax-free transaction for federal income tax purposes. Following the merger, Zale will have more than 650 retail outlets selling a wide variety of consumer products. Granat Bros. Jewelers is a subsidiary.

OCCIDENTAL PETROLEUM CORP. net profits for the nine months ended Sept. 30 rose to a record high of $13.9 million or $1.35 per share, an increase of 24 per cent over the $1.09 per share recorded in the same period of 1965. Consolidate gross revenues for the nine months of 1966 were $309.4 million compared to $261.9 million for 1965.

Schools Unprotected By 'One-Way Contract'

School administrators and administrative assistants in Marin have been resigning in the middle of their contracts, in some cases giving school boards little time to find replacements.

Last week came another resignation from an administrative assistant at College of Marin. The college board of trustees declined immediate acceptance of the resignation and asked the man to remain until a suitable replacement had been found.

"I consider this treatment highly unethical," the administrative assistant is quoting as saying. The charge is ridiculous.

We see nothing unethical in the actions of the college board of trustees in asking a school administrator, who is under contract to complete the school year, to continue for a portion of that contract period so that a successor can be found. In fact, a school administrator who has agreed to complete a school term should feel he is at least morally bound to finish out the term.

The "unethical" charge should be hurled in the other direction.

Logically, employment contracts, whether they be for one year or for four, should be binding to both parties concerned—the employer and the employee. In actual practice, it is a one-way contract, with the school districts rigidly bound to abide by the terms while the employee is free to quit anytime he so desires.

Several have taken advantage of this "one-way" contract to resign abruptly while they have several years to go under the agreement.

It is to their credit that most school administrators have postponed immediate departure at the request of the school boards, until a replacement can be found.

In the latest case at the College of Marin, the trustees were well within their rights to ask the employee for a little time.

As one trustee pointed out, "I think you have a responsibility to the district to stay until we find someone to replace you. For the district's own welfare, we will seek a replacement as soon as possible."

It is not only an ethical request; it is a sensible request.

If an educator is at all concerned with education and the welfare of students, the least he can do is cooperate with the school boards in assuring an orderly change of command. After all, it is the sudden resignation on the part of the employee and not any action by the board of trustees that is creating this situation.

". . . A real bargain at that price—especially with the convenience of proposed Route 17 being 50 yards away."

Michigan's Romney Has Every Reason To Feel A Little Cocky

WASHINGTON — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has good reason to feel a little cocky, at least right now. He has a lot going for him. At 58 he is trim, square-jawed, with an undaunted gaze.

This is the strong, executive-type look. And he was a good executive when he was head of American Motors. He switched to politics and this month was elected to his third term as governor.

HE HAS REFUSED so far to say whether he will seek the Republican presidential candidacy in 1968 although at the moment he seems to be in front of the field of likely prospects.

Yet, he has a long way to go before he can get the nomination and an even longer one before he can ever win the White House.

For one thing, he will have to do a lot of explaining on where he stands on national issues. Outside of Michigan, most people who admire him probably are admiring him as a person without much knowledge of what he stands for.

THE REASON is that he hasn't said much, or has been very vague, on problems outside his state. One example is the war in Viet Nam. On this subject he has wiggled and wobbled and in one memorable news conference made hash of it.

Besides this, he is going to have a job reconciling Goldwater Republicans and inducing them to support him—if he wants to run for president—after his attitude toward Sen. Barry Goldwater in the 1964 campaign.

He didn't endorse the Arizonan. And recently Goldwater, while not closing the door on the governor, said Romney has a "lot of homework to do with party leaders" to atone for failing to endorse him.

It's possible, if Romney moves into the national scene, that he will show a tendency to shoot from the hip. He did a bit of that over the weekend.

HE AND New York's reelected Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller arranged to meet at Dorado, Puerto Rico. Before Romney arrived Rockefeller, who has taken himself out of presidential consideration but vividly remembers the split condition of the GOP in 1964, tried to look ahead to see what it needed to get solidified for 1968.

He suggested Republican governors reach a consensus—Johnson's favorite word— on moving away from the dogmatic ideology that characterized the 1964 campaign.

Immediately after arriving, and before seeing Rockefeller, Romney attacked Rockefeller's "consensus" proposal. He said, "That's Rockefeller's word. I associate it with someone undoubtedly Johnson who has not fared so well with consensus. I think we need leadership."

AFTER TALKING with Rockefeller, Romney endorsed Rockefeller's "consensus" in principle. He said the difference between them was more apparent than real.

Romney, like so many other governors, talks about the need for more independence by the states. At the same time he wants the federal government to hand back to the states for their needs, but without strings, income tax money.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Everyone Has His Rights Of Belief

Editor, Independent-Journal:

All believers in the precious freedoms guaranteed in the Bill of Rights should, it seems to me, be disturbed by the harrassments employed in preventing certain citizens from renting a house in Tamalpais Valley.

That the citizens referred to are members of a largely detested minority—The Nazi Party—shouldn't blind us to the fact that under our Constitution we are permitted to believe whatever we wish, be it ever so wrongheaded. Insofar as we abuse and harrass the persons or legitimate activities of those who hold repugnant ideas, we are undermining the historic safeguards which protect all who would advance unpopular beliefs. The American way to attack evil concepts is through the presentation of superior concepts.

So, although I consider the racist bullyboy credo of the Nazis to be uncivilized and barbaric, I would not ape their methods in attempting to suppress them.

Reader Praises Recent Editorial

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The purpose of this note is to commend the Independent-Journal on its thoughtful and fair-minded editorial of Nov. 16 entitled "Popularity Shouldn't Influence Court Cases." The editorial took on even more significance for me when I contrasted it with the column by Mr. MacArthur set immediately below.

Mr. MacArthur's column shows some dangerous misunderstandings of the intent of our constitutional democracy. While it is true that in the long run the majority's wishes are determinative, the role of the Supreme Court, both nationally and in California, is to serve as an independent body in the position to review matters of constitutionality without regard to the popularity of its decision. As your editorial points out, the Supreme Court has done this with regard to both Proposition 14 and Proposition 15 which appeared on the 1964 ballot.

I hope that thoughtful Americans will continue to be grateful for the constitutional division of powers which has often served to protect the majority from taking actions which would be temporarily popular but might later be very much regretted.

Panning Of Mail Surprises Reader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was surprised to read that letter from the newcomer to Novato, panning the postal service and ending on a most lugubrious note.

I have lived in Novato for nearly 10 years. Being a writer, I receive mail from all parts of the world, letters, magazines, newspapers and other material; and every piece is delivered promptly and in good order, thanks to the efficiency of the boys in the Novato post office, for whom I have only unqualified praise.

Considering the tons of junk mail the carriers are required to deliver, and which they do conscientiously deliver, don't you think they deserve bouquets rather than brickbats?

Carmichael's Cause Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At Berkeley recently SNCC National Chairman Stokely Carmichael condemned America as a racist nation and said "the people who run this country are sick . . . We have to put them out of business."

He has previously stated "non-violence is irrelevant. We are not a protest movement. We are out to take power, legally. But if we're stopped by the government from taking it legally, we're going to take it the way everyone else took it . . ."

When asked the meaning of "Black Power" in Mississippi, Stokely Carmichael's own words were: "When you talk of 'black power', you talk of bringing this country to its knees . . . you talk of building a movement that will smash everything Western civilization has created . . . you talk of picking up where Malcolm X left off . . . you talk of the black man doing whatever is necessary to get what he needs."

In Alabama, Carmichael organized the Black Panther political party which uses the motto "move on over or we'll move on over you."

Since he is the chairman of SNCC, I can only assume the Marin friends of SNCC support this philosophy and I can only hope the people of Marin will recall this when they read about the next fund raising benefit in the I-J.

A Stark Field And A Scream

Editor, Independent-Journal:

At one end of a stark field, a man screams to a corpse, "See, I told you Democracy is the best way!" And across the vast plain, another man shouts to another corpse, "See, I told you Communism is the best way!" And rising in the wind, as it whirls over the field, a wailing . . . a wailing . . . across the seas it sweeps, mingling with the spray, to other lands . . . other sobbings . . . "Daddy . . . daddy . . ."

BE GENEROUS WITH PRAISE

Children, especially teen-agers, need praise from their parents. In fact, they are often hungry for it, according to columnist Gladys Beavans.

"Boys and girls in their pre-teens and mid-teens," she said, "are almost always 'on the carpet'."

While their desire for independence may prompt them to do things of which parents disapprove, she added, their good points are too easily overlooked.

"Teen-agers need our praise," she concluded, "if not in words, then in approval implied in our expression, our manner or our warm companionship."

Praise, sincerely given, is a two-way street. Whether you are a parent, teen-ager or in any other situation, look for openings to pay honest tribute.

It may require overcoming a degree of self-consciousness to call attention to another's good qualities. But the Lord, Who is the foundation of all truth, will enable you to do so tactfully.

The dividends of uttering the right word at the right moment are well worth the effort involved.

"The Lord God has given me a well-trained tongue, that I might know how to speak." (Isaiah 50:4)

Make my speech, Holy Spirit, always hopeful, truthful and appropriate to the occasion.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Northern Vote Looks Puny Alongside Southern Cal's

By WAT TAKESHITA

COUNTY-BY-COUNTY results of the last election prove once again the dominance of Southern California in statewide politics.

Efforts of small counties in Northern California like Marin, and even our biggest metropolis like San Francisco, look puny alongside the behemoths like Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange.

Takeshita

Take the case of State Controller Alan Cranston, who was nosed out by Houston Flournoy of Claremont. Flournoy won by some 50,000 votes statewide.

Cranston took 44 counties out of 58, but 14 counties that went for Flournoy included the southern giants. Flournoy got a 185,000 edge in Los Angeles, 128,000 in Orange, and 46,000 in San Diego. Any one of those was enough to swamp a dozen Northern California counties.

MARIN Supervisor Thomas T. Storer took a drubbing from Congressman Don H. Clausen, winning only about 35 per cent of the total votes cast in the First Congressional District.

Surprisingly, however, Storer's vote percentage was just about the best of the 14 Democrats who ran against incumbent Congressmen. Only one of the 14 posted a better percentage than Storer, and that was Mark Sullivan of San Mateo who got 40.6 per cent of the votes in his race against J. Arthur Younger. The other 12 ranged all the way down to 20 per cent.

Among Democrats seeking Congressional seats, it was not a case of how well they did, but how badly they didn't do.

Maybe this is what keeps Storer in a buoyant mood. His latest statement: "I certainly haven't made any clear decision on what I'll do two years from now. But I make a pledge that if my opponent can prove he passed all the bills he claimed he passed, I'll not only not run against him but pledge to endorse him."

AMONG CANDIDATES considered for the job of San Francisco school superintendent was Dr. Virgil Hollis, Marin County schools superintendent.

SPENCER WILLIAMS of Santa Clara County, the only statewide Republican candidate who didn't make it to Sacramento hasn't given up. He says he is seriously considering running again for state attorney general.

To keep his name before the public, he is reported angling for a Sacramento job with the Ronald Reagan team.

A COMPANY OF big game hunters had had a hard day in the African jungle, and all but one, nicknamed "Tireless" by his companions, were content to relax in camp with a gin and tonic. Not "Tireless," however. He decided that a good walk before dinner was in order.

Five hours passed, then six; dinner had been served; everybody was rolling out the old sleeping bags—when suddenly the group awoke to the fact that "Tireless" never had returned. 'Hm-m-m," mused one of the more tender-hearted hunters, "I wonder what's eating old 'Tireless?' "

JIM BROSNAN tells about one of those rambuctious, Napoleonic big-league baseball managers who takes credit for all his team's victories and blames others for its defeats. One of his star outfielders overheard this big-mouth sounding off to a sportswriter before game time one afternoon and muttered, "That so-and-so's going to finish five games ahead of the rest of us."

AT THE WHITE House, President Johnson told the story of the old Texas gambler who was wont to warn players at his table, "I wouldn't advise you gentlemen to try cheating tonight. I expect you to play these cards straight—because I know what I dealt!"

North Holding Up Prisoner Facts

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — International Red Cross inquiries on whether captive fliers held in North Viet Nam will be tried as "war criminals" are being met with the reply that this is none of the organization's business.

The State Department sought this information recently after learning that captured airmen were being separated into small groups and placed in new camps around Hanoi and Haiphong.

When North Viet Nam first hinted that pilots might be tried as "war criminals," the U.S. responded with a private warning that if this was done, North Viet Nam's flood-control dams would be destroyed.

North Viet Nam has repeatedly refused U.S. requests that all prisoners be granted the protection of the 1949 Geneva convention to which Hanoi is a signatory.

The U.S. has approximately 100 North Vietnamese prisoners, 18 of them seamen.

They are held aboard ship off the coast of South Viet Nam. South Viet Nam holds an estimated 400 North Vietnamese prisoners and several thousand Communist Viet Cong.

FLASHES — Otto Otepka, who marked the third anniversary this month of his ouster as a State Department security officer is no closer to a hearing than when he first began demanding one in November, 1963.

Edward McCormack, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Massachusetts governor, can have a high-ranking job in either the Justice Department or the Defense Department. President Johnson made the offer to Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., during a telephone talk. McCormack is a nephew of the Speaker.

THE EIGHT associate justices of the Supreme Court, who are paid $39,500 for life, would like to have the government provide them with automobiles—but so far they have been unable to induce the President to include the necessary funds in the budget.

This was disclosed by Justice Tom Clark, a fellow Texan, at a private meeting with the House Appropriations subcommittee handling the court's budget.

As related by Clark, the lack of government-supplied transportation is a real hardship on the jurists. On occasion it has prevented some of them from getting to the court.

IN CLARK'S own case, the one thing he missed most when President Truman elevated him from attorney General to the tribunal was his official car.

Under questioning, Clark told the subcommittee that the court has two official cars — one for the chief justice, who is paid $40,000 for life and another for general use.

"I know of nothing that would help the court more than to have official transportation," pleaded Clark.

Now Just What's Considered Hot?

SOMERSET, Ky. (AP)—While driving through Somerset, W.F. Mayer decided to stop at a restaurant whose window sign read: "Enjoy Eating in Air Conditioned Comfort."

Once inside Mayer found the air conditioning was off and only four large fans were stirring up the hot air.

"Why aren't you using the air conditioners?" Mayers asked.

Now Is The Time To Come Bearing Soft Amber Lights, Wrought Iron

The press finally got used to the "paint-up, clean-up campaign by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Field, Woodside color consultants," when Mrs. Field issued a press release terming their campaign "a rejuvenation project."

GONE ALSO WAS the easy identification. Now the campaign is to be done by "Community Consultants, Ltd., a division of Fieldesign." In other worlds, the Fields, who according to the release, are "the acknowledged authorities on the subject of successful community face-liftings."

"Mill Valley has a unique quality and charm that will be emphasized," the release said. "The mountain, the streams and the forest, coupled with the mix of Spanish, English and Victorian architecture, suggests tawny colors, soft amber lighting and hand-crafted materials.

"WROUGHT IRON will be used as a unifying design element suggesting quality and permanence. The spirit of Bernard Maybeck, with his reverence for natural materials, timbers and large scale, will be an inspiration."

Mrs. Field quoted Pablo Casals' "Don't Play Notes, Make Music." "Mill Valley has many beautiful notes that must be brought together to create a symphony," she concluded.

The symphony will cost Mill Valley merchants and owners of commercial property $6,200 in fees alone for the Fields. The fees do not include the cost of paint, wrought iron and handcrafted materials.

FOR THIS, the Fields will prepare detailed plans for color schemes of building fronts—and Mrs. Field will devote her considerable energy and enthusiasm to whipping up community support for the project.

The Fields say they originated the idea of community improvement programs 10 years ago and have worked on such programs in 70 towns, from Alaska to Puerto Rico. Tiburon's Main Street was one of their projects.

Many businessmen resisted the Fields' campaign—initiated by a small group of other businessmen convinced that commercial areas had to do something to lure customers back downtown—but finally agreed the growing majority should have a chance to try the Fields' approach. The resistance of many has mellowed to skepticism, at least.

The idea is that the paint-up, clean-up will be done one weekend in April. If it gets that far, it should be a dandy sight.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce last week launched its second annual drive to feed a needy family selected by a local church. After only a week, the chairman of the drive, Les Mize, reported that enough food had been donated to feed three families. Each basket was loaded with a turkey, 10-pound sack of potatoes, 15-pound bag of sugar, cranberry sauce, pie mix, jams, jellies and canned vegetables.

Principal donors were five local markets.

The two unexpected baskets were given to other churches for distribution. Next year, Les said, he hopes to fill enough baskets for each church in the city.

If he's not in the Army by then, that is.

Examples draw when precept fails, and sermons are less read than tales. Prior—The Turtle and the Sparrow.

Real Reason For LBJ Throat Surgery May Shock Kennedys

WASHINGTON — Now that President Johnson's operation on his throat has been so successful, I can reveal the reason the President decided to have it done.

It has been no secret that for the past few months the President's popularity has been slipping. Despite the fact that he had got more legislation through than any other President, and although the country is riding its greatest wave of prosperity, many people seemed to be voicing suspicions of their leader. The President, who rules by consensus, was smart enough to know that something had to be done about his image. But what?

HE CALLED in all his advisers just before he left for Manila and laid it on the line. He wanted them to speak frankly and make any suggestions that they thought would make the people love him again.

One adviser said, "I think we should put more stress on presenting you as a statesman and less on the fact that you are trying to think of new ways of spending the taxpayer's money."

Another adviser said, "Mr. President, your popularity was at its height when Luci got married. Couldn't you arrange a Christmas wedding for Lynda?"

"Ah probably could," the President said, "but that would give us all of 1967 with nothing to do."

A third adviser said, "Mr. President, you asked us to speak frankly and I will. A recent poll taken by Zlonk Brothers asked people what was the one thing that annoyed them the most about your television appearance, and 73 per cent of those questioned said it was your Texas accent."

"WELL, WHAT am ah supposed to do about that?" the President said angrily.

"Now don't get mad, Mr. President. I'm just quoting the poll. Perhaps if we could change your accent we could change your image."

"It's a little late for that." The President flushed.

"No it isn't, sir. There's a doctor at Johns Hopkins who can perform a minor operation on your throat which could change your speech overnight. He can give you any accent you want."

The President said, still angry, "And what accent do ah want?"

"I was thinking of a New England accent with perhaps a slight Harvard twang."

"NEVER," THE President said, slamming his fist on the conference table. "Ah was born in Texas, raised in Texas and ah love Texas."

Just then an adviser came in with the latest popularity polls. They revealed the President had slipped another two percentage points.

The President studied the polls for several minutes and then said, "Will the operation hurt?"

"No, sir. It's just like having a polyp removed. I assure you, sir, with your dynamism and a New England accent, you'll be unbeatable."

"WHAT ABOUT Lady Bird?"

"People like her accent so she won't have to do a thing."

"Of course," another adviser said, "if you did have the operation you'd have to sell the ranch."

"Then where would ah go on vacation?" the President shouted.

"DON'T WORRY. It will work, Mr. President, and I can't wait to see the expression on Bobby and Teddy's faces when you give your State of the Union message to Congress in January of next year."

10 YEARS AGO

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Kettenhofen Has No Authority Over Route 17 Inside Cities

Fusselman

It's time that some cold hard facts about authority and where it lies should be discussed. Nevertheless, as four months will roll by surprisingly fast—and as there is no telling what a determined supervisor may attempt (whether he has the authority or not), it is well to relate, here, his final statement on the KTIM broadcast.

This is what he said:

"If the central corridor (the Miracle Mile, etc.) were to be adopted, and I say if, the designs that are being discussed are recessed underground with the local streets over the top. In this way there would not be a freeway right along side of the buildings, so to speak, with local ones on top."

How kookie can an idea be? Is he saying that on both sides of the freeway there would be constructed, over the two outside lanes, roads for the local traffic plus the necessary cross-street overpasses? It would appear that the gentleman has perhaps earned a degree in promotional conversation rather than a degree in engineering economics.

NOW, HERE is something that I have wanted to call attention to each week, but space didn't permit. Bluntly speaking, the Ross Valley supervisor has no official authority nor responsibility respecting the central corridor approval or disapproval until the route reaches the further limits of the City of Fairfax. His entire intrusion in this routing has been gratuitous.

You see, the authority of the cities flows from the state directly to the cities and not through the county.

There often is confusion in the minds of people when they read about the actions of the supervisors in San Francisco. That city has a unique situation. The City and County of San Francisco was created many years ago by special legislation. And provision was made that it be governed by a mayor and a board of supervisors.

OUR LOCAL board of supervisors has legislative authority only in the unincorporated areas of the county.

The county may, on request, enter into a joint powers agreement with a city or cities for a specific project. However, before a freeway project may be undertaken by the state it must have a signed agreement, covering the precise and final plans for construction, with the jurisdiction being traversed. This agreement will cover all details such as alignment, on and off ramps, overhead construction, etc.

As an example when Highway 101 was widened and improved, with cloverleaves and so on, the county board of supervisors signed the agreement from the foot of Waldo Grade to the city limits of Corte Madera and Larkspur. For this stretch the city councils signed, then the county signed for the work as far as the city limits of San Rafael. For this area the city council signed and the county took care of the agreement on everything north to Novato where that city council functioned.

SO YOU SEE, respecting the central corridor, he, the chairman and the planning director were exceeding their authority in somewhat the same way as when the present chairman asked the board to pass a resolution addressed to the U.S. Department of Justice requesting an investigation of the merger of the Chronicle and Examiner as being against the public interest.

Corte Madera Couple Faces Child Charge

A Corte Madera couple were in county jail today on a charge of neglecting and beating their 4-year-old son.

Arrested were Douglass Ross Davison, 22, of 1441 Casa Buena Drive, and his wife, Virginia E. Romm Davison, 22, also known a Virginia De Veas. They remained in jail in lieu of $550 bail each.

Sheriff's officers said Davison is accused of beating the child with his hands and with burning him with a cigarette lighter. His wife is charged with neglect.

They quoted Davison as saying Wesley was burned while making popcorn on the kitchen stove. The child was examined at Marin General Hospital, then placed in a Santa Venetia receiving home.

Strike Closes Shops In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A call by Hindu groups for a nationwide strike to protest the slaughter of cows shut down one-third of New Delhi's shops today.

Police were out in force to prevent the strikers from physically compelling shopkeepers to comply with the strike call and to block a recurrence of the bloody riots which shook the capital about three weeks ago.

In smaller cities such as Jaipur, capital of the Rajasthan state, the strike was reported total and Hindus defied a ban on procession to demand the protection of India's sacred cows.

Attempts Made To Bleed Mine

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — More rotary drills were brought into the southern section of Scranton last night to "bleed off" deadly carbon monoxide gas rising from an underground coal mine fire.

Over Wednesday and yesterday, 10 holes were drilled in attempts to locate the fire and to allow the fumes to escape.

Mayor James J. Walsh said holes would be drilled until the fire is pinpointed and efforts can be made to put it out. This could mean drilling 120 holes, he said.

There have been no deaths resulting from the current outbreak of fumes, authorities said.

Kentfield Youth's Case Certified

Case of John Haydon Shuey, 18, charged with burglary, was certified Wednesday to Marin Juvenile Court by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court.

Shuey, of 4 Rock Road, Kent Woodlands, is accused of burgling, W. T. Grant Co., Corte Madera Shopping Center, on Oct. 12. He also has been questioned in the burglaries of seven Kent Woodlands homes, two Inverness residences, and two Paradise Cay boats during a period from November, 1965, to Jan. 1, 1966, officers said.
